COUZENS RAKES W. J. CUMMINGS' MULTIPLE JOBS

Asserts Posts Form New Deal Whip.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 24.—[Special.]—The multiplicity of political jobs held by Walter J. Cummings, treasurer of the Democratic national committee, who draws combined salaries of more than $90,000 a year from appointments dictated by the Reconstruction Finance corporation, was assailed on the senate floor today by Senator James Couzens [Rep., Mich.].

Senator Couzens suggested that Mr. Cummings, in his capacity as chairman of the board of the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company and trustee of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul, and Pacific railroad, would have vast opportunities to demand contributions to the Democratic national committee, of which he is treasurer.

The Michigan senator also suggested that Mr. Cummings, in his capacity as co-receiver of the Chicago City railways, trustee of the Milwaukee road, and director of the American Car and Foundry company, would be in a position "to parcel out the purchases of railroad equipment."

Cites Rail Trusteeship.

"I submit," said Senator Couzens, "that it does not require much imagination to point out the position in which a competitor would be who made an offer to sell railroad equipment to the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul, and Pacific railway or the Chicago City railways."

Senator Couzens was speaking in connection with a bill demanded by the RFC which exempts preferred shares of stock in national banks owned by that organization from state taxation. The senate finally passed the bill, over much opposition, the vote being 36 to 28.

Senator Couzens took the position that the RFC, if it could afford to assist institutions paying such large salaries as those received by Mr. Cummings, could afford to pay the state taxes on its preferred shares of bank stock.

Puts Pay Above $90,000.

In response to a question from Senator Charles L. McNary of Oregon, the Republican leader, respecting Cummings' total salaries, Senator Couzens replied:

"So far as I know, I only have a record of $75,000 from the Continental Illinois bank and $15,000 as a trustee of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul & Pacific railroad. I understand he gets some small fees elsewhere, but I do not know to what extent he gets fees from the Chicago City railways. I should not be surprised if he got a substantial return from holding that position, although I cannot verify it."

Cummings' job as co-receiver of the Chicago City railways was not dictated by the RFC but still another job, that of director in the Maryland Casualty company, was mentioned by Senator Couzens, who did not know what salary it paid.

Other Job Reported.

"It is alleged, and I have been unable either to confirm or deny the statement," Senator Couzens added, "that Mr. Cummings is interested in the Debrill Manufacturing company, which makes equipment for cities to use in the transportation of urban passengers.

"It is alleged that because of the RFC having holdings of securities of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific railroad and also an interest in the Continental Illinois bank, that they are justified in having Mr. Cummings represent them in both places. Not only that, but he represents them in the Maryland Casualty company, although the salary is not a question at issue there, nor do I raise any particular issue about the salaries anywhere.

"I never have objected to reasonable salaries to men who perform service in the interest of their investors and the public, but when the activities are used in the manner this is being used I do resent it and I have resented it not only during the Democratic administration but in any administration which has been in office since I have been in the senate."

While RFC Chairman Jesse Jones sat in the press gallery, availing

BRITAIN HEARS PLEA; COMMONS HAS PEACE PLAN

Even Bids World to Join New Pact.

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 24.—A grim warning that another world war is almost at hand was sounded today by Capt. Anthony Eden, British foreign secretary, before the house of commons.

The dapper foreign secretary coupled his warning with a plea to all nations, including the United States, to join a world-wide system of collective security in an effort to end war.

"In my view," Eden said, "the chances of averting the catastrophe of a recurrence of the world war are slender unless this country is strong enough and determined enough in policy and arms to play its part to the full." Simultaneously plans were announced for greatly increasing Britain's military force.

Outlines British Scheme.

Amid a hushed assemblage Eden thereupon proceeded to outline the British scheme, which he declared his government will advocate strenuously before the league of nations.

"Our final objective must be a worldwide system of collective security which embraces all nations in an authority which is unchallenged and unchallengeable," the foreign secretary declared.

"We are far from that objective at present. We can only hope to realize it by strengthening the authority of the existing system and facilitating, by agreement based on wide understanding, the coöperation of other nations in our work.

"In a true system of collective security, the door must always be wide open for the entry of others.

Bid to Other Nations.

"If we do not succeed, we shall have to bring others along with us. We shall not be able to do that unless other nations are convinced of our sincerity and strength and unless we can gain their confidence.

"This we can do only if we pursue a consistent and constructive policy—a policy which I shall try to devise and pursue."

Eden impressed upon members of the parliament the difference between a policy of collective security and one of encirclement, such as the "ring of steel" which Germany complains is being forged about her by France.

"The British government will have no lot or part in encirclement," Eden said.

Eden Praises League.

"The league of nations in the last year has gained authority, prestige and power. There still are those who regard the league as dangerous, but there is nobody who knows aught of foreign affairs today who regards it as negligible."

Repeating the warning that a threat of war hangs over the world, the foreign secretary continued:

"Democracy is on trial and this government intends to play a part at Geneva in endeavoring to build up a new world order. I deeply regret that an increased expenditure on armament by Great Britain should become inevitable.

Hits "Unprovoked Aggression."

"I fear that unprovoked aggression can only be eliminated by a gradual strengthening of collective security until every nation is convinced that in no circumstances can aggression be made to pay."

Earlier in this, his maiden parliamentary speech as foreign secretary, Eden announced that the sanctions already imposed upon Italy by members of the league of nations are achieving their purpose of hastening the cessation of war between Italy and Ethiopia.

He failed to satisfy the opposition on the question of an oil embargo against Italy by sidestepping a definite commitment on such a boycott. Those who had been anticipating the enunciation of a stiffer sanctions policy to be adopted by the British at Geneva in the next two weeks were surprised at the mild tone of his address.

Badgered by Opposition.

Labor and Liberal opposition members urged the foreign secretary to press for oil sanctions, but he gave no indication as to what course his government will pursue. The opposition badgered the government for making flimsy excuses out of the changed American policy toward the proposed oil ban.

TUGWELL IS GRANTED NEW LEAVE TO WORK WITH BRAIN TRUSTERS

New York, Feb. 24.—(AP)—Columbia university today said that Rexford G. Tugwell, undersecretary of agriculture, had been granted an extension to June 30, 1937, of his leave from a professorship.

Tugwell's further absence from the campus was approved, the university said, on his own application and at the request of President Roosevelt.

Center of some of the criticism launched at the administration for its advisory recourse to college and university faculty members, Tugwell had obtained one leave of absence, then had it extended to June 30, 1936. A delay in his reply to the university's recent query as to his plans for the next year had caused conjecture that he might be planning to resume teaching.

Gen. Hagood Removed for WPA Attack

Washington, D. C., Feb. 24.—[Special.]—The New Deal today cracked down on Maj. Gen. Johnson Hagood for his sharp criticism of easy money spending policies. At the direction of President Roosevelt the general was removed from his command of the 8th corps army area at San Antonio, Tex., and sent home.

Hagood had characterized Works Progress administration funds as "stage money," because "you can pass it around but you cannot get anything out of it in the end," in testifying before a house subcommittee on military appropriations last December. The testimony was disclosed when the hearings were published Feb. 10.

"Infamous Outrage," Says Blanton.

The ouster of Hagood, who was chief of staf of the service of supply during the world war, brought a thundering storm of indignation in congress among Democrats as well as Republicans and an investigation of the summary action was indicated.

Representative Thomas L. Blanton [Dem., Tex.] asserted that the removal was "an infamous, dirty, damnable and inexcusable outrage."

He said if the general had been relieved of his post because of his "stage money" testimony that Secretary of War Dern and Chief of Staf Malin Craig ought to be "impeached or removed from office." Craig had signed the order which had been sanctioned by Dern and directed by the President.

"Disciplined for Truth."

"The story about the general should be headed 'disciplined because he told the truth,'" asserted Blanton. "If any officers can't come before the committee and say what they think we might as well quit and let the war department write its own appropriations."

Blanton, who is a member of the subcommittee which heard the testimony, predicted that the continuance of such actions would cost the New Deal a million votes next November.

Chairman John J. McSwain [Dem., S. C.] of the house military affairs committee said Hagood was "a fine soldier and an able man."

"It seems some of the best men in the army sometimes get crossed up with the powers that be," said McSwain. "Personally I have the utmost confidence in Hagood."

Asserting that its statement was

ADMITS BRIBERY OF APPRAISERS TO SAVE MILLION IN CUSTOMS

New York, Feb. 24.—[Special.]—Isidore Goldberg, millinery importer, who did business as I. Goldberg, Inc., grossing as much as $3,000,000 a year, today admitted on the witness stand that he had paid bribes to examiners at the United States appraisers' stores to have them undervalue merchandise he was receiving.

As a result, according to Thomas A. Manning and Harry F. Morton, federal prosecutors, the government was defrauded of $1,000,000 since 1935.

Goldberg offered his testimony as a government witness at the trial of Arthur G. Homeyer, one of the examiners, after he had pleaded guilty to an indictment naming them both as smugglers.

Frank J. Mullen, the other examiner, pleaded guilty of having accepted bribes. He and Homeyer, according to the prosecution, received bribes totaling more than $300,000.

REVEAL 4TH CASE OF SABOTAGE ON BRITISH WARSHIP

LONDON, Feb. 25.—[Tuesday.]—(AP)—The fourth case of suspected sabotage aboard British fighting vessels this winter was reported early today by the admiralty.

The destroyer Velox, now being refitted at the Chatham dockyard, has been damaged, the admiralty said. It was understood that the mine-releasing apparatus of the ship was put out of gear. Admitting an investigation was under way, the admiralty said: "It would not be in the public interest to make any statement."

Sabotage was reported discovered aboard the cruiser Cumberland, also stationed at Chatham, more than a week ago. Earlier, damage had been done to the battleship Royal Oak and the submarine Oberon while they were at the Devonport dockyard.

SENDS U. S. CUTTER TO RESCUE 30 TRAPPED IN ICE

Algoma, Wis., Feb. 24.—[Special.]—More than thirty fishermen in ten small boats were caught today in ice floes off this North Wisconsin port.

An appeal was wired to Capt. Leroy Reinburg, head of the United States coast guard at Chicago.

Capt. Reinburg, according to word here, ordered the cutter Perry from Two Rivers, about fifty miles south, to the rescue of the fishermen. A strong wind threatened to drive the ice and the captive boats farther out into Lake Michigan.

Storm Capitol in New Jersey; Demand Relief

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 24.—[Special.]—More than 2,000 men and women on relief stormed the state house here tonight while their leader, granted the privilege of addressing the legislature, warned the members of "trouble" unless they act to provide relief funds after March 1.

The demonstrators were members of a newly formed organization, the Workers' Alliance of New Jersey. They were led by Ray Cook, 44 year old former actor and member of the New Jersey Socialist party.

The gathering here—from all parts of the state of those who are faced with a discontinuance of relief after the first of March because of a lack of state funds—followed the admission tonight by a leader of the "economy bloc" in the legislature that at least one-half of the 36 million dollars needed would have to be obtained from other sources than economies and fund diversions proposed by the budget advisory committee.

Assail Hoffman and Hague.

On the heels of this admission and following a bitter debate in which Gov. Hoffman and Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City were denounced for "playing politics" with relief, the assembly defeated the Young bill, designed to make highway funds available for relief.

Shortly after the demonstrators arrived a large cordon of state troopers and Trenton police was thrown around the state house. No attempt was made, however, to break up the meeting. At his request Cook was allowed to speak before the assembly. In a dramatic talk the former actor, who was said to have been once a member of "White Rats," actors' union, warned the representatives of the necessity for action.

Demands They Draft Plan.

"It is time for you to 'snap out of it' and stop acting like burocrats," he said. "We are not merely asking, we are demanding that you legislators stop fooling around and find a plan to finance relief.

"You think you are going to put us on food orders. But let me tell you that just as soon as you do you are going to have trouble on your hands.

"We are being put in the class with slaves. We are told what we can buy; we can only buy 5 cent cans of beans, third and fourth quality. As American citizens we have a right to spend our money when and where we please."

Join Attack on Governor.

Previously an attack upon Gov. Hoffman for his activities in the Hauptmann case had developed on the floor of the house when Republican members accused the governor of devoting himself to a "will o' the wisp" and neglecting the relief problem.

After Assemblyman Basil Bruno, Republican of Monmouth county, had declared that Gov. Hoffman and Mayor Hague of Jersey City "could solve the relief problem" in 24 hours, Assemblyman Charles R. Geddes, Republican of Union county, urged that the governor "pay more attention to state affairs."

Defended by Blind Member.

"All we hear is concerted talk about an illegally entered alien in this country, when the poor and needy require our united action," Mr. Geddes asserted.

The defense of the governor was undertaken by Thomas Muir, blind Republican assemblyman from Union county. The cheering and booing in the gallery started after he had described the governor as one of the finest men ever to occupy the executive chair in the state.

CITY OPENS ITS FIGHT FOR ONE TIME STANDARD

Witnesses Testify in I. C. C. Hearing.

BY LLOYD WENDT.

Clyde B. Aitchison, member of the interstate commerce commission, yesterday opened a hearing on the city's petition that the railroads entering Chicago be permitted to operate on eastern standard time after all the rest of the city goes on eastern time next Sunday.

The hearing was held in the Cameo room of the Morrison hotel. It will continue today and possibly tomorrow.

Yesterday's witnesses—experts and statisticians in various fields—all supported the contention of the city that confusion and an inconvenient dual time system will be produced if the railroads are not allowed to conform to the new Chicago time. Other witnesses for the city will be heard this morning, after which the forces opposing the time change will offer their evidence.

Commission to Study Case.

An immediate decision on the city's petition is not expected, since the full membership of the interstate commerce commission must study the evidence heard by Commissioner Aitchison.

As the proceedings opened yesterday Mr. Aitchison told all participants that they would be limited to the issue of whether the railroads shall be permitted to adopt eastern time. The jurisdiction of the commission, he pointed out, extends only to common carriers and federal business. The action of the city in adopting eastern time for its own use is not before the commission, he said.

This point nevertheless crept into the proceedings several times during the day. Mr. Aitchison indicated, however, that the commission will not rule on that part of the testimony.

Hodes Opens for City.

Corporation Counsel Barnet Hodes began the case for the city by outlining the history of time changes generally and the experiences of Chicago with summer daylight time. He testified as a sworn witness—a procedure required under the rules of the commission.

Mr. Hodes pointed out that the action of the city council in adopting the eastern time ordinance was taken after public hearings had demonstrated a demand for the change. He declared that if railroads are not permitted to make the change also, great inconvenience and confusion will result in the Chicago area.

The corporation counsel recited instances when the interstate commerce commission had changed railroad time for Detroit, Cleveland, Cincinnati and other cities. He urged that the same step should be taken for the benefit of Chicago.

Cites Action of Suburbs.

Mr. Hodes then introduced as evidence the ordinances of 23 suburbs which have adopted eastern standard time effective next Sunday. He also introduced a long list of quotations from civic leaders, who have indorsed the measure as one producing health, business, and trafic safety benefits for the city.

Cross-examination of Mr. Hodes was undertaken by Thomas L. Marshall, attorney for the Chicago Daily News, an afternoon newspaper.

Mr. Marshall challenged Mr. Hodes' statement that the eastern time ordinance was approved because of popular demand. In reply the corporation counsel read the statements of persons who had urged the measure.

"Did you attend the public hearings on the time question?" Marshall asked.

"Part of them," Hodes answered.

"Would you be willing to let any radio station of your own selection conduct a poll on the time question?" Marshall asked.

Commissioner Aitchison ruled that Hodes need not answer.

Ordinance Already Passed.

MARSHALL—You say it will create confusion if we have two times after March 1. Wouldn't return to central time avoid such confusion?

HODES—The council has already passed the ordinance making eastern time effective March 1. That has been done.

MARSHALL—But couldn't we end confusion by repealing the ordinance?

HODES—Possibly. I can't predict what the council action on such a proposal would be.

MARSHALL—Mr. Hodes, was there a referendum provision attached to the ordinance?

COMMISSIONER AITCHISON — Overruled. Mr. Hodes did not mention a referendum in his opening statement.

Mr. Hodes was then questioned further on the history of time changes. When he left the stand two persons booed him. Commissioner Aitchison warned that he would clear the room if such a disturbance occurred again.

Testimony of Geographer.

Another witness for the city was Dr. William H. Haas, professor of geography and geology at Northwestern university.

By maps and charts Prof. Haas demonstrated that the time change sought for the railroads is no more drastic in effect and no less logical than the change from mountain to central time approved by the commission for North Dakota.

Furthermore, he declared, the change would be even more beneficial, since Chicago is south of North Dakota, and consequently has more daylight in the winter months, in addition to the difference in sun time gained from Chicago's more easterly position.

"In other words," Prof. Haas said, "even if Chicago and Devils Lake, N. D., were on the same meridian, Chicago has more sun because it is further south. Thus Chicago has more daylight time to save in the winter, and can do it with less inconvenience in the morning hours than can North Dakota."

He Advocates Time Unity.

The North Dakota change was made to bring that state into time unity with the rest of the agricultural area, Prof. Haas declared. By the same means, he said, Chicago should be brought into time unity with the industrial area of which it is a part.

"A section of the United States bounded by Milwaukee, St. Louis, New York, and Boston contains one-tenth of the area of the United States, but has one-half of the population of the United States," Prof. Haas said. "In this area seven-tenths of the manufactured products of the nation are produced. It contains the seven leading manufacturing states of the Union.

"Certainly there should be complete homogeneity here, as there should be in North Dakota. If the commission will do here what it has done in North Dakota it will secure this unity needed for commerce."

Gives Statistics on Safety.

The next witness was Oscar Gunderson, safety engineer for the Chicago Motor club. Mr. Gunderson offered statistics to show that eastern time would reduce motor accidents in Chicago and save twenty lives a year. Attorney Marshall attempted to show at this point that the ratio of fatalities to accidents is highest in the morning.

"There are fewer fatalities and fewer accidents both in morning hours," Mr. Gunderson said.

Dr. David L. Jones, city physician, testified that he had handled 66,000 industrial accident cases as a specialist in that field and additional thousands of cases as city physician. He declared that 65 per cent of industrial accidents occur in the afternoon in winter, and that eastern time would reduce this figure.

Michigan Offers Evidence.

E. A. Bilitzke, assistant attorney general of Michigan, appearing for that state, declared that he wished to present evidence supporting the time change. He was given permission to do so today. Michigan has adopted eastern time as a state, but the commission in 1931 denied its petition to extend the time to the railroads.

"This denial was made because western Michigan opposed eastern time and Chicago was on central time," Mr. Bilitzke said. "Now the situation is changed and we desire to offer additional evidence."

Michigan is particularly interested in the matter, Mr. Bilitzke pointed out later, since Corporation Counsel Hodes filed Chicago's petition with the interstate commerce commission as a reopening of the Michigan case of 1931.

Ald. Cronson Urges Change.

The next witness heard was Ald. B. A. Cronson [4th], who introduced the eastern time ordinance which was passed by the city council. Ald. Cronson described the merits of the ordinance and declared that putting the railroads on eastern time with Chicago would make for the greater convenience of commerce.

At the conclusion of the day's session Commissioner Aitchison asked Mr. Hodes to make a recommendation as to how far west of Chicago the eastern time zone for railroads should extend. Mr. Hodes said he would give a reply when the hearing is resumed today.

Mr. Hodes was aided in the presentation of evidence by Fred V. Maguire and Otto Weiner, assistant corporation counsels. Assistant Attorney General Bilitzke of Michigan was supported by C. E. Elerick, representing the chamber of commerce of Grand Rapids, Mich., and John C. Graham, representing the city of Jackson, Mich.

Opponents of Time Change.

Those opposing the time change, besides Attorney Marshall, were the Prairie Farmer and radio station WLS; the state of Wisconsin, represented by Philip H. Porter, A. R. McDonald, Max Raskin, and Charles L. Hill; Harry Lambert, city attorney of Harvey; Olaf Olson of the Norwood Park Crusaders; Louis Taylor of the Indiana farm bureau; W. W. McKirchey, E. J. Sullivan, and Richard Abram, representing the Illinois Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen; John F. Krause of the Archer-Crawford Taxpayers' association; Charles J. Lohman and Frank J. Miller of the postoffice employés, and H. R. Park of the Chicago Live Stock exchange.

Among these opponents of eastern time the live stock exchange was the only Chicago business group represented.

Parochial Schools Adopt Change.

The Rev. D. F. Cunningham, superintendent of the Catholic board of education, announced yesterday that all parochial schools of the city will operate on eastern standard time beginning next Monday in conformity with the city ordinance. The chancery office of the archdiocese, 719 North Wabash avenue, stated that pastors of many Catholic churches of the city announced that, beginning next Sunday, all services will be called under the new time, adding that time for services, except in certain instances, is set by each parish.

The time change was announced in practically all Christian Science churches for next Sunday. Harold Molter of the Christian Science board of publication, 220 South Michigan avenue, said that each congregation sets its own service time schedule.

BLUE ISLAND COUNCIL VOTES 11-3 FOR NEW TIME; 24TH SUBURB

Blue Island's city council voted last night to go on eastern standard time when Chicago does next Sunday. An ordinance to that effect, introduced by Ald. George Fiedler, was passed by a vote of 11 to 3. Blue Island thus became the 24th suburb to follow Chicago in the time change.

The Waukegan council, after considerable debate, voted 8 to 7 in favor of an ordinance placing that city on daylight saving time from March 22 until the last Sunday in October. This measure was in the nature of a compromise between those who wished to follow Chicago and others who were in favor of retaining central standard time until late April.

North Chicago passed an ordinance similar to Waukegan's. Action on the matter in Highland Park was deferred.

SENTENCE FOUR GAY YOUTHS TO ROBBERY TERMS

Four young men who confessed they turned to holdup to obtain funds to entertain their girl friends were sentenced yesterday by Chief Justice Denis J. Normoyle in Criminal court to serve from one year to life in the penitentiary on charges of robbery with a gun.

They are Richard Hightower, 18 years old, who came from Texas several months ago and organized the band; John Rozak, 20, John Guich, 19, and Charles Puleo, 18, driver for the group. According to police, the four admitted eighteen robberies in two weeks.

The youths were arrested six weeks ago in a hideout at 2507 South Michigan avenue on information given by one of their discarded girl friends. Police said the four specialized in robbing motorists who stopped for traffic signals.

699 Days in Iron Lung; Dies of Gastric Ailment

Oakland, Cal., Feb. 24.—(AP)—Raymond Rambo, 19, infantile paralysis victim who lived 699 days under an "iron lung" respirator, died tonight from a digestive disorder. Hospital authorities said they knew of no one else who had lived so long through use of a respirator.

WHITED ACCUSED OF FALSIFYING IN LINDY CASE

Gov. Hoffman Gives New Reasons for Doubt.

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 24.—[Special.]—Millard Whited, the Sourland mountain lumberman who said he twice saw Bruno Richard Hauptmann near the Lindbergh home before Charles A. Lindbergh Jr. was kidnaped, was accused of lying today by Gov. Harold G. Hoffman.

The statement in effect accused Whited of perjury and virtually accused the state police of having bought his testimony in the Lindbergh kidnaping trial with expense money and promises.

Prosecutor Anthony M. Hauck Jr. of Hunterdon county replied to this new attack on the Hauptmann prosecution by accusing the governor of unfairness.

The Governor's Statement.

"In view of the fact that there seems to be a studied effort to suppress from the public certain important information concerning the Hauptmann case and my interest in it from the standpoint of seeing that final and complete justice is done in the matter, I wish to make this further statement in connection with Millard Whited," Gov. Hoffman said.

"I did not question this man whose identification of Hauptmann was brought back from the Bronx to stand trial in New Jersey because I thought he was not telling the truth, but because the printed and written record shows that he was lying."

"On April 26, 1932, he gave to the state police a signed statement in which he said that he had never seen any cars or suspicious persons in the woods nor in the vicinity of the Lindbergh home.

Sees Photos, Changes Story.

"His next signed statement is dated Oct. 6, 1934, when, after having been repeatedly shown photographs of Hauptmann by Corporal Wolf of the state police, and having been promised payment and a part of the reward, he went to the Bronx county jail and identified Hauptmann as a man he had seen twice in the vicinity of the Lindbergh home prior to March 1, 1932."

Gov. Hoffman said he has both signed statements in his possession.

"The 'alibi boys' may try to laugh this off, but if these records and the wide discrepancy in the testimony given by Whited at the Flemington trial are not significant, then I do not know what is important in this case," the governor added.

Wilentz to Arrive Today.

The governor's attack upon Whited's credibility resulted in the departure of Attorney General David T. Wilentz from Miami. He is due here tomorrow and will, it is expected, combat Hoffman's efforts to tear down his case against Hauptmann.

Lloyd Fisher, the condemned man's lawyer, accompanied by Mrs. Hauptmann, paid a visit to Hauptmann in the death house today. On emerging, he declared:

"There is sufficient evidence to warant perjury proceedings against Whited. Whited told the governor of the promise of a part of the reward and it is in the stenographic record which we may make public in a few days. Wilentz says he does not believe that Whited told the governor that, but it is in the record.

"The failure of the state authorities to act is a clear violation of New Jersey criminal statutes. Wilentz said, 'Show us anything wrong and we will act.' Why don't they act?"

ONTARIO BANISHES PICTURE OF HEROINE FAKED OVER PREMIER'S

Frank Worrall, Toronto art expert, by X-ray examination, discovered the picture of Sir George on the canvas that was bought by the Ontario cabinet more than 30 years ago. He said restoration of Sir George's picture might be possible.

Sir George, it is related, posed for a portrait by Mildred Peel, who later married him, but the cabinet refused to pay the bill. It was suggested that the cabinet might be willing to pay if a historical subject were painted. So another artist over the portrait of Sir George painted Laura Secord, a farmerette who chased a cow 20 miles to warn the British of an impending American attack in the war of 1812. Worrall said the portrait which the cabinet refused to buy, was a good work of art, but that the second painting was "amateurish."

N. Y. TOWN HALL CHIEF SEES FOUR HOUR WORK DAY

A prediction that the working day in America would be cut to four hours before the end of this century was made last night by Dr. Arthur E. Bestor of New York, who spoke at the opening session of the Town Hall of Chicago in the Lake Shore Athletic club, 850 Lake Shore drive. Dr. Bestor is president of Chautauqua institution and of the Town Hall of New York.

Dr. Bestor's speech inaugurated a series of open forums for the discussion of business, social and political problems confronting the American people which will be held under the sponsorship of the Town Hall. Dr. John H. Wigmore, dean emeritus of the Northwestern university law school, acted as moderator at last night's meeting.

AWARDED $2,500 FOR $50,000 LOSS IN SAFETY VAULT

A jury in Municipal Judge Harold O'Connell's court returned a verdict yesterday against William L. O'Connell, receiver of the old Unity Trust and Savings bank, 3909 North avenue, awarding $2,500 to Mrs. Anna Krutzer, 1901 North Crawford avenue. The award was for Mrs. Krutzer's loss when robbers raided safety deposit vaults in the bank on Dec. 13, 1933, and took between $50,000 and $100,000. Mrs. Krutzer had rented a deposit box from O'Connell as receiver. She had $25,000 in bonds in her vault, but the robbers discarded them, taking only the money.

Hunt Pair Who Robbed Son and Wife of City Official

Albany Park police were searching yesterday for two armed robbers who early in the day held up Mrs. Esther Costello, 45 years old, wife of John F. Costello, superintendent of the north branch of the city water pipe extension bureau, and their son, Milton, 19 years old, and obtained $16 and jewelry valued at $590. The robbery occurred as Mrs. Costello and her son drove up in front of their home at 4448 North Richmond street in the family automobile. One of the robbers attempted to drag Mrs. Costello into the rear of the car. In the struggle her glasses were broken and one of the bandits struck the son when he tried to protect his mother.

PLAN TO BUY NEW STREET CARS IS PUT UP TO COURT

City Opposes Proposal of Surface Lines.

The receivers for the Chicago Surface Lines yesterday asked authority from Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson to purchase 83 modern street cars. At the same time William H. Sexton, attorney for the local transportation committee of the city council, petitioned the court for time to file an objection to the surface lines' proposal.

Judge Wilkerson took the two petitions under advisement. He has jurisdiction over the lines because they are in federal receivership.

Surface Lines Fight Delay.

James M. Sheean, counsel for the receivers, opposed a continuance of the case, declaring that money for purchasing the new cars is available in the surface lines' depreciation and renewal fund. He said that the Chicago Motor Coach company was permitted to contract for 100 new buses without objection from the city and that there is no legitimate ground for delaying the purchase of new cars.

Attorney Sexton told Judge Wilkerson that although the city council has not taken a formal stand on the proposal, Mayor Kelly has voiced opposition to a large capital outlay while a new traction ordinance is pending.

83 New Cars for 156 Old.

Sexton said the surface lines proposed to substitute the 83 new cars for 156 old cars on the property account and maintained that this was an improper use of the renewal fund. Judge Wilkerson remarked that inasmuch as the new cars are larger than the old ones, he could find nothing wrong with that procedure as it amounted to the replacement of "two short cars with one long car."

Evan J. McIlraith, engineer for the surface lines, declared at a luncheon meeting of the City club in the Hotel Sherman yesterday that if the proposal to buy new cars is approved immediately by the federal court, deliveries should begin late in June. It is proposed to use the new cars to re-equip the Madison street line.

Wife Sues for Divorce from a WPA Draftsman

Mrs. Bertha Wendorf, 24 years old, 4532 North Clifton avenue, filed suit for divorce in the Circuit court yesterday against George F. Wendorf, a draftsman for the federal Works Progress administration.

A. F. L. STAYS ACTION ON OFFER OF FUNDS FOR STEEL CAMPAIGN

Washington, D. C., Feb. 24.—(AP)—Contending there were "strings attached" to the proposal, the American Federation of Labor's high command decided today to disregard for the present an offer of $500,000 by the industrial union faction to help finance a campaign to organize steel workers.

William Green, A. F. of L. president, said he would refer the cash offer from eight unions represented on the committee for industrial organization to the May meeting of the executive council.

In offering the $500,000 the industrial unionists specified "some of the main conditions which we consider necessary to the launching of a campaign." Among them was the proposal that "organization must be along industrial lines."

JUSTICE'S WIFE AND A PARROT DELAY A LINER

The parrot disappeared. Mrs. Lazansky said she threw it out a port-hole.

She received the bird, a handsome and talkative green, red, and yellow specimen, as a gift in Mexico. At quarantine Dr. Gregory Van Beek, health officer, ordered the bird detained for two weeks as a protection against psittacosis, or parrot fever. Mrs. Lazansky demurred.

She was seen carrying the bird in a cage from the purser's office to her cabin. Then she returned with the cage, but no bird, and said she had put Polly out.

Justice Lazansky joined ship's officers and customs men in searching for the bird, as Mrs. Lazansky refused to amplify the report.

There were lots of cakes of ice floating in the bay this morning.

Sues Doctors for $10,000 in Girl's Abortion Death

Suit for $10,000 damages in the abortion death last Feb. 26 of Miss Marie Dwyer, 26 years old, a laboratory technician, was filed yesterday in Circuit court against Dr. Frank R. Braune, 49 years old, 2605 Coyle avenue, and Dr. Maurice Dale, 35 years old, 1102 Argyle street, by Mrs. Mary Potter, 3003 Harrison street, mother of Miss Dwyer. Both physicians were convicted of manslaughter by abortion in the Criminal court last June 12. They appealed and are at liberty in $25,000 bail.

MINNEAPOLIS CHICAGO ST. PAUL

AVALANCHE RIPS COLORADO MINE, KILLING THREE

Flood Menace in the Ohio Valley Passing.

Ouray, Colo., Feb. 24.—(AP)—A three mile wide snow avalanche killed a woman and two men today and imprisoned forty miners in the famous old Camp Bird gold mine for several hours before they could be released.

The snow pack roared down before noon from the Devil's slide of Chicago cliff upon workings of the properties eight miles from here—the source of the bonanza fortune of the late Thomas Walsh, father of Evalyn Walsh McLean of Washington, D. C.

Find Woman's Body.

The body of Mrs. Rose Israel, camp cook, was dug from the snow near where she was thrown from the front porch of the cook shack. The bodies of Cappy Wood, mill foreman of Denver, and Ralph Klinger, blacksmith, still were buried beneath the slide.

The avalanche piled a barricade of snow, rock, ice and débris at the mine entrance. Crews worked throughout the afternoon to bore through the packed slide.

They forced an entrance tonight. None of the entombed miners was reported hurt, but two other members of the camp suffered injuries. Richard Dunn, superintendent, was buried under snow for about three hours. His condition was reported serious.

Starts Above Mine.

The slide started half a mile above the camp and tore down the mountainside for almost a mile and a half.

In the early days when the mine was producing at the rate of more than $2,000,000 annually, approximately 400 men were employed at the Camp Bird property.

Walsh took out $2,500,000 from the property and then sold it in 1905 to an English syndicate for $5,100,000. The syndicate was reported to have taken out millions of dollars' worth of ore.

Flood Menace Past.

Evansville, Ind., Feb. 24.—(AP)—Ice gorges along the Ohio river from Newburg, Ind., to dam 48, just below Henderson, Ky., broke today, and the menace of a serious flood was past, at least temporarily.

Rivermen believed the huge floes would go downstream, leaving untouched several hundred homes in bottom lands evacuated during the week-end when it was feared the rising stream might spread destruction.

The river here had reached a stage of 41 feet, 8 feet above flood level, when the ice gorges broke. The stream immediately began to fall.

Fear that George Peet, government light tender, and his wife might have been swept away in the flood were dispelled when the government relief boat U. S. Kankakee received word that the houseboat in which they made their home was moored safely in Green river.

Many of the 2,500 families that evacuated their lowland homes returned this afternoon when danger seemed averted.

California Hit Hard.

San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 24.—(AP)—Floods in California's central valleys spread tonight over an area estimated by aviators at 100 miles long and from one-half to seven miles wide.

The Stanislaus river smashed a 5-foot break in its north-bank levee near Ripon to add to the damage already estimated unofficially around $1,000,000.

The principal inundated area extended north and south of Sacramento.

The fifteenth day of rain in San Francisco bettered the record of 14 consecutive days which occurred Jan. 25-Feb. 7, 1884, and brought the seasonal precipitation to 21.47 inches, as compared with normal of 15.86 inches.

Poulas was sentenced to 1 to 10 years in Joliet penitentiary for embezzlement in November, 1933, and was paroled a year later.

U. S. HEIRESS TO 20 MILLIONS BEARS 7½ POUND BOY

Barbara and Child in London Home.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 24.—"A nice, normal, healthy boy" who tipped the scales at 7½ pounds and who is the heir to his mother's $20,000,000 Woolworth fortune, was born at 10:30 o'clock this morning to the former Barbara Hutton, wife of Count Court Haugwitz-Reventlow of Denmark.

The mother, who divorced the late Prince Alexis Mdivani in Reno a day before she married the count last May 14, is doing "very well," according to attending physicians. Dr. Cedric Sydney Lane-Roberts, gynecological surgeon of the Royal Northern hospital who was one of the three doctors at the birth, said the countess was in excellent spirits.

Delay Giving Name.

The child, who gained the title of count mereby by being born, came into the world in a house of the regency period facing on Hyde Park. His father took the house some months ago.

A husky butler, aided by three footmen, examine the credentials of any one visiting the home. The baby is in a guarded, air conditioned room.

The youngster will not be named for two weeks, since his proud father considers "it is bad luck even to think of naming a child until the mother is well again."

Count Haugwitz-Reventlow took occasion to declare the child will most certanly be taken to America probably within a month or six weeks. British newspapers had said the new heir would be kept in Europe due to fear of American gangsters. Count Haugwitz-Reventlow labeled this "tommyrot."

Huttons Present.

The countess' father, Franklyn L. Hutton, a New York stock broker, her step-mother, and her cousin, Jimmy Donahue, New York night life figure, were in the Haugwitz-Reventlow house at the time of the birth. Barbara's mother, the former Edna Woolworth, one of the three daughters of the late F. W. Woolworth, founder of the chain of 5-and-10-cent stores, died when Barbara was 5 years old. Barbara is now 23.

Count Haugwitz-Reventlow is especially pleased to be a father before his elder brother, Henry. This makes the new count the "heir presumptive" to the Danish castles and lands of the family. The Haugwitz-Reventlows are the only family of their rank in Denmark and, by a royal decree of 1850, may wear a prince's crown.

PLIGHT OF 500,000 CHILDREN TOLD AS FUND DRIVE OPENS

The plight of 500,000 neglected children in the United States was portrayed yesterday by leaders of the Child Welfare League of America in opening a campaign to raise Chicago's $10,000 share of the league's $100,000 national fund. The league is the clearing house of 160 large child welfare agencies and serves as a coordinator in bringing private agency standards to public agencies.

Representatives of 20 Chicago organizations met at the Palmer house to launch the campaign, which is under the temporary chairmanship of Carroll H. Sudler. While 600,000 American children are being cared for in institutions an' through mothers' pensions, there are 500,000 children who have been all but forgotten in mass relief activities during the depression, said Mr. Sudler.

"At the end of 1933 there were 16,000 fewer children being cared for than in 1930—this in the midst of tremendous need," declared Clinton W. Areson of New York, assistant director of the league.

Other speakers were Jacob Kepecs, president of the national league and superintendent of the Jewish Home Finding society, Miss Ethel Verry, executive secretary of the Chicago Orphan asylum, and J. H. Hutchinson of the league office in Chicago.

PSEUDO PRIEST NOW DENIES HIS PART IN ROBBERY

Donald Robert Brower, 29 years old, hairdresser who garbed himself as a priest to lead a $2,200 robbery raid on the Oak Lawn Trust and Savings bank on Feb. 8, changed his plea of guilty to one of not guilty when he appeared yesterday before Judge Joseph Burke in Criminal court. Brower entered a plea of guilty at a previous hearing and it had been expected that he would appear as a state's witness against his two companions in the robbery—James Larsen, 35 years old, and William Adams, 32 years old, former convicts. In the hearing yesterday Attorney Cameron Latter appeared as counsel for Brower. Trial of the three was set by Judge Burke for March 9.

FLOOD MENACE GROWS IN RAPID 'SPRING' THAW

Fog and Wet Ice Hamper Suburban Trafic.

Rising streams in Chicagoland brought new flood threats yesterday as the temperature mounted unusually high in a "spring" thaw. A heavy rain would quickly raise rivers above the flood stage, according to meteorologists, but last night Forecaster C. A. Donnel expected today and tomorrow to be only cloudy, not rainy, in this region.

A shift in the wind to the northwest is forecast to lower the temperature today and tomorrow—below freezing at night—retarding the rapidity of the thaw.

Last night warm moist southern winds met colder air near the surface and created a dense ground fog which paralyzed trafic west and north of the city.

Autos Creep Along or Halt.

It spread throughout the western suburbs, Du Page county, and north into Lake county, but avoided Evanston and near northern suburbs. Visibility was almost zero, cutting automobile speeds to ten miles an hour. Motorists sounded their horns continuously, and along Waukegan road transport trucks remained at filling stations to avoid accidents.

Despite the melting snow, Chicago sewers are not yet overtaxed, according to city officials, but water seepage brought complaints that about 1,500 basements were flooded. George E. McGrath, superintendent of the department of sewers, said a heavy rain would be serious.

Oscar E. Hewitt, commissioner of public works, sent 12,000 Works Progress administration laborers into outlying districts to hack open gutters and hasten the flow of surface drainage. Loop streets were cleared last week.

Minor Floods Near City.

Forty basements were flooded in Western Springs when Flag creek burst over its banks last night, poured water on the prairies already filled with melted snow, and backed up many sewers.

All state highways were passable, but dangerous because fog and ice concealed by water. Park avenue at 175th street in East Hazelcrest was flooded two feet deep.

The Des Plaines river is rising about 2 or 3 inches an hour. It flooded a low stretch of land at Madison street in Maywood, driving 35 squatters from shacks built in a "jungle." Farmers in Du Page county and in Lyons township of Cook county feared Salt creek would cause much damage.

Ice on Lake Well Broken Up.

Last week Lake Michigan was frozen solid from shore to shore, according to Capt. Thomas J. Ward, supervisor of Chicago's water intake cribs, and the tugboat Josephine was obliged to battle for hours to deliver provisions and to relieve the crib crews.

Yesterday, however, the tug made its usual Monday trip through chunks of ice, even getting close to Two Mile crib. Last week the ice halted the Josephine half a mile from Two Mile crib.

Warm Breezes Sweep Country.

Winds from the Pacific ocean which swept across southern California and the southwest brought summer temperatures to most of the country. It was 80 at Dodge City, Kas., 76 at Wichita, 70 at St. Louis, 76 at Brownsville, Tex., 63 at Springfield, Ill., and 59 at Terre Haute, Ind.

The temperature in Chicago rose from 46 at midnight to 56 in midafternoon—not a record, but 21 degrees above the normal maximum and the warmest since Nov. 10. Last midnight the unofficial reading was 52 degrees.

DANIELS AIDS MEXICO IN WAR ON RELIGION, K. OF C. CHIEF SAYS

New Haven, Conn., Feb. 24.—(AP)—Martin H. Carmody of Grand Rapids, Mich., supreme knight of the Knights of Columbus, accused Josephus Daniels, United States ambassador to Mexico, tonight of working "hand in glove" with the Mexican government in attempts to destroy religion.

Carmody addressed a banquet at celebrating the 54th aniversary of the San Salvador council of this city, mother council of the order.

"The representative of this government in Mexico," Carmody said, "had worked hand in glove with Gen. Calles, dictator of Mexico, and his aids. . . ."

"He has left the Mexican régime the thought that it has the moral support of the United States, and without that support it wouldn't last thirty days," the speaker said.

GIRL, 7, IS TAKEN BY FORCE FROM GRANDPARENTS

A girl, 7 years old, was taken from her grandparents by force yesterday on the authority of a writ of habeas corpus obtained by the father from Judge Michael Feinberg of the Circuit court.

A deputy sherif and an attorney accompanied the father, Herbert McLean Purdy, 35 years old, real estate broker of Westchester, N. Y., to take his daughter, Joan, from the home of her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Gibbons Miller, 1236 North Dearborn street.

The grandparents resisted the invasion and at one time in the proceedings Deputy Sherif Edward Buckley was forced to draw his revolver against a neighbor who thought the child was being kidnaped.

In obtaining the writ, Attorney John O. Wagner told Judge Feinberg that Purdy and his wife, Frances, left their daughter with the Millers after a visit three and a half years ago. The grandparents became attached to the child, said Wagner, and refused to send her home, despite Purdy's offer to make a home for the entire family in the east.

"Buckley and I went to the Miller home," said Wagner, after the writ was served, "but a colored caretaker refused to let us in. Finally a delivery boy appeared, and when the door was opened to him Buckley shoved his foot against it and we went inside.

"There was no one on the first floor. But at the top of the stairs on the second floor we met Mrs. Miller who tried to bar us. Miller ran to a room at the rear where the child was playing and told us we couldn't come in there.

Deputy Draws Guns.

"Then the Millers' son came home and he said we couldn't have the child. At this point a neighbor burst in, and ordered us out of the house. It appeared he thought we were kidnapers. But Buckley drew his gun and showed his star and we finally brought the child to the sherif's office."

Joan was placed at the home of Mrs. Mary Deverman, 7838 Oglesby avenue, a deputy sherif, who has two children of her own. The little girl will be brought to court at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning for a hearing.

"My son-in-law has done nothing for the child since he left her with us 5½ years ago," declared Miller. "He has never provided for her and has never made any formal request that we send her to him."

Prudy said he expected his wife to join him here today.

TWO DISCHARGED PRISON GUARDS BLAME POLITICS

Third Tells Commission Why He Quit.

Two guards who were discharged from Stateville penitentiary last year and a third one who resigned appeared yesterday before the governor's investigating commission at the prison and charged that politics was responsible for their leaving.

The former guards are Arthur Weiss, John J. Plarske and Albert Stelling, all of Joliet. They were invited to testify before the commission after a report of their complaints had reached the members.

Weiss, a guard at Stateville and in the old prison at Joliet for 15 years, was discharged last July. He cited his record of placing eight men in the electric chair. He told also of shooting and killing three convicts when they attempted to escape from Joliet on Feb. 22, 1931.

A legislative committee which investigated the killing at the time criticized prison officials for ambushing the man. The officials were alleged to have known of the escape attempt in advance and to have ordered the men shot down instead of forestalling their flight.

Frisked Legislator, He Says.

Weiss said he was fired after he insisted on "frisking" State Representative John G. Ryan [Dem., Chicago] when the legislator visited Stateville last summer. Ryan accused Weiss of being insolent and abusive to him and other visitors. Weiss denied these allegations but admitted that the civil service commission had approved his discharge.

Plarske was also discharged last July. He was a guard assigned to the master mechanics in Joliet and Stateville prisons for 21 years. He was fired on charges of creating a disturbance and not doing his work. He asserted before the commission that his only offense was making a remark that a guard captain "is going Democratic under this administration."

Resigned Last July.

Selling, who was a guard for nine years, resigned last July. He said he objected to being placed on duty in the prison yard because he feared convicts might take his life.

"For several years I was assigned on motorcycle duty around the prison honor farm," Selling said. "Last June I complained that a convict, Hale O'Reilly, who was driving a milk truck, was talking to an ex-convict along his route. I made the same complaint two weeks later and asked to be allowed to confront O'Reilly, but he was never called in.

Holdover, He Says.

"Then I began to lose ground. I was a holdover from a previous Republican administration. My motorcycle job was abolished and I was assigned to the prison wall and later to the yard. In 1931 I had taken part in quelling a convict riot and I was afraid the prisoners were still angry at me and would kill me. The legislative committee which investigated the prisons in 1931 had recommended that I should not be put to work in the yard. But the warden [then Frank D. Whipp, who resigned in October, 1935] kept assigning me to the yard last summer, so I quit."

Selling also told the commission that he had seen a convict, Jimmy Nolan, going into a saloon in Joliet. Nolan, he said, was a chauffeur for Deputy Warden George F. Sehring and enjoyed unusual privileges. Selling said he was informed later that Sehring was dining in a Joliet restaurant and sent Nolan to the saloon to purchase beer for his meal.

After the three former guards testified, Warden Ragen was called before the commission. He did not take office as warden until after the three guards left but he offered an explanation of their stories.

"Weiss never gave visitors courteous answers," he said, "and that is why he was fired. Plarske should know that prison discipline means backing up the guard captains. As for Stelling, if he would not work in the prison yard, apparently Warden Whipp had no use for him."

Other Witnesses Called.

Other witnesses before the commission yesterday were Prof. Edward F. Worst of Lewis institute, a voluntary employé at Stateville who helped organize the prison manual training school, and the Rev. Father Eligius Weir, Catholic chaplain at the prison. Prof. Worst said that the manual training equipment was meager and more was needed. Father Weir said that he did not believe convicts were susceptible to reform and asserted prison life causes them to deteriorate mentally, physically, and morally. He said convicts become "stir crazy" after a few years.

James Day, 23 years old, Stateville convict, who has been indicted for the murder Jan. 28 of Richard Loeb, a fellow prisoner, will be arraigned today before Judge Edwin L. Wilson in the Will county Circuit court at Joliet.

Stanley Zevolinsky, a convict who escaped in 1926 and was recaptured several days ago in Anderson, Ind., was returned to Joliet prison yesterday. Zevolinsky was sentenced in Chicago in 1925 to serve 10 years to life for armed robbery. In 1926 he was allowed to attend his mother's funeral here under guard and escaped.

Train Kills Yardmaster for Baltimore and Ohio

Harry Baugh, 56 years old, 1023 North Leclaire avenue, a yardmaster of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, was killed by a train yesterday on the company's tracks at Kedzie avenue and Taylor street. No witnesses to the accident were found.

3 FLYERS KILLED GOING TO RESCUE "GHOST" PLANE

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, Feb. 24.—(AP)—Three flyers were killed today in an attempt to aid a nonexistent pilot.

Sounds heard on the ground led to belief that an airplane was seeking a landing in a snowstorm and the trio went up in one plane to escort it to safety.

After several hours authorities concluded the singing of snow-laden telephone wires in the strong wind caused the sound similar to an airplane engine. As word went out to recall the guiding plane the news was received that it had crashed.

Indict 8 in St. Charles $16,000 Bank Robbery

Eight men were named in an indictment returned yesterday in federal court before Judge William H. Holly on charges of holding up the St. Charles National bank at St. Charles on Jan. 31. Four robbers entered the bank during the night, bound employés when they arrived in the morning, waited for the time lock to release the vault and escaped with $16,000. Fred T. Hansen of St. Charles, alleged leader of the band, and six others named in the indictment are in custody. John Sullivan, the eighth, is a fugitive.

BROOKS SLATE COMPLETED FOR COUNTY PRIMARY

Ditchburne Leads Ticket in Last Day Filing.

The Republican forces backing Wayland Brooks for the governorship nomination sent their remaining candidates to the starting line in County Clerk Flynn's office shortly before the deadline for filing petitions yesterday. Thus they completed the only full county slate for the party primary on April 14.

Harry S. Ditchburne, head of the Brooks county ticket, filed his own petition and led a group of his slate associates in the final step necessary to place their names on the ballot. Record breaking time was made with some of the petitions, as they were not put into circulation until three days ago.

Deneen Slate Incomplete.

The final list of filings showed only incomplete slates entered by the two minority groups, the one supporting H. Wallace Caldwell for governor and the other following the lead of Charles S. Deneen. The hour just before the 5 o'clock deadline failed to produce any surprises, most of the last minute candidates being considered of minor importance.

The complete list of filings follows, with the Republican factions designated by [B] for Brooks, [C] for Caldwell, and [D] for Deneen, and the asterisks in the Democratic lists indicating the incumbents backed by the regular organization:

City Court Filings Close.

Filings for chief justice and associate justice of the Municipal court also closed at 5 o'clock in the afternoon. Only one Democratic opponent, John S. O'Donnell, 3502 West 66th street, appeared against Chief Justice John J. Sonsteby. And there were only two candidates for chief justice on the Republican side, Municipal Judge Edward B. Casey, backed by the Brooks and Caldwell camps, and Thomas H. Slusser, who was put up by the Deneen group.

For the twelve places as associate justices there were 17 Democratic candidates filed and 45 Republican candidates. As in the county field, the Brooks organization was the only one that filed a complete Republican slate.

LIST OF FILINGS IN ILLINOIS PRIMARY RACE

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 24.—[Special.]—Nine candidates for the Republican nomination for governor — a total breaking all records for the twenty-four years that Illinois has had the direct primary system—had filed their petitions with Secretary of State Hughes when he closed his office at the 5 o'clock deadline this afternoon.

Late comers in the governorship line were H. Wallace Caldwell of Chicago, who is backed by a minority of the Cook county central committee, and State Senator Thomas P. Gunning of Princeton, whose backing is said to be limited to his own territory.

Byrd Takes Up Lecture Tour After Texas Rest

C. McCORMICK UNDECIDED ON CONGRESS RACE

Following the filing at Springfield yesterday of a petition presenting his name as a candidate for congressman at large, Chauncey McCormick issued a statement saying that the signatures had been gathered by friends and that he had not decided whether he would run.

He said that he had told the spokesman for those who circulated the petition that he did not enter politics to seek office for himself, that while he was "ready and anxious to serve" he had not been convinced that his running for office would be that sort of a contribution he could best make to the cause he supports.

"I gave my consent to have the petition filed," he continued, "with the understanding that this could not and did not constitute any commitment not to withdraw within the time provided by law."

Hardwick, Mass., Feb. 24.—(AP)—Hunger, caused by the deep snow and shortage of small game, is driving wildcats into the village of Hardwick, according to P. J. Carroll, local hunter, who has killed two.

DEMOCRATS LOSE COMSTOCK'S AID IN MICHIGAN

Former Governor Irked by New Dealers.

Lansing, Mich., Feb. 24.—[Special.]—Democratic leaders here obviously were appalled and Republican chieftains overjoyed today at the apparent defection from active Democratic ranks of William A. Comstock, former governor.

Comstock's statement in Detroit that he would take no part in the 1936 campaign in this state because of the attitude of the national administration on patronage matters brought an expression from Don Canfield, executive secretary of the Democratic state central committee, to the effect that he wished the former governor "had talked with me before issuing his statement."

Comstock, obviously expressing disgust over appointment of Arthur F. Lederle, Detroit, to be federal judge for the eastern district of Michigan, rather than accepting recommendations of old line Democrats that Frank A. Picard of Saginaw be named, predicted his party would receive "a deserved rebuke from the voters next November."

State Leaders Spurned.

Comstock, Picard, Horatio S. Abbott, retiring national committeeman, and several other of the Democratic "old guard" have been growing more and more irritated at the refusal of Washington politicians to allow the state leaders any voice in federal patronage matters while attempting to direct party policies here with little apparent regard for conditions in the state.

Comstock a few weeks ago balked at strong intimation from administration circles that Michigan Democrats should not oppose James Couzens in his race for reëlection as United States senator should he be renominated by the Republicans whose leaders have condemned Couzens' espousal of New Deal policies.

The Lederle appointment, following closely the conviction of Elmer B. O'Hara, Democratic state central committee chairman, State Senator A. J. Wilkowski, and 16 other Democrats for stealing votes in the 1934 election recount, proved too much for Comstock to swallow, in the view of prominent local Democrats, many of whom openly sympathize with the ex-governor while questioning the wisdom of his revolt.

Calls Comstock Smart.

Murray D. Van Wagoner, state highway commissioner, who perhaps commands the most extensive following of any Democratic state official, expressed continued party loyalty, declaring: "I am still a Democrat and there are not enough of them to let friction destroy the organization."

Gov. Frank D. Fitzgerald, Comstock's Republican successor, who has recently been praising the Comstock administration for passage of the state sales tax, declared Comstock to be "a man of rare discernment." Howard C. Lawrence, state banking commissioner and chairman of the Republican state central committee, said: "I always thought Comstock a pretty smart fellow."

MICHIGAN DEMOCRATIC CHAIRMAN IS GRANTED RETRIAL IN BRIBE CASE

Mount Clemens, Mich., Feb. 24.—[Special.]—Circuit Judge P. C. Gilbert today set aside the conviction of Elmer B. O'Hara, chairman of the Democratic state central committee, who was charged with bribing a Macomb county drain commissioner to influence a condemnation award.

The court's action was based on information that one of the jurors talked to two other persons during the trial. The judge ordered a new trial and continued O'Hara's present bond.

The Democratic committeeman was invited to a White House dinner and reception on Feb. 6, but was unable to attend because of his trial in Detroit at that time in a vote stealing case. He was convicted and sentenced to serve from four to five years, but is free on bail pending appeal.

SENATE ORDERS SURVEY TO CLIP FEDERAL COSTS

Washington, D. C., Feb. 24.—(AP)—Search for a "constructive plan for the reorganization of the whole government" was directed by the senate today with passage of a resolution setting up a five member committee to scrutinize the governmental structure.

The resolution, introduced by Senator Byrd [Dem., Va.], critic of some New Deal policies, directs the committee "to make a full and complete study of all the activities of the departments, bureaus, boards, commissions, independent agencies, and all other agencies of the executive branch of the government."

The committee is to determine whether, in case of overlapping agencies, such agencies might well be coördinated with other units, abolished, or have their personnel reduced, "in the interest of simplification, efficiency, and economy."

Only last week the Virginian said he would favor a billion dollar tax bill at this session in order to make citizens more conscious that present federal expenditures must be paid for.

Senator Punctures Myth of Special Privileges.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 24.—[Special.]—The popular theory among senators and representatives in congress that the constitution makes them immune from arrest, except for treason or infamous crimes, was punctured today by Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, Republican presidential aspirant.

Senator Borah, moved to considerable indignation by stories in local newspapers attributing flagrant trafic violations to members of congress, said a senator or a representative had no more privileges and immunities than any other citizen.

"I was talking today with one of the policemen I happen to know and I asked him why he didn't arrest these violators," Senator Borah declared. "He told me he couldn't because members of congress were protected."

Reads the "Immunity" Section.

The senator then read the provision in section 6, article 1, of the constitution, whereby members of congress "shall in all cases, except treason, felony, and breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest during their attendance at the session of their respective houses, and in going to and returning from the same."

He interpreted the phrase "treason, felony, and breach of the peace" to cover all offenses against the laws and said it never had been construed by the Supreme court as applying only to crimes of violence.

"The only thing intended by the immunity provision," the senator continued, "was freedom from arrest for debt, or civil arrest. Since we no longer have arrest for debt in this country, that provision of the constitution may be regarded as obsolete. A member of congress has no privilege or immunity that the ordinary citizen doesn't have.

Members "Amenable to Law."

"The people of the District of Columbia are, in many respects, unfortunate. They have no voice in their government and they are surrounded by the immunities of foreign diplomats and the supposed immunities of members of congress. But if it be true that the laws of the District are being violated by members of congress, they are amenable to the law."

Investigations by a local newspaper have disclosed that senators and representatives park their cars, sometimes for hours, sometimes over night, in entrance ways, along side of fire plugs and in all other forbidden zones.

Senator Alben W. Barkley [Dem., Ky.], explained that an amendment to the District trafic laws authorized the use of tags for congressional cars which permit their drivers to park them at the curb of government buildings while calling on official business. Senator Borah, however, declared that this privilege would not justify parking by a fire plug, or blocking the entrance to an apartment building.

Alienation Suit Against Helen Hayes Set May 11

Judge William V. Brothers of the Circuit court set May 11 yesterday for trial of the $100,000 alienation of affection suit brought by Carol Frink, newspaper motion picture critic, against Helen Hayes, actress and wife of Charles MacArthur, playwright. Miss Frink divorced MacArthur in 1926. Attorney Gerald T. Wiley, counsel for Miss Frink, said that he wished to take depositions of witnesses in New York before the trial date. Judge Brothers indicated that he might go to New York to preside at the taking of the depositions.

Awarded $8,000 for Son's Death in Auto Collision

A Circuit court jury returned a verdict of $8,000 damages yesterday against Eugene Zucker, 31 years old, 4957 North Lawndale avenue in favor of Otto E. Gorski, 5417 Higgins road, whose son, Francis Gorski, was fatally injured Dec. 14, 1933, when his car collided with one driven by Zucker at Milwaukee and Kimball avenues. Judge Roman E. Posanski of Calumet City presided over the trial.

ON TRIAL

[Acme Photo.]

Anadarko, Okla., Feb. 24.—(AP)—An 18 year old farm girl charged with slaying her father after he refused to let her "have a date," testified today he made improper advances toward her and "beat me just like he did all the stock—with rocks, sticks, pieces of iron, or anything he could grab."

The father, Iddis H. Willis, 51 year old share cropper, was slain with a shotgun Dec. 21, in bed at their three room home near Eakly.

Sherif Elmer Finley and three other witnesses testified the girl, Emma Willis, admitted firing the shot.

W. H. Cooper, counsel for Miss Willis, based his defense upon a plea of insanity, brought on by years of brutal treatment.

She said the last advance her father made toward her was on the night before he was killed.

"He told me that if I'd do what he wanted he would be easier on me and the family, and see to it that I got to go places and wouldn't have to work in the fields," she testified.

GIRL TO PRODUCE HOSPITAL DATA IN BABY TANGLE

Counsel for Miss Margaret Mann, who is striving to establish in court that she is the mother of a boy 3 years old, known recently under the name of Gordon Mordoff III., said yesterday that hospital records supporting her claim would be produced Friday before Judge Rudolph Desort of the Superior court.

One of these records shows that the child was treated at the Evanston hospital in December, 1933, as Reginald Arthur Stevens." He was then living at the home of Dr. Gordon Mordoff of 1721 Highland avenue, Wilmette, who contends that the youngster is his own son. A notation on the card indicates that a nurse had difficulty in having the child sent to the hospital over Dr. Mordoff's objections.

Miss Mann has consistently asserted that the child was only left as a boarder with Dr. Mordoff's wife, Madge, who died about three weeks ago.

Some interest was manifested in a want ad inserted in a Kansas City paper, reading: "M. M.——Chicago baby case—you lie—use your own name or I shall reveal the truth." The person who inserted the message, Miss Barbara Seaman of Welborn, Kas., was quoted as saying "Miss Mann had caused her a lot of trouble." Miss Mann said she had never known Miss Seaman.

TALMADGE OUSTS TWO OFFICIALS IN ROW OVER FUNDS

Troops Remove Elected Fiscal Chiefs.

Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 24.—(AP)—Gov. Eugene Talmadge ousted two state officials today on charges of misconduct in office because they refused to honor warants under the financial "dictatorship" he set up Jan. 1.

National Guardsmen stood by as Adjt. Gen. Lindley Camp served the removal orders upon Controler General William B. Harrison and Treasurer George B. Hamilton, but none was in uniform and the papers quoted civil, not martial, law.

Talmadge immediately named two supporters to the offices, C. B. Carreker for controler general and J. B. "Tobe" Daniel for treasurer, to obtain indorsement of a $130,000 board of control warant Harrison and Hamilton had refused to honor.

Treasury Aids Walk Out.

All treasury employês save one walked out as Hamilton was escorted from his office by Camp.

Harrison issued a statement "to the people of the state of Georgia" warning that "this unwaranted and illegal assumption of my office by Mr. Carreker may subject those who pay taxes or other funds to him to double payment, as he has no lawful authority to receive them."

Clement E. Sutton, Wilkes county legislator, advised tax collectors their bondsmen "can be held responsible" if funds are transmitted "to a person illegally placed" in the office of controler.

Georgians were divided sharply over the legality of Talmadge's plan for meeting state expenses with $7,500,000 in unspent appropriations of the last four years, in which he called upon the two finance officers by proclamation to honor drafts on 1936 revenue.

Legislature Creates Crisis.

The removal orders, almost identical, were in the form of suspensions.

Harrison, elderly one-time fire department captain, "grossly neglects his duties and . . . demeans himself in office to the hazard of the state," Talmadge charged.

The order for removal of Hamilton alleged gross neglect of duties and conduct "plainly violative" of duty.

The financial "dictatorship" was brought on by the failure of the 1935 legislature—in which the house was hostile to Talmadge—to pass an appropriations bill for the ensuing two years.

Talmadge declined to call a special session and his spokesmen asserted the state legislative machinery "has broken down."

Both the controler and the treasurer are elected by the people of the state. Talmadge said the statutes authorized the governor to suspend a state official for misconduct in office until the next session of the legislature—in this case, January, 1937.

At 4 p. m. yesterday 147 persons had been killed by automobile accidents in Cook county since Jan. 1, according to the coroner's office. During the same period 126 persons were killed and 2,124 were injured within the Chicago city limits.

DETROIT GIRL, 19, DIES IN A 150 FOOT LEAP INTO FROZEN RIVER

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 24.—(AP)—A 19 year old girl, identified by her companions as Nancy Winans, daughter of a Detroit automotive engineer, leaped 150 feet from the Ambassador bridge to her death on the ice of the Detroit river late today.

Police of the harbor master's division said they were unable to send a boat to the scene because of heavy ice in the river, and the body sank beneath the surface when they tried to reach it from the bridge.

After talking with three companions of the girl, Earl W. Winans said he was convinced the girl was his daughter.

Police said two youths and a young woman riding in a roadster with Miss Winans told them her hat blew off as they drove across the bridge and she had insisted on getting out for it herself. When she reached her hat she ran on to the bridge rail and leaped over, they said.

80 AUTO THEFTS SOLVED, POLICE SAY; FIVE HELD

The state's attorney's police said yesterday that they have broken up an automobile theft ring with the arrest of five men who have been held secretly for the last two weeks.

Lieut. Thomas D. Kelly, head of the stolen auto division of the state's attorney's office, said the men made a practice of buying wrecked cars on which they would receive certificates of title—which they would transfer to stolen cars. He said they have stolen and sold 80 cars under this system.

Those in custody are Ray Knize, 27 years old, 8139 South Paulina street; Anthony Lavick, 31, of 6527 South Seeley avenue; Sam Morfort, 41, of 8624 South Hermitage avenue; Irving Liss, 40, of 1300 South Spaulding avenue; and Albert Speece, 35 years old, garage owner at Gary. They will be arraigned today in the automobile court on 15 charges of auto theft.

COUZENS RAKES W. J. CUMMINGS' MULTIPLE JOBS

Suggests Posts Form New Deal Whip.

himself of that privilege in his capacity as a Texas publisher, Senator Couzens read from a letter in which Jones defended Cummings' salary on the ground that the condition of the Continental bank had greatly improved.

This is the same position which has been taken by Cummings, who justifies his $75,000 salary on the ground that the bank's earnings in 1935 were nearly 20 million dollars. In other sources, it has been noted that the salary was boosted from $50,000 to $75,000 in January, 1935, before the bank knew what its earnings would be that year, and that after deducting more than 9 million dollars for chargeoffs and 7½ million for reserves for contingencies, the net earnings for 1935 were only a little more than 3 million dollars.

"Should Meet Tax," Says Couzens.

"He was given $50,000 per year and later it was raised to $75,000," Senator Couzens declared. "Now Mr. Jones informs me by letter and orally that the condition of the bank has greatly improved. I am not particularly finding fault with the salary paid, but I submit that when a bank is so prosperous that it can pay salaries of this size, it ought to be able to pay to the state the tax on its preferred stock.

"Remember that Mr. Cummings was made chairman of the board of this bank under the admonition and dictation of the Reconstruction Finance corporation prior to his appointment as treasurer of the Democratic national committee, which I understand took place on March 15, 1934. However, Mr. Cummings was already treasurer of the national Democratic convention when he got his support before the RFC and before the interstate commerce commission, to be appointed a trustee of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific railroad, which, in my judgment, is much more vicious than his appointment as chairman of the board of the Continental bank.

Letter Cites Bank's Success.

"Mr. Jones' letter states that 'the success of the bank under Mr. Cummings' direction has been very satisfactory, and I am informed that the directors voluntarily raised his salary after the first year to $75,000.'

"Well, Mr. President, even some of the dumb bankers who have run the banks during the depression and prior thereto were able to show great improvement in 1935. I do not contend that it does any great credit to Mr. Cummings or any other banker that he was able to show a great improvement in 1935, with the general upturn in business and in all activites.

"Then Mr. Jones in his letter rather lays stress on the fact that they recovered a very substantial amount of debts which they had considered bad. There is another matter which is to no one's particular credit—that is any one who conscientiously tends to business, because that has happened throughout the nation with the recovery in values of industry and realty.

Bank Dividends Told.

"Mr. Jones says in his letter: 'Dividends on the preferred stock have been regularly paid and in January of this year $2 a share was declared on the common stock, par value of $33.33 per share, $1 payable Feb. 1 and $1 Aug. 1. Three million of the preferred stock will be retired as of Aug. 1 this year.

"'At the time Mr. Cummings became president of the bank, which was shortly after we bought preferred stock in it, the common stock was selling at approximately $24 per share. The market now is $174 per share, an increase of $150 a share on total capitalization of 753,000 shares, or an increase of $112,500,000 in a little over two years.'

"Mr. President, this undoubtedly came about by the federal government's injection of its money in the support of an obviously weak and almost insolvent, if not quite insolvent bank. Yet in spite of all that aid in the preservation of the savings of the depositors and the holdings of stockholders, they now resist paying taxes on the preferred stock."

Fights Job Influence.

Senator Couzens said that Cummings' name was proposed by Chairman Jones when he was appointed a trustee of the Milwaukee road, the ICC having confirmed the appointment.

"Again I mention the salary not as a criticism but to indicate how these positions may be parceled out by the powers that be and the consequent influence that they may exert later on," the Michigan senator declared. "I am and always have been vigorously opposed to using political influence or interlocking directorates in any manner which seemed to be adverse to public policy."

When Senator Couzens said there was "no telling" to what extent Mr. Cummings might exact campaign contributions in his capacity as treasurer of the Democratic national committee, Senator James Hamilton Lewis [Dem., Ill.] asked whether there was anything in the record indicating that such demands had been made.

"O, no I would not have access to that," Couzens replied. "The senator from Illinois, I hope, does not consider the senator from Michigan so gullible that he would think he could get information about what demands Mr. Cummings might make upon his associates engaged in these activities.

"I do not make that statement, but I am taking this question up now before the demands of the campaign have been fully developed so, if possible, to create a public opinion against contributions from such sources.

"If they should be demanded," put in Senator Lewis.

"If they should be demanded," Couzens assented, "but I happen to know that during the Republican administration and during my long membership on the committee appointed by the senate to investigate the bureau of internal revenue literally millons of dollars were collected from parties who had income tax claims pending before the bureau of internal revenue.

Disclaims Political Aim.

"So, Mr. President, my complaint is in no sense political or partisan. It involves a question which I have vigorously fought ever since I have been here for some thirteen of fourteen years and I intend to continue to find fault regardless of what administration may be in power."

Senator Lewis, during the colloquy with Senator Couzens, took occasion to deliver an animadversion on Winthrop W. Aldrich, chairman of the Chase National bank of New York, because he had attacked the New Deal. It was Senator Lewis' contention that Mr. Aldrich should be grateful for the 50 million dollars' worth of stock. The RFC bought in his bank.

Senator Carter Glass [Dem., Va.], arose at this point, declaring:

"I am no spokesman for the Chase National bank, but I think we should be fair. My information is that the Chase bank didn't want to sell any preferred stock to the RFC but was persuaded to do so by the RFC."

Ashurst Attacks Bill.

The pending bill, which was managed by Senator Alben W. Barkley [Dem., Ky.], was attacked by Senator Henry F. Ashurst [Dem., Ariz.], as a bill to "penalize good, honest and successful banking." He pointed out that the successful banks sold no stock to the RFC and hence their entire preferred issues are subject to state taxation.

Senator Couzens sought to amend the bill to eliminate its retroactive provision but his amendment was rejected. The bill as passed not only prevents the states from taxing the RFC's preferred bank shares in the future but from collecting taxes for any period since the stock was sold.

An amendment by Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg [Rep., Mich.], which reduces the interest rate on RFC loans to closed banks from 4 to 3½ per cent, was adopted. The bill, which was introduced as a result of the recent Supreme court decision holding RFC bank shares taxable, now goes to the house of representatives.

YOUNG URGES RADIO SPEAKERS TO GUARD POLITICAL COMMENTS

Winter Park, Fla., Feb. 24.—(AP)—Urging speakers to guard their radio utterances, particularly on politics, Owen D. Young warned today that "freedom of the speech for a man whose voice can be heard a few hundred feet is one thing," but for a "man whose voice may be heard around the world" it is another.

The political campaign, the chairman of the advisory commitee of the National Broadcasting company said in a Rollins college founders' week address, has become so vital and the radio audience so large that "the choice word and measured phrase" are needed lest great harm may be done.

He quoted from recent radio addresses by former President Hoover, former Gov. Alfred E. Smith, and Senator Robinson [Dem., Ark.], and mildly cautioned them, "whom I much admire."

If the right of free speech is to be preserved, Young declared, the man "who undertakes to speak before this giant reflector of his voice" must use "wise discretion," must speak "with malice toward none and charity toward all."

SHOWDOWN ON HONEST ELECTION BILL DUE TODAY

Civic, Business Groups Demand Passage.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 24.—[Special.]—A fight of many years for a modern system of registering voters to eliminate fraudulent voting and reduce election costs will come to a showdown tomorrow in the Illinois house, where a final vote is scheduled on two sets of permanent registration bills.

Civic and business organizations of Chicago and downstate are supporting the Hubbard-Brands-Schnackenberg bills that would install the honest elections plan in Chicago and eight other cities with election boards. These bills also have the support of Republicans and Horner Democrats in the general assembly.

Defeatist Movement.

The rival bills would apply permanent registration to the entire state. Introduced by Representative Benjamin S. Adamowski [Dem., Chicago], they have the support of Cook county Democrats. The backers of the Hubbard-Brands-Schnackenberg bills charge that the Adamowski measures were thrown into the legislature only to arouse members from districts that do not need the system to defeat all the bills.

No emergency clause is attached to the Hubbard-Brands-Schnackenberg bills. They would go into effect July 1, and require for passage only 77 votes in the house and 26 in the senate. The Adamowski measures carry emergency clauses, thus requiring 102 votes in the house and 34 in the senate.

Advance Urged.

Members of the house have been sent urgent appeals by the Illinois League of Women Voters and the City Club of Chicago to be in their seats in the morning. The break in the cold wave and the clearing of roads is expected to build up an attendance that has been scant during the last two weeks.

Preceding discussion of the bills, which have been made a special order of business for 11 a. m., is likely to be some jockeying for position, each side attempting to have the roll called first on its measures.

"I am going to push my bills tomorrow," said Adamowski. "My bills are Nos. 1 and 2 and, while the others are Nos. 7 and 8. I think they should be taken in numerical order."

Welfare Bills on List.

While watching the outcome of the vote in the house on permanent registration, the senate will be engaged with the agreed occupational diseases bills, and the problem of what agency should be established to distribute sales tax relief funds to counties after the Illinois Emergency Relief commission expires on May 1.

In both house and senate there is considerable sentiment for an early sine die adjournment of the three special sessions now running concurrently. Besides the approaching primary of April 14, when nominations will be made to the senate from the even numbered senatorial districts and to all the seats in the house, many members are complaining of the personal expense.

KNITTING FIRM SUES THREE OFFICIALS FOR MINNESOTA CLOSING

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 24.—[Special.]—Strutwear Knitting company officials today filed suit in Hennepin county District court for $101,500 damages from Gov. Olson, Adj. Gen. E. A. Walsh, and Mayor Latimer as a result of labor difficulties which have kept their plant closed since Aug. 18, 1935. The bank accounts of the three were attached late tonight.

Basis of the complaint is that the three officials, by failure to provide adequate protection to plant employés who desired to work and by closing the factory between Dec. 27 and Jan. 28 with National Guard troops, deprived the firm of its property without due process of law.

Accusing the public officials of maliciousness in preventing its operation, the firm asked that $69,000 be awarded it as damages for loss of the use of the plant during the period the National Guard held it. It also claimed $7,500 costs for a federal court suit startel last month to oust the National Guard and $25,000 damages for depreciation of the firm's good will because it was unable to fill orders.

FEDERAL RELIEF ACT UNDER FIRE IN WPA PAY CASE

New York, Feb. 24.—[Special.]—An attack on the constitutionality of the Federal Emergency Relief act, contained in a demurrer to an indictment set for argument today before Federal Judge Marcus B. Campbell in Brooklyn, is the most important attack on the administration's plans since the NRA was scrapped by the Supreme court of the United States, Assistant United States Attorney James G. Scileppi declared in asking for more time to prepare the government's case.

The demurrer was filed to an indictment against Harry Dorf and HugoTeitlebaum, both of Brooklyn.

The indictment charges the defendants with falsifying a WPA pay roll. It specifies that after obtaining a contract for the use of trucks for a period of eighty days or a WPA project they failed to pay the prevailing WPA wage to the drivers. The prevailing wage was $6 a day, the indictment charges, adding that the defendants paid only $2.50 a day.

In their demurrer the defendants said that the FERA was unconstitutional and that therefore its various subsidiaries likewise were unconstitutional and could not prosecute as an agency of the government.

TEXTILES WORTH 12 MILLION GO TO WPA PROGRAM

117 Million Yards Bought for Sewing Jobs.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 24.—[Special.]—The extent to which the federal government has gone into the sewing business was shown today with the announcement that the treasury had purchased a total of 117 million yards of textiles at a cost of $12,450,000 for the Works Progress administration.

The cloth is being used in seamstress projects in all parts of the United States. The program has been carried on by WPA over the protests of textile manufacturers, who have insisted that the government projects would throw hundreds of women out of work.

The purchases have been made by the procurement division of the treasury.

The surplus property officials have embarked on a new policy of using all seized alcohol instead of tossing it into the gutter, as was the practice during the prohibition era.

Five thousand gallons of alcohol, manufactured in Belgium and seized by the coast guard along New England, will be sent by the surplus property custodians to the war department for use at Picatinny arsenal in New Jersey, it was announced. The alcohol will be used in the manufacture of high explosives.

Another batch of 16,000 gallons, seized in the Gulf near New Orleans, will be given to the navy for various scientific and mechanical purposes. The shipment will go to the Norfolk navy yard and be reshipped.

Congressman John J. O'Connor [Dem., N. Y.] ,who recently engaged in controversy with the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, radio priest, over the Frazier-Lemke bill, yesterday accepted an invitation to address the annual St. Patrick's Day meeting of the Irish Fellowship club of Chicago at the Palmer house on March 17. The invitation was delivered in Washington by a committee headed by United States District Attorney Michael L. Igoe and William J. Grace, president of the club. Congressman O'Connor's subject fill be "Our Country." Mr. Igoe, the other speaker of the evening, will talk on "The Day We Celebrate."

Conservator for Estate of Courtroom Killer Asked

Appointment of a conservator for the estate of John W. Keogh, recently declared insane after the courtroom slaying of Attorney Christopher G. Kinney, on Jan. 13, was asked in a petition filed in the Probate court yesterday. The petition estimates Keogh's personal estate to be worth $5,000 and states he has an annual income of $15,000 from a real estate trust. Acting Probate Judge Harry McEwen set Feb. 28 as the date for hearing on the petition. Keogh has been ordered committed to the Illinois Security hospital at Menard.

Charging cruelty, Mrs. Corinne Gaughan, 6124 North Washtenaw avenue, brought suit for separate maintenance in the Superior court yesterday against Thomas J. Gaughan, salesman for a wholesale grocery company.

CREWS IDLE 29% OF TIME WHILE WPA PAYS THEM

Weather Halts Work, but Costs Go On.

As the frozen projects of the federal Works Progress administration thawed out yesterday a survey revealed that the workers in Illinois received pay for 6,559,950 hours during which they did not work in January, chiefly because of weather conditions. The loss to WPA was estimated at more than $3,000,000.

Under the "security wage" plan of WPA, workers were paid for a total of 22,029,336 hours, although they only put in 15,469,386 hours. This loss amounted to 29.8 per cent. In December it was 14.3 per cent. Chicago's time shrinkage in January was 2,566,115 hours, or 27.3 per cent.

The weather loss to outdoor construction projects was even greater than these figures show, because during the cold wave many workers were transferred to snow removal jobs. Full speed ahead was ordered yesterday by Ralph H. Burke, state deputy administrator, to make the most of the mild weather.

"As Broad as It's Long."

"The public," said Mr. Burke, "should keep in mind that if we were not paying our workers for lost time with federal funds they would require help from the relief commission which now uses state funds."

The Illinois WPA office received authorization yesterday from Washington to work the project employés a maximum of forty hours a week to make up for the time lost. The regular schedule is thirty hours a week. The order specifies, however, that time may be made up only during the semi-monthly pay roll period in which the loss occurs or in the half month following.

To lighten the relief burden, which remains unexpectedly large despite WPA employment, another federal agency, the National Youth administration, has given part time jobs to 7,972 young men and girls in Illinois, it was announced yesterday.

More than 90 per cent of the young persons employed are from relief families. They will receive $19 to $25 a month for 44 hours of work—slightly more on an hourly basis than the average adult WPA worker.

The Illinois Emergency Relief commission, which faces a shortage of nearly $1,000,000 for March needs, disclosed yesterday that on its rolls are 878 clients—104 of them barbers—who are operating their own businesses but whose income is inadequate.

Details were disclosed yesterday of two new WPA projects which have been allotted $50,000 and which give work to 300 men. One of these projects is a twenty-four hour a day count of persons who board or get off street cars in Chicago avenue between Wells street and Lake Shore drive.

Part of Larger Undertaking.

In four shifts, a dozen men to a shift, these huskies are performing what is called "only a small part of a survey of vehicular and pedestrian trafic" by Otto Jelinek, trafic engineer for the Chicago park district.

"We are keeping records on Chicago avenue street car usage," he said, "in connection with the movement to remove the tracks from Lake Shore drive."

One WPA workman sought the shift starting at 1 a. m. because he found that passengers averaged only about six an hour during this period and he could keep an accurate tab on them from a seat in a restaurant.

Prying Into Private Business.

The other new project, sponsored by the census bureau, consists of questioning business executives on their 1935 operations—how many employés they hired, how much they paid them, where they bought materials and at what cost, what their rentals were, and other intimate data.

The business man is under no legal compulsion to answer, but Zach C. Elkins, who directs the project here for the census bureau, said several of the enumerators had to be discharged for threatening employers. In one case a hesitant downtown business man was threatened with "a jail term and a $10,000 fine" for his silence.

Elkins said the data would be kept confidential and merely would be tabulated.

COURT INJUNCTION IS IGNORED BY STRIKERS AT RUBBER FACTORY

Akron, O., Feb. 24.—(AP)—John House, president of the Goodyear local of the United Rubberworkers' union, tonight said the nation's rubber capital is "on the threshold of a major disaster" unless the strike at the Goodyear Tire & Rubber company is settled promptly.

Sherif James T. Flower conferred with national guard observers and municipal authorities regarding scores of strikers who, he said, ignored a court injunction prohibiting mass picketing.

The union leader claimed his organization obeyed the injunction, stationing the specified maximum number of 10 pickets at each of the 44 entrances to company property. He disclaimed responsibility for the presence of nonunion striking employés.

The company has announced it would not attempt to resume operations in plants where a total of 14,000 normally are employed until the injunction becamc effective.

Work on Randolph Street Viaduct Gets Under Way

A hundred workmen began yesterday the task of sinking caissons on the lake front in Grant park near the Naval Reserve armory for the viaduct which is to carry Randolph street from Michigan avenue over the railroad tracks to the Outer drive. Mackie-Thompson-Tamm company is doing the work. On March 1, bids are to be received for construction of the superstructures, steel work, and underground drainage system, totaling about $2,000,000, according to William I. Bell, chief engineer of the Chicago park district. Bell said bids would be accepted later for paving and concrete work on the viaduct.

The silks are pure dye, of a wonderfully soft, supple quality, almost a lingerie weight, yet with surprising firmness of texture. The patterns are distinctly French in character—a little different from the usual prints. The colors come in lovely "gentle" tones, beautifully blended.

ATTACK ON WPA BRINGS REMOVAL OF GEN. HAGOOD

Congress Storm Greets Suspension.

issued in response to requests for comment, the American Liberty league tonight issued the following statement:

"Unfortunately there is nothing surprising in the disciplinary measures taken against Gen. Hagood following the general's exercise of his right of free speech before the house appropriations committee. Such action should be astounding, but at present it is not.

"As pointed out in a public statement by the executive committee of the American Liberty league issued less than five days ago:

"'Suppression of free speceh and a free press and denial of the right of citizens to petition their government are the universal weapons of dictatorship.'"

No Explanation Offered.

The order suspending Gen. Hagood was dated Feb. 21, but was not made public until today. It read as follows:

"By direction of the President, Maj. Gen. Johnson Hagood, U. S. A., is relieved from assignment to the command of the 8th Corps area and further duty at Fort Sam Houston, Tex. Maj. Gen. Hagood will proceed to his home and await orders. The travel directed is necessary in the military service."

Craig offered no explanation other than to describe the order as routine administrative procedure. He said he had nothing in mind as to a new assignment for Hagood.

Hagood leveled his criticism of the WPA program when urging that 38 million dollars be appropriated for army housing.

Hits "Vast Flow of Silver."

"At the present time there is a vast flow of silver—I won't say gold—spreading out all over the country like mud," he told the house subcommittee. "It will soon dry up without anything permanent to show for it. I shall not be accused of profanity when I say, 'For God's sake, put some of it into stone and steel.'

"It is harder for me to get 5 cents to buy a lead pencil than to get $1,000 to teach hobbies to the Civilian Conservation corps boys. Under the WPA I can get $200 to build a gravel walk to the garden house, but I can not get $10 to repair a busted steampipe.

"I am not asking you to build pyramids. I am asking you to put up useful buildings that will be occupied by your men in uniform for 100 years to come."

Speculate on Court Martial.

Then followed the general's "stage money" statement. He added that he was not familiar with the various pockets into which Uncle Sam puts his money but that there was budget money, which was very hard to get, PWA [Public Works administration] money "that is not so hard to get" and a vast quantity of WPA money which was very easy to get for "trifling projects" but almost impossible to get for anything worth while.

Whether the New Dealers would be satisfied with benching Hagood or whether they would take the more drastic step of court martial proceedings was the question that was uppermost among army men.

The court martial of the late Brig. Gen. William Mitchell, also an outspoken critic, was recalled. Mitchell, chief of the A. E. F. air force during the war, afterward criticized the administration's military air policies. He was convicted of conduct prejudicial to good order and military discipline. Subsequently he resigned.

Spoke Mind on Beer.

This was not the first time that the dapper little Gen. Hagood—he is smaller than average army size—had spoken his mind.

When congress was bickering over whether to set the limit for alcoholic content in nonintoxicating beer at 2.75 or 3.2 per cent, Gen. Hagood, who was then commander of the Seventh corps area at Omaha, delivered a statement describing the 2.75 beverage as "mere bellywash." He contended that people who desired beer would be forced to go to bootleggers.

Two years ago Hagood criticized the government's "flyspecking system of accounting" in a case involving the subsistence records of several enlisted men who had been recommended for military trial. Hagood declared that the methods of calculating subsistence allowance was so involved that it was strange that all officers and enlisted men including himself who had drawn the compensation had not been charged with similar offenses.

At the outbreak of the world war Hagood received the rank of colonel. He commanded the 7th regiment, 1st expeditionary brigade coast artillery.

Later he became chief of staff of the service of supply, which handled millions of dollars' worth of supplies sent to France and also supervised the training of units after their arrival overseas. For his war service he received the Distinguished Service Medal, French Legion of Honor, and Order of the Crown of Italy.

Hagood also commanded 3d army artillery in the army of occupation in Germany.

Born in Orangeburg, S. C., Hagood was graduated from West Point in 1896. From 1908 to 1911 he served as an aid to the late Gen. Leonard Wood, accompanying him to the Philippines. Raised to the rank of major general in 1925 he was one of the youngest officers ever to hold that grade.

In the house attack resulting from the Hagood ouster, Representative Blanton singled out Harry Woodring, assistant secretary of war, for an especial blast. Hagood, Blanton shouted, had more ability in his little finger than Woodring had in his whole system.

"Do you think I am going to let Harry Woodring get away with this?" said Blanton. "I should say not. He's the man who is attempting to spank a great major general. It is damnable and outrageous."

New Kansas City-Chicago Speed Mark Set by Plane

Officials of the Transcontinental and Western Airlines announced last night that one of their planes had made a record breaking trip from Kansas City to Chicago in one hour 39 minutes, beating the previous record by three minutes. The ship, a Douglas Skyliner, was piloted by Capt. Don Perry, with J. Grabill as first officer. The average speed for the trip was 258.78 miles an hour.

EDUCATORS SEEK U.S. FUNDS; BALK AT 'DOMINATION'

Three Leaders Discuss Plans at St. Louis.

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 24.—(AP)—Three educators agreed tonight that federal funds for education are desirable but they must be distributed in such a way no political domination of the public schools is possible.

They discussed all angles of government support of public education in a symposium before a general session of the annual convention of the department of superintendence of the National Education association.

Paul R. Mort, director of the advanced school for education, Teachers' college, Columbia university, said, "federal support should be associated with no control. The only condition which should be set for receiving aid is a report of its use."

Hold Right to Experiment.

L. D. Coffman, president of the University of Minnesota, declared, "In my judgment federal funds can be used to improve the schools without dominating instructions or without depriving the states and communities of their rights to experiment with education."

While agreeing with his colleagues, Charles H. Judd, head of the department of education, University of Chicago, pointed out "the improbability that congress will abdicate to such an extent" that it would appropriate money with no restrictions.

He said a study of state departments of education by a committee of the American council on education, disclosed conditions "such as to give pause to the most enthusiastic advocate of unrestricted federal subventions for education."

Roosevelt's Letter Read.

President Roosevelt told the educators that on them rested the responsibility of bringing an understanding of widespread changes "in order that modifications in governmental practices may be made rapidly enough to keep government abreast of demands for social and economic progress."

In a letter read at the convention the President "exhorted" the educators "to approach your task of training the citizenship of this country in a thoroughly realistic fashion."

"The citizenship," he wrote, "must have an understanding of the problems confronted by those who are at once their leaders and their servants. The public must understand the issues involved in the solutions proposed.

"During times like these when changes are widespread and rapid, schools and colleges have an unusual responsibility to bring to the people an understanding of these changes in order that modifications in governmental practices may be made more rapidly enough to keep government abreast of demands for social and economic progress."

TABER DEMANDS LIST OF AAA PAYMENTS IN EXCESS OF $2,000 EACH

Washington, D. C., Feb. 24.—(AP)—Representative John Taber [Rep., N. Y.] demanded in the house today that Secretary Wallace provide congress with the names of farmers who received benefit payments under the AAA in excess of $2,000.

"There has been wide-spread racketeering under the AAA and it is ridiculous to let it go on in this way," Taber said.

"There are hundreds of cases and I believe the house is entitled to know about them."

Mrs. Ruth Pomeroy, 37 years old, a widow, of the Kimbark hotel, 6324 Kimbark avenue, died yesterday at the Woodlawn hospital from injuries she received Sunday night when she jumped from the third floor window of an apartment at 1312 East 62d street. She had been drinking there with Albert Rock, 38 years old, a butcher, whose apartment it was, and Harry Cohrs, 56, of an adjoining apartment. The men were held for the inquest at 9:30 a. m. today in the hospital.

BUSINESS CHIEFS TO HELP SCOUTS SEEKING $63,000

Fifty Chicago business men promised at a meeting in the University club yesterday to help raise $63,000 in the next two weeks for Boy Scout activities among underprivileged boys. The $63,000 is needed to fill a quota of $145,000 for Scout work.

A project already is under way to supply trained leaders in two areas of the city where juvenile delinquency runs high, according to James H. Douglas Jr., chairman of the executive board of the Chicago council. He said special facilities and inducements would be offered for boys, 9 to 11 years old, to join "Cub packs" instead of juvenile gangs. At present 22 per cent of the Scout units in Chicago serve handicaped boys, Mr. Douglas observed, and the new project will greatly increase this percentage.

R. Douglas Stuart, president of the Chicago council, and Stephen Y. Hord, chairman of the campaign committee, reviewed the Chicago Scouting program and urged support for the campaign against juvenile delinquency, which is to be carried out in coöperation with the Institute for Juvenile Research.

The top leaves of all tobacco plants tend to give a definitely harsh, alkaline taste. The bottom leaves tend to acidity in the smoke. It is only the center leaves which approach in nature the most palatable acid-alkaline balance. In LUCKY STRIKE Cigarettes the center leaves are used.

ASK $161,863,147 FOR AGRICULTURE BUREAU IN 1936

Sum in Addition to Huge Subsidy.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 24.—(AP)—A bill carrying a near record appropriation of $161,863,147 for ordinary agricultural activities of the government today started through a farm conscious congress.

Before opening debate, the house appointed conferees to seek final agreement with the senate on legislation carrying an additional $500 million for subsidies to farmers for soil conservation.

The 1936-'37 supply bill for the agricultural department proper proposed spending $21,635,563 more than in the current fiscal year. In addition, some $18,000,000 was reappropriated out of unexpended funds in the treasury.

Halt Tree Shelter Belt.

A reduction of $28,625,857 under the President's budget estimate was claimed by the appropriations committee, but this did not take into account the $18,000,000 reappropriation, among the eliminated items was $1,000,000 for continuing the shelter belt tree planting project in plains states.

These additional developments marked an agriculturally important day in the capital which started off with publication of testimony at subcommittee hearings on the supply bill:

1. Senator Joseph T. Robinson, majority leader, reported he would seek to have the 50 million dollars authorized for seed loans to farmers cut to 30 million dollars.

Call Farmers' Meeting.

2. Farm administration officials, eager to get the AAA substitute program into operation in time to influence this year's crop planting, announced plans for regional meetings of farmers next week.

3. The census bureau reported a 10 million acre reduction in the 1934 corn harvest compared with 1929.

4. Weather bureau officials testified they were unable to render efficient airway and other service under current appropriations.

5. Testimony was given congress that nitrate plants at Muscle Shoals had been made obsolete by improved methods of manufacture.

6. The supply bill carried 60 million dollars for previously contracted federal aid road building, and continued an authorization to contract for an additional $125,000,000 road program.

Five Million Cut.

The agriculture department supply bill allowed $22,469,265 for the soil conservation service, previously financed through emergency funds, although $27,500,000 had been asked in the budget.

While the total was not as large as some in the past which carried larger appropriations for highways, committee officials said it was one of the highest for straight departmental activities.

In addition to the $161,863,174 total, the measure would appropriate $4,000,000 for the farm credit administration, the same as allowed this year.

In continuing the $125,000,000 authorization for roads under the Hayden-Cartwright act, the committee overrode the budget bureau, which had sought to postpone until the 1938 fiscal year permission to contract additional road work.

Expressly Forbid Scheme.

The appropriation committee's action in disallowing the shelter-belt funds was in line with its policy begun in the war department bill, when it turned down $29,000,000 for the Passamaquoddy Tidewater dam. Florida ship canal and other projects started under emergency funds, but not previously authorized by congress.

To make certain soil conservation or other funds are not diverted for the shelter-belt, the full committee wrote in a last minute stipulation against use of any other money in the bill for the tree-planting, originally conceived to halt erosion.

Heeding pleas of weather bureau officials, the committee allowed this service $3,810,724, a $371,520 increase year. The additional funds are intended to provide better weather forecasts, flood and forest-fire warnings.

Gas Kills De Kalb Man; Two Others Overcome

De Kalb, Ill., Feb. 24.—[Special.]—John Kerwin, 68, was found dead and his two companions overcome by illuminating gas in their home here today. Allen Hughes and William Flynn, both 60, were taken to St. Mary's hospital where physicians said they probably will recover. Thomas McCann found the three men when he called at their home. A leak in a gas main near the home was found.

George Mattes, employé of a bakery supply company, was ordered yesterday to pay $7 a week temporary alimony to his wife, Mrs. Margaret Mattes, 23 years old, 4705 North Winchester avenue, who has a separate maintenance bill pending. Judge Rudolph F. Desort of the Superior court awarded her custody also of her son, George Jr., 3 years old. Attorney Norman Becker, representing Mrs. Mattes, told the court that her husband had not allowed his wife to see the boy unless a member of his family was on guard and she and the boy were locked in a room.

RATE ABOVE TVA, SO CITY WILL NOT PAY FOR POWER

Pawtucket, R. I., Feb. 24.—(AP)—This city's debt of $5,554.85 for street and park lighting remained unpaid today as Albert J. Lamarre, commissioner of public works, persisted in his refusal to approve payment to the Blackstone Valley Gas and Electric company.

Commissioner Lamarre said he wouldn't approve payment because the Supreme court of the United States had upheld power sales by the government under the Tennessee Valley authority and because the rate under TVA was lower than that charged the city by the Blackstone Valley company.

In explaining his stand, Lamarre, who has been warring on electric rates for some time, said TVA charged 4 mills a kilowatt hour while the Blackstone Valley company charged the city 5 cents for street lighting and 9 cents for general municipal purposes.

Day Brings Million in '34 Taxes as Deadline Nears

A total of $1,177,687 in 1934 real estate taxes was paid yesterday as taxpayers crowded the county treasurer's offices to settle before the second penalty deadline on March 1. Saturday will be the last day for payment before the 1 per cent a month penalty is added, said Treasurer Joseph L. Gill.

EXPERT ASSAILS NEW AAA BILL AS UNJUST LAW

Says It Leaves Volunteer Soil Builders Unaided.

Joker No. 1 in the new federal farm legislation is that there will be little money available for farmers who already are growing soil building or soil erosion crops, declared Dean Chris L. Christensen of the college of agriculture, University of Wisconsin, at the Agricultural club luncheon held in the La Salle hotel yesterday.

Dean Christensen, who will be required by the law to aid in its administration in Wisconsin, said that 35 per cent of the cultivated land in his state already has been developed by grasses and legumes in a soil building program.

Wisconsin Rather Perturbed.

He observed that in Wisconsin, where dairying dominates, farmers are much concerned about what good may come to them through the new farm measure which has just been passed by the senate and the house of representatives.

Adverse criticism of the bill coming from an agricultural leader who by virtue of his position becomes a part of the administrative organization, came as a surprise to club members who had come to hear a friendly explanation of the principles of the legislation by Donald Kirkpatrick, general counsel for the American Farm Bureau federation.

Explains Details of Measure.

Mr. Kirkpatrick asserted that the bill, vigorously supported by his organization, was designed to aid farmers in eliminating losses in excess of $400,000,000 due to abandoned acreage and loss of soil fertility. The measure includes valid sections of the Agricultural Adjustment administration act and the soil conservation law, he said.

The program will cost annually approximately $500,000,000, which is to be appropriated from general funds instead of from any sort of processing tax, according to Mr. Kirkpatrick. He estimates that from 325 to 350 million acres of land is all that is required to produce enough farm products to meet consupmer demand in this country.

CONGRESS HEARS MUSCLE SHOALS PLANT OUT DATED

Washington, D. C., Feb. 24.—(AP)—Congress was advised today by a fertilizer expert that the synthetic ammonia plant constructed at Muscle Shoals for manufacture of nitrate is obsolete and of no value.

In a report of hearings before a house appropriations committee. Dr. C. H. Kunsman, a research director for the agriculture department, said plant No. 1 at Muscle Shoals "probably never can be operated."

"The plant was built as a war measure before this country had developed the technique of nitrogen fixation by the direct synthetic process," Kunsman explained in answer to a committee question.

ROOSEVELT TO BE ON JOB IN CAPITAL TODAY

Expresses Sorrow at Ritchie's Death.

BULLETIN.

Hyde Park, N. Y., Feb. 25 (Tuesday).—(AP)—President Roosevelt left here tonight at 12:01 a. m. on a special train for Washington.

BY WALTER TROHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hyde Park, N. Y., Feb. 24.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt spent a quiet and restful day in his family home here today. Tomorrow he will be back at his desk in the White House to resume conferences with administration leaders on raising taxes for the soil conservation substitute for the outlawed AAA.

Mr. Roosevelt had planned to complete his tax program during his visit here, but with his visit cut short by the death of his cousin, Assistant Secretary of the Navy Henry Latrobe Roosevelt, the President put off the task until his return to the capitol. He will leave tonight with his portfolios on the tax question unopened.

Back at Capitol Today.

The President will be back at the White House tomorrow morning. He will attend funeral services for his cousin in St. John's Episcopal church and probably go to Arlington cemetery for the burial.

In the afternoon Mr. Roosevelt drove about his estate to inspect tree planting being carried out in coöperation with the state forestry school. The estate is sprinkled with Christmas trees of recent growth, some of which are to be cut and sold next yuletide.

At breakfast the President was notified of the death of former Gov. Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland, who like Al Smith had parted with the New Deal and joined the American Liberty league.

"In the death of Gov. Ritchie, Maryland has lost a distinguished citizen who for an unprecedented period rendered the state eminent service as its chief executive," he said. "I regret the passing of a very old friend."

Three Taxes to Pick from.

In the tax problem the President will have to choose among three proposals of raising funds for his continuance of farm subsidies. The first is an excise tax on farm commodities to continue the AAA processing taxes, the second is a manufacturers' sales tax and the third a reduction of income tax exemptions in the lower brackets.

No indication has been given as to where his choice is hovering. Mr. Roosevelt is expected to submit his program shortly. According to present plans he expects to go on his annual fishing cruise in Carribean waters about the middle of March and wishes to have the tax bill passed or well on its way through congress by that time.

SABATH DEMANDS INQUIRIES BY U. S. ON REALTY CASES

Also Asks Investigation by Bar Association.

The congressional committee headed by Representative A. J. Sabath [Dem., Ill.] which has been investigating real estate reorganizations throughout the country since 1934, yesterday sent nine letters to various federal officials in Chicago and to the Chicago Bar association directing attention to testimony taken by the committee. The letters asked that the testimony be made a basis for proceedings by the officials and the bar association.

They were signed by J. L. Tupy, Chicago investigator for the committee, in the name of Congressman Sabath, who is a Chicago lawyer. Tupy said that Sabath had directed the writing of the letters, but that they had not, to his knowledge, been discussed or authorized by the full committee.

Letters Sent to Officials.

Letters were addressed to United States Attorney Michael L. Igoe, L. H. Wilson, internal revenue agent in charge at Chicago, Walter Johnson, postoffice inspector in charge at Chicago, and the bar association.

Igoe, Wilson and Johnson were asked to investigate testimony before the committee regarding the reorganization of the 2920 Commonwealth Avenue Building on possible violation of mail statutes and failure to pay income taxes. Failure to pay income taxes, it is alleged in two other letters, was disclosed by testimony regarding reorganization of the Wells-Wacker Building corporation, owning the Engineering Building.

Mr. Igoe was also asked to investigate testimony regarding the bondholders protective committee for issues of the defunct American Bond and Mortgage company and also testimony regarding reorganization of the Patricia apartments, 4546 Magnolia avenue.

Three Attorneys Named.

The letters to the bar association asked investigation of the professional conduct of Attorneys W. W. Smith, Eli Herman and Jack M. Pritzker.

Mr. Igoe was out of the city yesterday. Other recipients of the letters were non-committal except to say that their offices always investigate complaints made to them. The bar association has a standing committee of inquiry which investigates all charges made against members of the bar.

INDIAN CLOSE COUSIN TO WHITE MAN, STUDY BY HRDLICKA FINDS

Washington, D. C., Feb. 24.—(AP)—Forty years of intensive research have convinced Dr. Ales Hrdlicka, Smithsonian institution anthropologist, that the American Indian physically is a closer cousin of the white man than is popularly supposed.

Dr. Hrdlicka today published results of his protracted study, contending more similarities than differences existed between the two races, and that the Indian was more like the white man than the Asiatic.

"These basic similarities speak convincingly on the one hand for the unity of the human species and on the other hand for a not-too-far-back separation of the white race and of that which became eventually the American Indian," he said, writing in the American Journal of Physical Anthropology.

Factory Worker Found Dead with Hand on Switch

John Petrasek, 29 years old, 68 West 147th street, Harvey, was found dead yesterday with his hand on an electric switch in the pickle packing plant of Libby, McNeil, and Libby in Blue Island, where he operated an electric crane. Dr. Earl Pronger, 2418 Burr Oak avenue, Blue Island, who examined Petrasek, said he apparently had been killed by an electric shock.

ASK HIGH COURT TO OUTLAW SLUM CLEARANCE PLAN

Washington, D. C. Feb. 24.—(AP)—Contending congress had "abdicated" and attempted to make President Roosevelt a "universal providence" by his powers to spend billions for relief, attorneys for a group of Louisville, Ky., landowners asked the Supreme court today to outlaw federal condemnation of land for low cost housing and slum clearance projects.

The 140 page printed argument was submitted in a test case scheduled for oral argument on March 2.

The Louisville landowners who won their case in both lower federal courts, asked the Supreme court to find that major emergency relief acts of this administration were unconstitutional.

"The National Industrial Recovery act and the Emergency Relief Appropriation act of 1935 together authorized the expenditure of $8,180,000,000," the court was told. "Broadly speaking, the President was authorized to take this amount of money and relieve the depression."

"There was no limit," the brief argued." . . . The administrator could have spent all the money on stratospheric baloons, and, if he deemed necessary, could condemn property all over the United States for landing fields."

SELF-INFLICTED WOUND FATAL.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Feb. 24.—[Special.]—Walter C. Harrison, 47, Schoolcraft farmer and descendant of the first settler of Kalamazoo county, died today of the effects of a self-inflicted gunshot wound.

You're better prepared for winter—if your general resistance is good!

Last winter did you have the experience of feeling fine until the very end of the season, and then coming down with some winter ill?

This happens to many people. They manage to get along for a few months on the reserve they stored up during the summer when they led a healthful, outdoor life. But they do nothing to replenish that reserve. The result is that by the end of winter, their general resistance is low.

One of the easiest, pleasantest aids is Adex. Each Adex capsule furnishes 6,600 units of the important factor which helps to build up general resistance, Vitamin A. In every capsule, you also get extra Vitamin D—1,320 units—to help make up for lack of sunshine at this season.

Start with Adex and keep it up regularly. That's how it benefits you most. Now at any good drug store. Made exclusively by E. R. Squibb & Sons, manufacturing chemists since 1858.

BRITAIN BEGINS WORLD DRIVE TO WIPE OUT WARS

Eden Bids All Nations to Join Security Policy.

said the British government had sought to lay the blame on the United States for making it impracticable to levy an oil sanction when "the real reason for the delay is that the British and French are playing with an alliance." He meant to convey the information that London and Paris were first taking stock of Premier Mussolini's value as an ally against Reichsfuehrer Hitler.

Eden declined to respond to the badgering and calmly suggested new peace talks between Italy and Ethiopia on a basis of the proposals of the league's committee of five last September.

Peace Scheme Recalled.

The committee of five's peace plan recommended:

FIRST—A scheme for international reorganization of Ethiopia under the auspices of the league with facilities for foreigners to participate in economic and industrial development.

SECOND—Territorial adjustments between Italy and Ethiopia, facilitated by a Franco-British offer to Ethiopia of a corridor to the Somaliland coast.

The plan was accepted by Ethiopia as a basis for negotiation, but was rejected by Italy.

Referring to the committee of five and its report, which, incidentally, Sir Samuel Hoare, former British foreign secretary, has always claimed was the basis of the ill fated Hoare-Laval peace proposals, Eden exclaimed: "Unfortunately this report was not at that time accepted by the Italian government." The inference was that it might be now.

Bids Foes to Make Peace.

Deploring the fact that it was necessary to use sanctions, the foreign secretary said he hoped the committee of five and its suggestions would not be forgotten. He added that he also hoped one or both belligerents would "soon avail itself of the machinery of the league." He ended this passage with the expression of an "eager desire to see a just peace reëstablished between Italy and Ethiopia."

Eden took the occasion to announce that the secret report of Sir John Maffey's commission, appointed last year "to study British interests in Ethiopia," was purloined in Paris through an "indiscretion or breach of confidence." The report was published last week in Italy.

The foreign secretary minimized its importance, and denied it proved any wavering or insincere policy of Britain toward Ethiopia and Italy. He sought to minimize the whole incident of the stolen document, but said active efforts were continuing to discover who is responsible.

[The secret British report said that Maffey's commission found no outstanding British interests in Ethiopia "of sufficient importance to justify his majesty's government in resisting Italian conquest in Ethiopia."]

Several hours after Eden's speech, the house approved supplementary estimates for Britain's fighting services, totaling about $39,055,000. Labor amendments urging their reduction were defeated by large margins.

Reveal Rearmament Details.

During the debate on military appropriations, Lord Stanley, financial secretary of the admiralty, disclosed that Britain is building a new destroyer flotilla of seven vessels of 1,850 tons each. The combined cost will be the same as for nine destroyers of 1,350 tons each originally provided for in the 1935 program. Stanley blamed the United States, France, Germany, Italy, and Japan, all of which he said had destroyers ranging between 1,600 and 2,000 tons, for the British government's decision to build larger ships.

Before the house met, final details of Britain's billion and a half dollar rearmament program were agreed upon by the cabinet. Additional information leaking out regarding the scope and extent of the new program indicated it will be larger and costlier than most statesmen had anticipated. The empire will be treated as a single unit and rearmed accordingly.

During the next few weeks the government will approach the trade unions to propose a three year industrial truce so that all heavy industries can concentrate on the rush to put out new battleships, tanks, big guns, and high speed fighting planes.

Government experts have drawn up plans for a complete chain of air defense stations across southern England. These include provisions for radio detectors, intensive searchlight apparatus, and quick firing anti-aircraft guns.

An elaborate "alarm" system, possibly with the coöperation of the continental countries, will be devised so that precautions may be taken immediately to meet the threat of the swiftest attacking planes.

Ras Imru, cousin of Emperor Haile Selassie and governor of Gojjam province, commanded the defending forces which the government said killed 412 Italians, destroyed 15 bomb depots and captured 30 tanks in a raid on an Italian fort 15 miles south of the Mareb river near the holy city of Aksum.

An unspecified number of trucks, artillery, rifles, quantities of ammunition and provisions were seized by the Ethiopians.

DE VALERA READY TO JOIN BRITISH DEFENSE SCHEME

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, Feb. 24.—(AP)—President Eamon de Valera expressed belief today it would not be difficult for the Irish Free State to reach an agreement on defense with the British government.

"An independent Ireland will never allow itself to be used as a base for an attack against the United Kingdom if the major Anglo-Irish questions are settled," he asserted.

The British, De Valera added, must recognize the right of the Irish not only to determine their form of government but also their relations with the United Kingdom.

"If the land annuities dispute is settled we are prepared to make comprehensive trade agreements provided they do not interfere with the industrial development of Ireland," he said. "One of the tasks of the near future will be to make the constitution conform to the wishes of the Irish. Everything depends on the attitude of the British government. There has been no lack of good will on the Irish side."

Writ Against School Board Is Denied in Pension Fight

Judge Harry B. Miller of the Superior court yesterday denied a petition for an injunction to restrain the board of education from lowering the emeritus annuity paid to retired school teachers. Formerly teachers retiring at the age of 65 after thirty-five years' service received $1,500 from the board's educational fund and $1,000 from the teachers' pension fund. The annuity has been reduced to $500 and the pension raised to $1,200, placing the present retirement sum at $1,700 a year. The petition denied yesterday was brought in behalf of Chester C. Dodge, 125 North Sacramento boulevard, and 949 other recently retired teachers.

BRITON ASSERTS U. S. IS STRONGER THAN DURING WAR

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, Feb. 24.—"The United States is infinitely stronger today than at any time during her participation in the world war," Sir Austen Chamberlain declared in discussing world affairs tonight at the annual banquet of the Birmingham Chamber of Commerce.

"That causes us no anxiety," Chamberlain added. "I think I speak the mind of every Englishman when saying the stronger the United States is, the better we are pleased. For whatever the differences between England and the United States, there will never be war between them. I believe that as the United States grows in power, the common roots of history and tradition in Britain and America and our faith and morals will inevitably bloom."

Sir Austen said the aspect of the world at present is not reassuring and on every side there is fear, suspicion, and anxiety.

KING'S ADVISER SAYS SELASSIE WILL WIN WAR

Ethiopia will emerge victorious from her present conflict with Italy, said Josef Israels, a war correspondent who became King Haile Selassie's publicity man, in an address yesterday before the Chicago Council of Foreign Relations in the Palmer house.

"Because natural conditions of the battle ground favor Ethiopia, and because Italy will be greatly hampered by economic conditions at home, Italy is facing ultimate defeat," said Israels, who returned recently after spending six months on war fronts.

"Faced by six months' inactivity because of the coming rainy season, Italy will have no victories to report and Fascists will have to bolster the situation with propaganda," said the correspondent. "In addition, her financial resources are low, because the people have been bled by taxes and the country's credit is ruined, not only by league of nations sanctions, but because bankers are unwilling to loan Italy money."

Israels predicted that when Italy is forced by heavy rains to "dig in" for the summer, she will offer acceptable peace terms to Ethiopia.

If a Cold STRIKES.. Apply Vicks VapoRub At Bedtime...

Often by morning

The Worst of the Cold is Over

There's good reason why Vicks VapoRub helps to end colds quicker. Just rubbed on throat and chest at bedtime, VapoRub acts direct—two ways at once:

(1) By stimulation through the skin, like a poultice or plaster. (2) By inhalation of its penetrating medicated vapors, released by body heat and breathed in direct to irritated air-passages.

During the night, this combined poultice-vapor action loosens phlegm—soothes irritated membranes—eases difficult breathing—helps break congestion. Often, by morning the worst of the cold is over.

VapoRub is effective—external—and safe! It avoids the risks of constant internal dosing so often upsetting to delicate digestions. Such upsets rob little folks of appetite and thus lower body strength when it is most needed to resist disease. VapoRub can be used freely, and as often as needed, even on the youngest child.

COMMON-SENSE ECONOMY

More people depend on Vicks VapoRub for the prompt relief of colds than on any other remedy in the world. That simple statement of fact should be doubly important to mothers—as guardians of the family health and the family pocket-book. For such outstanding leadership, continuing for two generations, can only be based on outstanding merit. And, in medicines especially, the one that gives you the most in results is also the most economical.

BEST FOR CHILDREN'S COLDS — VICKS VAPORUB — JUST AS GOOD FOR ADULTS, TOO

A FARMER WRITES AN "AD" ABOUT Double-Mellow OLD GOLDS!

Scio, New York
November 16, 1935.

P. Lorillard Company, Inc.,
119 West 40th Street,
New York City, N.Y.

Gentlemen:

I am an old man who knows what he likes. A hill farmer is a stubborn cuss, and when he takes to cigarettes when he's well gone by 60 years, he has good reasons for wanting those cigarettes. And for some time now I haven't touched any smoking but OLD GOLDS.

My brother's son got me on cigarettes, but the ones he gave me seemed too quick-burning. One day our general storekeeper stood me one of those Double-Mellow OLD GOLDS, made of prize crop tobaccos. And I had my first cigarette that burnt as slow and cool as my pipe, and that didn't leave a man's tongue stinging and biting like that other cigarette brand.

I've bought Double-Mellow OLD GOLDS ever since, and every pack has been the same. I know, because I'm blind, and we without eyes learn to taste and feel better than you who see.

Yours truly,

Jerry Hurley

P.S. My 16 year old niece, Betty, has typed this for me, just as I told it to her. The snapshot was taken by Betty's father.

DOUBLE-MONEY-BACK OFFER

as made to smokers since October 6, 1935

TAKE a sporting chance on a pack of Double-Mellow Old Golds. Smoke ten of the cigarettes. If you don't say they're the finest you've ever tasted, mail the package wrapper and the remaining ten cigarettes to us, any time before May 1, 1936, and we'll send you double the price you paid for the full package, plus postage.

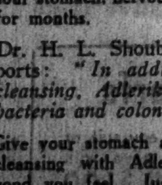
BLOATED ALL THE TIME, CAN'T EAT OR SLEEP



"The gas on my stomach was so bad I could not eat or sleep. Even my heart hurt. A friend suggested Adlerika. The first dose I took brought me relief. Now I eat as I wish, sleep fine and never felt better."—Mrs. Jas. Filler.

Adlerika acts on BOTH upper and lower bowels while ordinary laxatives act on the lower bowel only. Adlerika gives your system a thorough cleansing, bringing out old, poisonous matter that you would not believe was in your system and that has been causing gas pains, sour stomach, nervousness and headaches for months.

Give your stomach and bowels a REAL cleansing with Adlerika and see how good you feel. Just one spoonful relieves GAS and chronic constipation. Sold by all druggists and drug departments.

ITALIANS BLOCK NAVY PACT; RUIN OF PARLEY SEEN

Fascists Use Sanctions as Lever in Maneuvers.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 24.—The European political embroilment gave further indications tonight of wrecking the possibility of reaching a four power agreement for a qualitative restriction of naval armaments.

Admiral Ranieri Biscia, senior Italian delegate, returned to London after consulting Premier Mussolini in Rome, and conferred for three hours with Viscount Monsell, first lord of the admiralty and chairman of the naval conference, and the other British delegates.

The upshot is that the Italians are now taking the lead in raising last minute objections to 35,000 ton battleships. With two 35,000 ton capital ships on the stocks, which will be the latest and most modern of their type in the world, the Italians declare they want to keep the limit well below 35,000 tons.

Italy Points to Sanctions.

They made it known to the British they were, as a matter of fact, indifferent to this conference generally. They further intimated their position was anomalous anyway with fifty-two nations submitting them to an economic blockade.

Mussolini's men apparently are maneuvering to stall on signing anything that Great Britain wants signed until they see what is the outcome of the sanctions discussions next week at Geneva. The remarkably mild speech of Capt. Anthony Eden, British foreign secretary, and his silence on the sanctions policy before the house of commons was seen as having connection with the Italian move.

The Italian obduracy has the backing of the French. The Paris delegates still want to bargain all they can over the naval accord. Their main regret is that this conference did not come up last October when Britain was insisting on a straight answer in reply to a request for French aid in the event the British fleet was attacked by Italy in the Mediterranean.

ROME, Feb. 24.—Following a meeting between Premier Mussolini and the German ambassador, Ulrich von Hassel, who has just returned from Berlin after a series of conferences with Reichsfuehrer Hitler, Rome today was full of rumors of a five-power agreement, supposedly in discussion among Italy, Germany, Poland, Austria and Hungary, to counter balance the Franco-Russian pact.

Mussolini, according to these reports, is so angry at France for her failure to support him adequately at Geneva and elsewhere in his East African venture that he is preparing to cast his lot definitly with Germany and to denounce both the Locarno pact and the accord he reached on Jan. 7, 1935, with the then Premier Laval of France.

[Under the Locarno treaty Great Britain, France, Belgium, Germany and Italy pledged mutual support. It was provided that if France, Belgium or Germany unjustifiedly attacked each other the remaining signatories would go to the aid of the nation attacked. This was intended to guarantee, mutually, the inviolability of the German-Belgian and German-French frontiers as fixed by the treaty of Versailles.]

A half-hearted blanket denial of all these rumors has been issued in Rome. It is so framed, however, as to give the impression that there may be more in the rumors than the Italian government is ready to acknowledge at present.

Fear Franco-Soviet Pact.

All things considered, it cannot be doubted that something is afoot among Italy, Germany, Poland, Austria and Hungary, although it is not yet clear exactly what.

It is thought Germany is seriously alarmed by the Franco-soviet pact and is gradually coming around to the view that she cannot rely on Great Britain for help in the event of a conflict with France. Mussolini, on the other hand, is losing confidence in France, and may soon find himself obliged to make friends again with Germany if sanctions are rendered so severe as to interfere with his plans in East Africa.

MRS. AURELIA BLAKESLEE.
[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Mrs. Aurelia Blakeslee will celebrate her 100th birthday today in her home at 821 Virginia street, Crystal Lake. On Sunday she was presented with a birthday cake by officials of the Hotel Sherman in recognition of her services to the old Sherman house in the great fire of 1871. Yesterday Mrs. Blakeslee recalled the disaster.

"My husband and I were walking along Randolph street," she related, "when the great bell in the courthouse across the street from the hotel began to clang its warning of fire. Suddenly out of hundreds of windows of the hotel burst the furious flames, fanned by a shift in the wind. Just then Mr. Pierce, who was manager of the hotel, ran out with valuable papers and records and intrusted them to me because he and my husband were close friends."

Born on a farm at Southington, Conn., Mrs. Blakeslee came to Chicago as a bride in 1856. Her husband died several years ago.

FINDS MATERIAL THAT MAKES SHIPS PROOF AGAINST EXPLOSIVES

Stamford, Conn., Feb. 24.—(AP)—Lester P. Barlow, Stamford inventor, said today he had devised a material possessing shock absorbing characteristics which would make warships virtually immune to explosives.

Barlow, inventor of a type of depth bomb used in the world war, declined to disclose the nature of the material, but said its use had been suggested to him by one of the leading chemists in the United States.

Data on the material, Barlow said, had been submitted to Republican and Democratic members of congress with the proposal that a commission be named to study its possibilities in naval construction.

The material, Barlow said, would "make possible utilization on marine vessels of armament comparable to that used by the United States coast defense on land and increase by 10 miles the gunfire range of present modern battleships."

Barlow said construction of battleships 1,500 feet long would be possible with the material as against the present length of 500 to 600 feet.

FRANCE GUARDS AGAINST REVOLT IN NORTH AFRICA

New Police Force to Fight Unrest in Colonies.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Feb. 24.—France today took measures to prevent the unrest in Egypt and in her own protectorate, Syria, from spreading to her North African colonies.

The "high Mediterranean commission," which has been meeting for several days, decided to create a new police and spy organization in the North African colonies for the purposes of choking any revolt there at its inception.

Premier Presides at Session.

The high Mediterranean commission's meeting was presided over by Premier Albert Sarraut and was attended by Pierre-Etienne Flandin, foreign minister; Jacques Stern, minister of colonies; Rene Doynel Saint-Quentin of the ministry of foreign affairs; M. Lebeau, governor general of Algeria; M. Peyrniton, French resident general of Tunisia, and Henri Ponsot, French resident general of Morocco.

The commission studied the colonial situation with special regard to Syria and the recent student riots before the Grand Mosque in Tunis. Thereupon, it issued a communique saying:

"The commission adopted a series of measures tending to arrange the liaison necessary between the three countries of North Africa among themselves and in relation to France, and furthermore to establish a social and economic program for the purpose of being studied until the next meeting on March 25."

To Seize Legislators.

The allusion to the "necessary liaison" means the creation of a general police organization for Morocco, Tunisia, and Algeria. The new organization is expected to facilitate ferreting out the trouble makers who at present pass too easily from one country to another.

The latter half of the communique dealt with the economic troubles of the North African colonies. These troubles have been blamed for all unrest there. Ever since the Syrians rose against France, the Paris press has been full of economic explanations. Even the United States has been blamed for not accepting Syrian emigrants any more.

FRANCE PLANS TO MODERNIZE HER HOME DEFENSES

PARIS, Feb. 24.—(AP)—The French war council announced tonight it is studying a program designed to modernize home defenses during 1936 and following years.

Gen. Louis Felix Maurin, minister of war, told the cabinet he was well pleased with the forces along the Ger-

"The absence of the usual contributions from Syrian emigrants to the United States to the mother country contributed to the economic distress which in turn caused the present unrest."

BOSSES ORDERED TO REHIRE SPAIN'S FREED PRISONERS

Decree Affects 100,000 Rebel Workers.

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MADRID, Spain, Feb. 24.—Spain advanced another step along the road which the Leftists now are convinced can only end in the establishment of a soviet republic when the government today ordered private employers to take back immediately all the workers discharged after the insurrection in October, 1934.

Among these workers are the 30,000 imprisoned revolutionaries who were freed by Friday's amnesty, but there also are thousands of railway, tramway, electricity, and other workers throughout Spain who were never arrested but who lost their jobs for participating in general strikes. The total number is estimated to be close to 100,000.

Demand Back Salary.

Apart from the obvious repercussions on Spanish economy of a measure which obliges the employers of the nation to take on 100,000 workers whether they want them or not—the question is further complicated by the workers' demand for back salary and the necessity of discharging thousands of other workers to make places for the returning revolutionaries—the government's decision has a great political importance as showing where the real power in this country lies.

For Manuel Azana, the new premier, there is little choice since the reinstatement of all revolutionary workers was a part of his electoral pact with the Socialists and Communists, but the reactions of the Spanish capitalists and Conservatives to a measure which they denounce as a premium to rebellion is highly significant.

In their eagerness to facilitate the task of Azana, whom they regard as the last bulwark against bolshevism, the responsible heads of Spanish industry, organized in the Spanish Chamber of Commerce and the National Employers' association, today issued statements recommending that businessmen throughout the nation reinstate the workers at once and not wait for the government to back its order with legal penalties. As far as can be judged, private industry, terrified as it is at the prospect of a real red revolution, is losing no time in acting on the recommendations.

Socialists Lie Low.

This development, together with other indications, seems to clarify pretty well the political situation in Spain. Last week, immediately after the Left victory in the elections, it was feared the red masses might seize power by direct action. Premier Azana's first official act, however, has shown he intends to maintain order at all costs and that he remains what he always was—a constitutional liberal who believes in social progress but not revolution.

The Socialists and Communists, for their part, have ordered their followers to lie low and avoid making trouble. The order has been pretty well obeyed, although a dozen or more men were killed in disturbances last week and six were killed in small political ructions throughout Spain in the last twenty-four hours alone.

These scattered disturbances, however, are not the real drama of this country. There is no question of a general uprising for the moment. The Socialists and Communists have only one desire—to utilize the present favorable situation to spread propaganda among the masses and thus to prepare the real Spanish revolution which, for both parties, has one single goal—an integral soviet republic.

Conservatives know this and, having abandoned all hope in Fascism, monarchism and Christian Socialism, are now preparing to back Premier Azana in maintaining a liberal capitalistic republic. Both the Right and the extreme Left are convinced that eventually Azana will have to ask the aid of the Conservatives in suppressing the Left. When that moment comes, Spain will have a bloody revolution.

RUSSIA PINS MEDALS ON MILKMAIDS; RAISED MILK YIELD OF COWS

Many were awarded Lenin's decoration, the highest honor the nation can confer. These had obtained 3,500 liters [925 gallons] or more from a single cow in one year.

Poultrymen who obtained an average of 165 eggs from one hen, pig breeders who got more than six pigs from one sow, cattle raisers and horse breeders also were decorated, a total of 1,373 awards being made.

THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE FOR NATURAL "BULK"

Needed to Correct Constipation*

Most people recognize the seriousness of constipation. But too often they dose themselves with strong cathartics that often actually lead to chronic constipation.

The natural way to check common constipation is to correct the condition which causes it—usually, insufficient "bulk" in meals.

How can you get "bulk"? Fruits and vegetables have some. Bran has more. The most popular product of this kind is Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is gentle in action. ALL-BRAN also supplies vitamin B and iron.

This delicious cereal is a wholesome food. Serve ALL-BRAN regularly for regularity, with milk or cream—or use in cooking.

Two tablespoonfuls of ALL-BRAN daily will usually correct constipation due to insufficient "bulk." If not relieved, see your doctor.

ALL-BRAN gives you gentle internal exercise. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

There's a Difference in ASPIRIN

● Contrary to popular belief, all brands of aspirin are not alike. You should know these facts about St. Joseph Aspirin so that you can always be sure of getting genuine pure aspirin.

1. ST. JOSEPH PURITY Exceeds Government Standards by Approximately 75%

The head of one of the nation's leading firms of industrial chemists, after making comparative laboratory tests, said "St. Joseph is the purest aspirin I have encountered on the market in tablet form." In fact St. Joseph Aspirin exceeds the U. S. Government standards of purity by about 75%.

2. ST. JOSEPH ASPIRIN Gives You Exact 5-Grain Dosage in Each Tablet

Laboratory tests and comparisons for scientific accuracy have further revealed the fact that St. Joseph Aspirin is one of the few that bring you the exact dosage. When the statement is made that you get 12, 5-grain tablets of St. Joseph Aspirin for 10c, you really get exactly 5 grains of aspirin in each tablet.

3. ST. JOSEPH ASPIRIN is Protected by Moisture-Proof Cellophane Wrap

To further safeguard St. Joseph Aspirin, its makers carefully wrap each package in moisture-proof Cellophane, thereby providing an extra measure of protection for your safety and comfort.

4. ST. JOSEPH is a Nationally Known Aspirin at a Nationally Popular 10c Price

Because St. Joseph Aspirin is genuine and pure, so fully effective for the relief of pain and colds and because it is so economically priced at 10c, it is risky to pay less for unknown brands and unnecessary to pay more for higher-priced brands.

REVEAL U.S. PROBE OF NATIONALISTS IN PORTO RICO

Police Official's Slaying Laid to Plot.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Feb. 24.—(AP)—An investigation into activities of Nationalists against the "Yankee domination" of Porto Rico has been made by two agents of the United States department of justice, it was reported today as insular officials began their own probe of the latest disorders. The department of justice agents departed for Washington to report shortly before the assassinations of two police officials yesterday.

COL. E. FRANCIS RIGGS.

Nationalists, led by Pedro Albizu Campos, lawyer and Harvard graduate, have urged voters not to register for next fall's election. They want independence from the United States.

Charge Long Laid Plot.

Police said the killing of Col. E. Francis Riggs, chief of insular police, and of a district police chief yesterday came after a long laid plot. Riggs, 48 years old, was a former United States army officer. His body lies in state at police headquarters. At 10 a. m. tomorrow it will be taken to the cathedral for a requiem mass. Burial will be strictly private. Mrs. Riggs arrived today from the United States.

Elias Beauchamp and Hiram Rosado, youths who killed Riggs, and later were killed by police, were buried this afternoon.

Gov. Blanton Winship said he had talked with Riggs only a few hours before the assassination regarding Nationalist activities and was told that police at the time did not have adequate evidence to proceed against them on charges of violating the law. The governor indicated Riggs did not want to act hurriedly in fear of making "a Sandino" out of Albizu Campos.

Probe Leaders' Acts.

Francisco Velez Ortiz, a district police chief, was fatally wounded in trying to quell a Nationalist riot in a café at Utuado. The probe into the killings will include activities of Albizu Campos as well as those of other leaders of the party. Police officials said the leader "preached violence."

Nationalists countered with the announcement that they were making an investigation into the killing by police of Riggs' slayers. Island newspapers condemned the police action as well as the killing of Riggs.

EWING S. RIXSON, CHICAGO NATIVE, HELD IN FINLAND

Charged with Offenses Against Girls.

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Feb. 24.—The criminal investigation department has detained in custody Ewing S. Rixson, former Chicagoan. Since December, 1933, he has been residing here without occupation. He is well connected in the social circles of the American and British colonies.

The police refrain from stating the nature of the allegations against Rixson before his trial which it was announced will be held in Camera. It was learned, however, in authoritative quarters that Rixson will be charged with offences against girls under age.

Wife Lives in London.

Rixson is married, though his wife is said to live in London. For many years he traveled in various countries before settling here. He states his foreign address is the Australia house, London.

Rixson's detention has aroused extrordinary attention because he is well though of, has entertained lavishly and spent money freely. He published a much talked of novel here and instituted university prizes for English compositions.

NOT HERE FOR 20 YEARS.

Ewing S. Rixson, who is under arrest in Helsingfors, Finland, is the son of Mrs. Mary Ewing Rixson, a resident of New Jersey, who is president of the Oscar C. Rixson company, hardware manufacturers of Chicago. The plant is at 4450 Carroll avenue.

Mrs. Rixson is the widow of Oscar C. Rixson, founder of the Chicago company, who died in 1922. According to Chicago officials of the firm, Ewing S. Rixson is a small stockholder in the Rixson company, and, so far as could be learned, has not been in this city for about twenty years. He was born in Chicago in 1897, was educated in the Chicago public schools and attended Northwestern university.

WHITE TIE, TAILS O. K.'ED FOR NAZI EVENING DRESS

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

BERLIN, Feb. 24.—The white tie and swallowtail full dress suit have been rehabilitated in the Third reich as something the well dressed "racial comrade" may wear in the evening. This rehabilitation is backed by no less an authority than Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels, propaganda minister, who addressed 200 National Socialist propaganda directors assembled in national convention at Munich today to receive instructions for Naziism's sixteenth year.

During the National Socialist struggle for power the swallowtail coat was denounced, together with champagne, rouge and smoking by women, as something for corrupt "Marxist politicians" only.

Rouge and smoking for women have long since been rehabilitated also by pronouncement of Dr. Goebbels. Champagne drinking has been encouraged by lowering the tax on it and last year exceeded all previous records.

RED COURIER, 21, GETS 14 YEARS IN GERMAN PRISON

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Feb. 24.—Hans Schlag, a 21 year old communist, was sentenced to fourteen years in prison and lifelong control by the police for acting as a communistic courier of the so-called "Red big three."

The public prosecutor of the Berlin People's court had demanded a sentence of only eight years. Schlag is the son of a communist deputy in the Baden diet who is in a concentration camp. His mother and three other sons have been inmates of a home for the destitute.

Schlag was charged with smuggling communist propaganda material from Czechoslovakia into Germany on a bicycle.

By Frank Ridgway

Cold Costs in Feed

February 24, 1936.

PROLONGED cold weather has cost the Tribune Yorkville experimental farm the equivalent of twelve 1,000 pound steers. Four hundred whitefaced steers "burnt" up many tons of feed keeping warm while the thermometer registered below zero. Moderation of the weather is giving them a chance to start making normal gains again.

Men at the farm estimate conservatively that during the last month of extremely cold weather the three lots of steers have lost a total of approximately 12,000 pounds, or an average of 30 pounds per steer, by making only about half their normal gain of two pounds a day.

One reason for the poor gains was the fact that the steers refused to drink their usual amount of water on cold days, though the water was kept warm for them by coal heaters built into the watering tanks, according to the farm manager. He says that steers never make satisfactory gains unless they drink plenty of water.

The silage in the big 80 foot concrete silo at the Yorkville farm is frozen to a thickness of 14 inches around the edges. The men have been chopping some of the frozen silage out with hatchets and spades and mixing it with the other silage taken from inside the frozen ring. The cattle eat the frozen silage when mixed in this manner with no ill effects. There are about 200 tons of silage left in the silo. The farm manager plans to feed it all to the steers before the part that is frozen has time to spoil after it thaws. It is now being fed at the rate of three tons per day to the bunch of 202 steers.

The 60 bred ewes at the Yorkville place have come through the rough weather in good shape. They are being fed mixed alfalfa and timothy hay and small amounts of soy bean hay. Rock salt is kept before them at all times. They will be given oats for about the last two weeks before they start dropping lambs. Forty-six of the ewes should start lambing about March 10 and the other 14 about April 1.

Jealousy, just plain jealousy, was the word used today by the Tribune Wheaton farm mule driver in telling about the trouble he has been having in the mule barn this week. It began last Wednesday when the mule naming committee went to the farm to rechristen the new mule, now answering to the name of Muletta. Jen, the odd mule at the farm, had liked her new teammate so long as she was known as Kate. But when she was given the aristocratic name of Muletta and got her picture printed in THE TRIBUNE, that was too much for the jealous heart of Jen. She was unhappy about it and said so in mule language, enviously braying out the word Muletta and nipping at Muletta's neck every time they were snapped to the neck yoke.

All is quiet in the mule barn today. The mule naming committee gave Jen a new highfalutin name, Mulina.

CATHOLICS HEAR GERMANY PLANS TO FREE PRELATE

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Feb. 24.—A wave of hope swept through Catholic circles today as a rumor spread that Prelate Dr. Banasch will be released from prison tomorrow. It was reported the prelate will secure his release on the strength of an understanding reached by a representative of the holy see and the German foreign office based on the historical example given by Bismarck after his famous "Kulturkampf" with the Catholics.

Banasch, who is head of the press department in the office of the Catholic bishop of Berlin, was arrested on a charge of conveying secret information of the affairs of the secret police to a "foreign power," meaning the Vatican. Catholics now assert that after long negotiations Adolf Hitler's government agreed to adopt Bismarck's viewpoint that the pope is not to be considered as a foreign power.

Accused of "High Treason."

Members of the acting board of directors of the Confessional [Protestant] church, which is fighting for "freedom of creed," were revealed today. The board was appointed by the Confessional synod at its conference at Bad Oeynhausen last week. The board includes the Rev. Fritz Mueller of Dahlem, the Rev. Hans Boehm of Machnow, and Supt. Martin Alberts of Spandau, near Berlin. All are closely associated with the Rev. Martin Niemoeller, militant leader of the Confessional group and former submarine commander.

In a resolution the pastors agreed to recognize only the directors nominated by the church itself—not by the government authorities. Therefore they rejected church committees appointed by Hans Kerrl, Nazi minister of church affairs.

Hit at Nazi Chief's Choice.

The synod refrained from appointing a complete new church administration in place of Kerrl's church committees because the state churches of Bavaria, Wuerttemberg and Hanover still have their own organizations. They were left untouched by Kerrl.

In another resolution the Confessional pastors insisted on the right of the church to direct the education of the children of their congregations.

Vatican Probes "Heahenism."

VIENNA, Feb. 24.—(AP)—The newspaper Reichspost stated today that the Roman Catholic church, in a private report from the Vatican to Vienna Catholic newspapers, had given a broad hint that the official recognition of "heathenism" in Germany might be regarded as a violation of the concordat with the Vatican.

The newspaper said that the papal nuncio in Berlin had been instructed to investigate reports that heathenism had been given a standing of equality with the Christian sects in Germany and that the phrase "German faith" was being entered as the religion on the passports and other documents of individuals.

First Parade Held

New Orleans, La., Feb. 24.—(AP)—The streets of old New Orleans echoed the merriment of thousands tonight as the city approached the climax of its historic Mardi Gras.

Until the clock strikes midnight Tuesday, marking the end of the carnival season and the beginning of Lent, New Orleans' 500,000 pleasure-bent citizens and their 100,000 guests can do about as they please.

The carnival season opened Jan. 6 with the first of a long series of exclusive balls and has progressed with marked crescendo.

Tonight thousands jammed into every nook and corner of the downtown district for the first of the major street pageants—the parade of Proteus, sovereign of the sea.

Four Polar-Grizzly Cubs Born at Washington Zoo

Washington, D. C., Feb. 24.—(AP)—The capital's zoo today claimed a biological oddity, four bear cubs which are the cross-breed of a Polar father and a Kadiak mother. The cubs, tiny silver gray animals, are the second litter born at the zoo, a previous pair having lived only a few days.

GERMANY SUES FRENCH PAPER ON "HITLER'S LOVES"

PARIS, Feb. 24.—(AP)—The German government filed a suit today in French courts against the newspaper Le Journal for publishing what it called revelations of Reichsfuehrer Hitler's love life. The suit, brought through the French foreign office, was based on the law of 1883 regarding insults to foreign leaders.

The national federation of French newspapers, in a statement, charged French authorities with violating the freedom of the press in seizing the issue of Le Journal, which contained the statements regarding Hitler.

Suppress Hitler Party, Demand of Czech Papers

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Feb. 24.—(AP)—A number of Czech newspapers indignantly demanded today the immediate dissolution of the German Sudenten [Nazi] party. Their wrath was aroused by a speech here yesterday by Konrad Henlein, Sudenten leader, in which he advanced a number of demands, including one that Jews be purged from Czech universities and literary and stage life and that the party be allowed an independent broadcasting station.

REPORT LIGGETT JURORS WARNED TO ACQUIT CANN

Grand Jury Asks Police Investigation.

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 24.—[Special.]—Sensational disclosures today attended this city's entrance into a week's campaign designed to improve its municipal government.

Reports that members of the jury panel from which were drawn the four women and eight men who acquitted Isadore [Kid Cann] Blumenfeld for the murder of Walter Liggett were warned to "vote for acquittal if you get on that jury" were being investigated. A plot to tamper with the county grand jury and block its campaign against laxity in law enforcement was disclosed. Charges were made placing responsibility for lawlessness directly at the door of Mayor Thomas E. Latimer.

Jurors Ask an Inquiry.

The investigation of the Cann jury was being made by police at the request of grand jury members. The threats were conveyed by telephone, it was reported. Whether the 12 jurors actually selected after examination of more than 100 talesmen were the recipients of the threats was what the jury wanted to find out.

Cann was acquitted Feb. 18 of first degree murder charges in the weekly newspaper editor's murder. The jury returned a verdict four hours after it had been out. Principal witnesses against Cann were Mrs. Edith Liggett, widow of the slain man, and a salesman, both of whom named Cann as the gunman who killed Liggett Dec. 9.

The alleged jury tampering efforts were in connection with the voting last week of preliminary true bills charging two police captains with willful neglect of duty. The indictments are scheduled for final action tomorrow. Anonymous telephone calls over the week-end received by at least six members of the jury urged them to reconsider the bills against the captains, William Forby and Frank Brunnskill, the latter a former police chief.

Consider More Charges.

It was understood today, however, that the indictments will stand and that charges against from three to five other city officials are being considered.

The charges against the mayor, sharply denied by him, came from Dr. R. N. Holsaple, superintendent of the Minnesota Anti-Saloon league, and Rev. George Mecklenburg, pastor of the Wesley Methodist Episcopal church. Assertions were made the law was being flouted by liquor dealers, vice purveyors, and others. Holsaple declared flatly that the mayor would not permit police to enforce the law.

Trial of criminal libel charges brought by Mrs. Edith Liggett against Henry Tiegan, editor of the Minnesota Leader, Farmer-Labor newspaper, was deferred until May. The charges were an outgrowth of an article in which the Leader attacked Liggett after his murder.

JEWISH FAMILIES QUIT SAAR TO ESCAPE NAZI DEADLINE ON MARCH 1

BERLIN, Feb. 24.—(AP)—With Nazi anti-semitic legislation going into effect in the Saar March 1, the last Jewish families intending to leave the territory had emigrated today.

About 500 Jewish families, consisting chiefly of artisans and laborers, are remaining because of inability to secure residence permits from the French authorities.

When the Reich took over the Saar last year it guaranteed protection of minority rights and permission to export capital from the territory until March 1, 1936.

Arline Judge, appearing in "It Had To Happen," the new 20th Century-Fox picture, seems to have practically buried Andrew Tombes in the seat when she started up that neat roadster of hers. Standard's new winter gasoline does have unexpectedly fast-starting ways!

Of course no gasoline will make a car take you right out from under your toupee on the start-off. But there is one—the new Standard Red Crown—that goes into action quicker, these winter days, than anything you've ever known before.

Standard engineers designed this new Red Crown to give summer performance in winter weather, and it does just that. It catches hold at the first flash of the spark—and it keeps hold! No balking and sputtering—no time wasted, no gasoline wasted with heavy choking. Its 35% faster warm-up at zero means a big saving in winter gasoline mileage.

"The Newspaper is an institution developed by modern civilization to present the news of the day, to foster commerce and industry, to inform and lead public opinion, and to furnish that check upon government which no constitution has ever been able to provide."—Chicago Tribune.

HEDGING AGAINST INFLATION.

Certainly one explanation—not the only one, but an important one—for the rising stock market has been the fear of inflation. Big and little investors are trying to buy securities which will increase in value and in yield as any decline in the purchasing power of the dollar occurs.

For several years, now, the search for a means of hedging against inflation has been a principal activity of men and women with savings to protect. In a sense this preoccupation is misdirected. The only threat of inflation comes from the government. If the budget were balanced by eliminating the wasteful expenditures, and if the possibility of further devaluation of the dollar were removed by congressional act, the danger of inflation would vanish. It is far from certain that any scheme for hedging against the risk will work, but there is a certain means of eliminating the risk itself. The preventive is to be found in political action. The way to remove the danger is to replace a Democratic President and Democratic congressmen with a Republican President and Republican congressmen. It is as simple as that.

Something has happened to the American citizen in the last forty years. He seems to have lost something of his former capacity for political action. When currency stability was endangered in '96 the ordinary man, if he disliked the prospect, did not devote all or most of his energy to scheming out a means of hedging. Perhaps he suspected that, no matter how clever his schemes might be, they would still fail to save him if only because a shrinking of working capital and the resultant disorganization of business would defeat his plans. Instead of devoting the greater part of his energies to trying to save himself from the debacle which threatened everybody, he had the good sense to join with others in political action by which the catastrophe might be averted.

That worked. The shrewdest hedge against inflation cannot work as well.

THE BRITISH STAKE IN ETHIOPIA.

A leak in the British foreign office is supposed to have put the Italians in possession of the report on British interests in Ethiopia made by Sir John Maffey's commission last year. The Italian press made a great deal of the disclosures and the British took it very placidly. If some miscreant raided the files to get this document the prowling did not seem to disturb the British temper. One might suspect that the foreign office took this way of getting the report published for reasons which may appear later.

Although Mr. Eden as foreign minister is still directing a policy in keeping with the league of nations' declarations against aggression, there are indications that the government may drop these proceedings and become realistic in recognizing Italy's pretensions to a large part of Haile Selassie's kingdom. The Maffey report discusses what Great Britain would require if Italy absorbed Ethiopian territory.

Although the report says that no vital British interests exist in Ethiopia sufficient to oblige the government to resist Italian conquest, there are some things which would require attention. The British would need the territory about Lake Tsana. They would need a corridor joining the lake to the Sudan and the recommendation is to safeguard interests relative to other Nile tributaries coming from Ethiopia. Then there are some tribes protected by Great Britain which would need pasturage in Ethiopia and it should be secured either by annexation or by agreement with Italy, annexation probably preferred as being more conclusive and binding.

These interests, particularly the water rights, were known to be in the British view in the beginning. If the Italians could have been ejected or kept from going in the arrangements were all right as they were. Altogether, it was thought better to keep the Italians out. They did go in and, although their triumphs have not been spectacular, they seem to be pushing along and their position is not unfavorable. The sanctions haven't done them much military harm and Great Britain must contemplate the probable or possible failure of the Eden program. There is not much enthusiasm for it in Europe. Italy is playing a game which every European power has recognized heretofore as proper, and Mr. Eden is thought to be concerning himself entirely too much about what may happen to the last, virtually the last, bit of free native territory in Africa.

France has Syrian troubles and has no reason to think that successful Ethiopian resistance of Italian imperialism will help any European in retaining territory where the people are restless. The British may soon have to confess that an experiment, noble in purpose, is a failure and regretfully turn to the more practical work of getting its share of the unfortunate conquest of a people who wanted to be free. The Maffey report indicates what this share is and now that the Italians have the report, whether it was stolen or slipped to them on the quiet, they know what Great Britain will expect in return for its generous efforts in trying to keep them out of Ethiopia.

It is not a bad piece of statesmanship to let the report out. The publication at this time proves that the British had considered an alternative before the Italian invasion and they will not seem to have formulated their demands after they had failed in one course of action. It may be embarrassing to participate in the spoils of conquest, but it is better to be embarrassed than to lose control of the Nile headwaters. The British government may have to put the best face it can on it and take some more real estate.

RAPID TRANSIT.

The Chicago Rapid Transit system is a misnomer. Our elevated lines have never been more than "just another form of transportation," have never made any money and at present are suffering from a certain undermaintenance that gives them a dilapidated appearance in which no Chicagoan can take pride. Poorly located, even in the early days, the trends of city growth have not improved this condition, but that cannot be helped. The cost of relocation would be prohibitive, so that the problem resolves itself into a question of what sort of "genuine" rapid transit system can be developed from the properties as they now exist.

The elevated system was originally conceived as a direct competitor of surface transportation, with the added advantage of express service not possible on the street level. Local and fast trains, however, have a tendency to interfere one with the other, with a result that the plan has not been very successful in either the local or rapid transit fields. It should retire from the unnecessary duplication of street to street operation in favor of the Chicago Surface Lines and run fast trains on all of its tracks. With this purpose in view, many, if not most, of the intermediate stations could be abandoned, except at transfer platforms. There are numerous points at which ramps could be built to permit street cars to move to the upper level and run in express trains to the loop. Such combinations of surface and elevated operations are used to advantage in many metropolitan centers.

The interchange of transfers between the elevated line on the one hand, and the surface lines and the motor coach company on the other hand, has entirely changed the trafic picture. Patrons of the elevated lines no longer remain in the trains until they reach the station nearest final destination, but transfer to the surface lines for added convenience. The result has been decidedly beneficial, but at the same time advantage should be taken of relief afforded the rapid transit trains to substantially improve express service.

MR. FARLEY GETS TALKED ABOUT.

Mr. Roosevelt made one appointment in which the man perfectly fitted the job, not as it ought to be done but as it was to be done. Need it be said that this appointment put Mr. Farley in the postoffice? For the other jobs Mr. Roosevelt seems not particularly to care who has them. If a qualified man takes an office he'll soon get out. He'll have a look around, see what he ought to do and then what he is expected to do and, finding the two wildly inconsistent, step out.

The New Deal has had a large turnover in the help because of this, but the system virtually insures that what ought not to be done will be done by persons qualified for it by not being qualified for what ought to be done. Bedlam is run by the in-patients. The exception is Mr. Farley. It doesn't matter who runs the public works, the treasury, the farms, the relief, etc., but the man who runs the patronage and politics had to be an expert and no foolishness. Hence Mr. Farley of Tammany.

Mr. Farley has done an expert job. It is conceded that federal patronage has not been so thoroughly packed since the spoils system was invented as it is now and people are beginning to talk about it, particularly when it is disclosed that there will be an attempt to cover all these Farleymen with the civil service and cement them in. The attempt may be a mistake in judgment. It may take the lid off.

Editorial of the Day

CHICAGO TERMINAL UNIFICATION.

[Traffic World, Chicago.]

We do not know whether the recommendations of the Boatner committee with respect to terminal unification in Chicago are practicable or not, but we believe that however practicable they might be they would not meet with a favorable reception from the railroad executives to whom they were submitted.

There were two attitudes that might have been adopted by the railroad committee in considering the report. One was that, while it might not be altogether wise or practicable, it probably contained some things that were worth while and, since unification was a thing to be desired, there ought to be an effort to work out those things in an effective way unless they were found to be utterly impossible. The other attitude was that of preconceived opposition, and we get the impression from reading the railroad reply to the Boatner suggestions that this was the attitude adopted, either consciously or unconsciously.

Railroad executives are simply not unification-minded. Even those of them who admit that something of the kind suggested ought to be done are recalcitrant when there is a question of the interests of their own roads. Perhaps this is natural and to be expected, but we shall never get anywhere in such matters unless and until it is overcome.

Unification or consolidation may not be desirable on its own account, from many points of view, but we regard it as one of the things that are necessary if government ownership is to be avoided, and every time the railroads sidetrack something that might lead to such economies in operation they are adding another argument for government ownership or operation. Of course, we do not believe that the railroads would be operated economically or anything but politically under government control, but theoretically they would be run without regard to this or that selfish interest, and lots of people are soft enough to swallow the theory. That is Mr. Eastman's idea, for instance.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may. Reg. U. S. Pat. Office

FLORIDA has always been a place of mystery and enchantment which has aroused in the minds of men the most fantastic dreams. Ponce de Leon thought that in Florida was the Spring of Eternal Youth and that if he once dipped beneath its waters he would remain forever young. The New Deal thought that Florida was the very place to build a ship canal right through the orange groves in the northern part of the state that will cost $140,000,000 and which shipowners say they'll never send their ships through. After all, old Ponce de Leon's dream seems the more reasonable.

ANOTHER GREAT EARTHQUAKE in Japan. Which helps explain why the Japs are showing such an intense desire to move over to the mainland in China. Nature seems to show a stronger and stronger inclination to swallow up the little island of Japan. If I were a Jap I would want to move and I wouldn't wait for the first of May.

TOO BAD that extra day is given us on the tail end of February. Too bad this year, anyhow; it gives Mr. Farley an extra day for making speeches and the New Deal is sure to grab the opportunity and land something else on the taxpayers' necks. For the rest of us the extra day isn't going to be much of a blessing, anyhow. It's only one more day of slush or maybe blizzards and zero weather. That's what we've had most of the winter and we'd rather have fewer days in the future than have more. From what we've gone through the fewer the days the better.

COMPANIONED.

The glory of the grass,
The moonlight of the rose,
The laughter of the leaves,
The seed that summer sows,
Will blossom when they go
On land that no one knows.

The thought that burdened breath,
The word that no one said,
The turn we did not take,
The book we never read,
Will shelter by the stone
That lies above our head.

And he who holds most dear
The dream he makes his own,
Who loves until it grows
To substance of the bone:
If he goes or stays,
Will never be alone.

JOHN DILLON HUSBAND.

AND JUST WHEN I was going to sell my auto and leave the roads to the speed demons, the cocktail drivers, the never-hesitate-at-STOP-signs, and the side swipers, and ride only in the choo-choo cars from now on, comes the report of the distressing railroad accident in Cincinnati. I'm askeert of airplanes and if I went places afoot there's the hit-and-run hounds and the autoists who out in the country pay as much attention to a pedestrian as they would to a hen going across the road. So what to do. An uninhabited coral isle in the South Pacific seems to me the only refuge. And it would probably turn out to be a landing field for across the Pacific flyers at that. What's the use?

YOU NEVER CAN TELL! William Allen White, years ago, asked the question, "What's the matter with Kansas?" And Kansas felt pretty bad about it. Now Gov. Landon's boom for the presidency seems to be growing mightily and it might be that some day there will be a Kansan in the White House. So, after all, there seems to be nothing the matter with Kansas. And as for William Allen White—O, is his face red?

TWO LOVES.

I.

It matters nothing that our alien souls
Are far apart as diametric poles,
So that our bodies feel their mutual press,
Our mouths cling hotly in their long caress.

II.

What if our feet tread ever widening ways,
And lips go unfulfilled through all their days?
Our souls, inseparably mated, keep

LORNA DOONE.

OF COURSE the snow and slush has been a terrible handicap to office and store workers in getting to work during the unprecedented winter, but at the same time if you take the tales told by any office boy to his boss the snow is piled around his house much higher than the highest peak in the Alps. And Stella the Stenog says a great glacier has formed between her house and the street car line. The brave girl attempted to cross the glacier but fell a half mile or more in a deep crevasse. She would have been lost, but with her trusty pair of tweezers she uses to pluck out her eyebrows she dug steps in the ice walls of the glacier and so climbed to the top and escaped, but she wore all the henna coloring off her finger nails. So exhausted was she by her strenuous efforts she had to go back home and go to bed for the rest of the day to recuperate. She also had to go to the drug store on the corner to get a new pair of eyebrow tweezers and another bottle of finger nail dye. "Gee! a girl might as well be dead as be without them things."

SUNLIGHT IN RELATION TO HEALTH.

In yesterday's article mention was made of the divisions of the spectrum and the power of light to promote growth in both animals and plants. While all forms of light are desirable the ultraviolet rays, that is, those invisible rays beyond the violet, possess powers that are as yet little understood.

From Egyptian times the value of sunlight as a healing agent has been recognized, and the writings of Pliny contain ample evidence that heliotherapy [sun healing] was both known and practiced by the Greeks.

The modern application of light to disease dates from the experiments of Niels Finsen of Copenhagen, who in 1893 published the results of his treatment of bone tuberculosis with direct sunlight. His untimely death deprived the scientific world of an enthusiastic worker, although his original conception survives in the Finsen institute.

In 1903 Auguste Rollier opened the first clinic in Europe for the systematic treatment of surgical tuberculosis by sun therapy. His work has found worldwide acceptance.

Many observers believe, however, that we have just begun the scientific exploration of the health giving properties of light. Research is now in progress in many parts of the world designed to evaluate the rôle of ultraviolet in many disease conditions.

There is something in ultraviolet light that has not yet been measured or identified. We are aware of what it does but how it does it is still a mystery. For example, if a certain type of food which contains but little vitamin D is treated with ultraviolet, the amount of this important vitamin will be increased. We know that tuberculosis in cattle appears to increase whenever they are housed under cover and are deprived of sunshine. Furthermore, the bone building material in milk from cows pastured in the open is greater than from animals living in the shade and fed on dry or cured fodder.

Human beings who get out of doors too little, whose skin is not exposed within reasonable limits to wind and weather, are likely to become anemic and the amount of iron in the blood may drop below the required level.

There is a popular and well founded notion that disease and darkness go hand in hand; that human beings reared in basements or sunless areas are below par physically. Under such conditions not only will children develop rickets but they will become anemic and appear undernourished.

A distinguished New York physician, the late Alfred F. Hess, stated in 1922 that about one-half of the breast fed infants of a large city showed signs of rickets by the end of March. With the coming of spring and more outdoor life the symptoms of this deforming disease disappeared to a considerable extent.

The amount of ultraviolet that reaches the inhabitants of many of our large cities is greatly reduced by the smoke, dust, and soot that fills the air. We could greatly decrease the health hazards of our citizens if there could be complete abatement of the smoke nuisance. Combustion engineers have pointed the way but enforcement is lax. Residence in the country, from the ultraviolet point of view, is most desirable.

Is there a chemical substitute for sunlight? Among other discoveries was the fact that cod liver oil possessed some of the effects of sunlight. But how does the codfish get his sunshine? He lives in comparatively deep water and in the darkness of northern latitudes. Harriette Schick has supplied an answer. She found that the cod feed largely on squid which in turn feed on the plankton [tiny animal and plant forms] found floating in great quantities on the summer ocean. These living forms absorb the sunlight much as a blotting paper absorbs ink. Thus the sun is carried to the cod and stored in its liver. This supplied the key to the value of irradiated foods.

This discussion will be concluded tomorrow.

HERNIA.

A. R. writes:

1. What is strangulation of hernia?
2. What causes it? I am 75 years old and have had it for five years.
3. Is too much walking injurious?

REPLY.

1. When a loop of bowel becomes wedged in the inguinal canal [the weak spot in the abdominal wall] it is said to be strangulated. The contents of the intestine may accumulate and cause a swelling too large to be pushed back into the abdomen. When circulation [blood supply] is cut off the tissues will die [gangrene] and life is in danger.
2. The most common causes are heavy lifting, severe coughing, and straining. It may be produced sometimes by a blow or a fall.
3. Overexercise of any kind is dangerous, but moderate walking should do no harm.

Surgical repair of the hernia is advised, but if this is contraindicated for any reason a truss may be worn.

EPILEPSY.

D. F. writes: My husband has epilepsy due to alcoholism. He has been drinking for years, but only in the last few months has he developed convulsions. He drinks between one-half and one pint of whisky daily with beer as a wash. He is 37 years old.

REPLY.

Epilepsy is a condition characterized by recurring attacks of unconsciousness with or without convulsive movements. Various intoxicants may produce convulsions in certain persons, the commonest being alcohol. Some individuals will develop these attacks when they indulge excessively in alcohol, but as long as they refrain from the use of the drug symptoms do not occur.

Why stimulate attacks when the remedy is known? Persuade friend husband to leave alcohol alone.

SOFT TEETH.

G. B. writes: A 17 year old girl has soft teeth and they are sensitive to both heat and to cold. Can this be cured?

REPLY.

Teeth that have large cavities undermining the shell of enamel break down easily and are sometimes called soft teeth. Occasionally poorly developed teeth may present this condition.

Vitamin D and calcium may be lacking in the diet. If so, they should be supplied. She should seek the advice of a competent dentist.

From Across the Sea

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MANILA, P. I.—Mineral land grabbing, most of it done during the recent brief interregnum when every official was excitedly awaiting the inauguration of the commonwealth, has been brought to the attention of the government, resulting in the immediate cancellation of oil land leases covering 1,013,610 hectares, about a third of which was held by the Standard-Vacuum Oil company, an American corporation registered in Delaware.

As the secretary of justice, who conducted the investigation of the leases for the cabinet, found glaring laxity in the registration of mining corporations by the bureau of commerce and in the approval of geological leases by the bureau of science, the probe is being extended throughout the mining industry.

The order of cancelation was recommended to the cabinet by the secretary of justice on two main grounds: first, that the entire area involved is controled by only two groups, the Standard-Vacuum Oil company over 329,010 hectares, and 12 domestic corporations controled by practically the same board of directors, over the balance of 684,600 hectares; second, that oil stocks had been sold at fabulous prices by some stockholders, in spite of the fact that the firms' operations are still in the geological exploration stages. The implication is that only through misrepresentation could such sales have been consummated.

Practically all the leases so far canceled were ratified by the government between Nov. 6 and 14, the latter date being the last day of the régime supplanted by the commonwealth. Although the leases already canceled cover fully three-fourths of the area leased to oil prospectors, similar cancelations may also eventually take place in the other mining industries which recently enjoyed booms of their own, particularly gold, iron, manganese and chromite.

Gold has recently enjoyed a boom because of the recent increase in the price of the metal, coinciding in the Philippines with the discovery of valuable gold veins in some of the better established mines. The two stock exchanges in Manila, in fact, handle practically nothing but mining stocks, about 95 per cent of which is gold.

It is now predicted that the Philippines will eventually become one of the most valuable gold producing areas under the American flag.

Japan and the Italo-Ethiopian war are responsible for the boom in "war" material mines. The biggest iron smelting firm in Japan has a contract with a Manila firm for a supply of 1,000,000 tons of ore during the next two years. The ore is now being shipped regularly to Japan.

The anomalies unearthed by the secretary of justice consisting of interlocking directorates and the sale of practically fraudulent stocks are being blamed on American High Commissioner Murphy and his former secretary of justice.

At the height of the gold boom the then director of commerce promulgated a rule that mining firms filing incorporation papers and expecting to issue shares of stock should advertise in the newspapers the extent of their mineral properties, if any, and the stage of their mining activities, if any start had been made.

Adversely affected firms filed a complaint with the then Gov. Gen. Murphy. They charged that the director of commerce was himself speculating in gold stocks and was abusing his office to boom his own holdings. The director was found guilty of handling stocks, was forced to resign, and the regulation he promulgated was chucked away with him.

Since then the bureau of commerce, which registers all corporations, has taken the attitude that the bureau can exercise only ministerial power with respect to incorporation papers and may not inquire into the directorates and properties of incorporating firms.

A protracted legal battle between the government and the mining firms is expected as some of the owners of the canceled leases have announced that they will hold onto their properties and seek justice in the courts.

SOCIAL SECURITY LAW.

Chicago, Feb. 22.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—My employer is deducting one per cent for social security tax from my pay check. 1. Is this in order? I understand that the employer is supposed to pay this tax the first year. 2. Are the laws for Michigan and Illinois the same? 3. Would it make any difference since my check comes from Detroit? None of my friends are paying this tax. M. S.

1. Not if you have a contract of employment which is silent as to such deductions. If you are employed by the month, he can name the terms on which he is willing to continue.
2. It is a federal tax.
3. No.

Title IX. of the Social Security act imposes a pay roll tax of 1 per cent on employers of eight or more. This federal act authorizes a credit of 90 per cent of an employer's contribution to a state unemployment fund, but the Illinois legislature has not yet acted so as to make the credit effective. The 1 per cent is the only such tax now in effect, but increased rates and additional taxes are provided for next year. For further information, apply to the collector of internal revenue in the U. S. courthouse. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

REASONS FOR PROBATE.

Chicago, Feb. 22.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I am one of thirteen heirs to an estate [will] in Tennessee composed of stocks and bonds. 1. Is it necessary to probate that will in Tennessee? 2. Is there a Tennessee law as to how long an estate must be held open for creditors' claims if administrator is sure there are no claims against the estate? 3. Can administrator settle a portion of the estate, should there be such a law, before the period for claims ends? 4. Three months have elapsed since the death and we have had no official information from administrator. Shouldn't he advise us as to the value, contents and progress being made in settling the estate? R. S.

1. It seems probable that probate would be necessary.
2. Probate could be dispensed with entirely if all parties, including the transfer officers of the corporations, would be satisfied.
3. Yes, but he would do it at his own risk.
4. No. He reports to the Probate judge rather than to you. You can obtain a copy of the inventory by paying the clerk of the Probate court.

CLIENTS OR PAUPERS?

Chicago, Feb. 19.—This is a reply to "Citizen's" letter entitled "Clients or Paupers?"

This fellow reminds me of the old one about the gentleman whose belly was so full he couldn't understand how any one else could be hungry.

He says in 1932 and 1933 we were confronted with the problem of starving families and no jobs, but that now it is different. If he has discovered anything different about present conditions over 1932 and 1933, in so far as getting a job is concerned, he has discovered something that eleven million other men have been unable to find.

Many men who went on relief were once in the $6,000 to $10,000 a year class. Many of these men, now past 50 years old, were taken off relief and given a pick and shovel and put on the streets at pay of $55 per month.

Now if Mr. Citizen has an ounce of imagination, can he picture the humiliation of these men, and can he imagine these men preferring the pick and shovel job to a legitimate position, such as they once held, and can never forget? If on top of this Mr. Citizen wants to label these men paupers, he must be the type of fellow who would kick an old lady in the face after she was knocked down by an automobile. H. R.

DOG FIGHT.

Chicago, Feb. 20.—Last night I was taking my dog Rex for an airing. Everybody in the neighborhood knows he is a harmless pup, so I never have him on a leash. He merrily rollicks in the snow and runs to greet both children and other dogs. As I was walking with him he spied another dog and quickly went to investigate. This dog was on a leash and a very vicious looking creature, so he started a fight. Rex fought, too, and I felt he could hold his own. If he hasn't sense to stay out of battle let him get scratched a bit. It was a fair battle, but what I am complaining about was the owner of the other dog, a great big, fat lobster, who when he saw his dog on the bottom, willfully kicked my dog right and left. I was almost tempted to take my leash and slap his pudgy face the way he was kicking my defenseless pup.

Now as a result my dog has bruised ribs and a broken leg. May that man see this and know that it could all have been avoided had he walked away and pulled his dog with him. I can't say enough about a man of that character. Had I been a man I'd have punched his nose good and proper. MRS. R. RUHFF.

FOR YEAR-ROUND CENTRAL TIME.

Chicago, Feb. 17.—Although a reader of THE TRIBUNE for 22 years I have never written to your Voice of the People, but when you came out in favor of eastern time I must file my protest. In the first place daylight saving never proved to be of any value. In the early morning when it is the coolest to sleep we had to get up. An hour more of rest would have done more good than all the sun you could consume in that hour. With eastern time it means, during the winter months, going to work in the dark, as well as returning in the dark, and is therefore of no benefit whatsoever.

The majority of the people are not in favor of eastern time. I certainly hope the I. C. C. will give that newfangled idea a pleasant ride into the waste basket. Let's see you print this letter. E. O. S.

POLITICAL JOBS.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 20.—With reference to a letter in your issue of Feb. 4, headed "The Senate Might Investigate This," relating to discharge of a number of civil service employés who happened to be Republicans, I am sure that a senate committee investigation suggested by your informant would prove that his conclusions are false.

There are very few civil service employés in the internal revenue office in this city, but I happen to be one of those few. True, I am a Democrat, but have been under civil service for a period of seventeen years, disregarding political issues entirely except as regards my right of franchise.

Of the eighteen individuals released from this office recently, eleven were Democrats and seven were Republicans and not one of these persons was under civil service. These dismissals were required by the treasury department and as collectors' offices are not under civil service the collector is free to dismiss and appoint as he pleases. If the Logan bill now pending before congress, which is supported by federal employés' unions throughout the United States, is enacted and becomes a law, then such federal offices will be entirely under civil service. CIVIL SERVICE DEMOCRAT.

POLITICAL CENSORSHIP IN OHIO.

West Point, Neb., Feb. 17.—I sincerely hope that none of your readers missed your editorial entitled "Political Censorship in Ohio," of Feb. 15. Your defense of the scurrilous movie, banned in Ohio, and of your own scarecrow cartoons, is certainly a clear statement of your editorial ideals. Anything goes, as long as it is within the libel laws, eh?

I've long wondered by what standard you could justify the featured cartoons in your newspaper. Many of them express ideas which even you would hesitate to express in words—they would be the rankest kind of libel.

We need not ascribe "kingly prerogatives" to our President to show him the common respect to which he is entitled. Nor is it necessary to drag him through the mire of ridicule and disrespect to express honest opposition to his policies. LEO J. SCHMITT.

GROUP INSURANCE.

Chicago, Feb. 14.—Group insurance among workers of large business places seems another racket. Office and factory workers are forced to take accident and death group insurance, regardless of how much reliable insurance one may have, or if your weekly income is sufficient for more. When you leave the employ of the company or the company wishes to discontinue said insurance, you receive nothing for moneys paid. Should you pay to one of the other insurance companies, say for three years, you at least get some of your money back if circumstances arise where you are forced to give up the insurance. Employés are compelled to take the insurance or look somewhere else for work. Fine state of affairs in a land of the free. ONE OF THE SUFFERERS.

IT SEEMS SO.

Chicago, Feb. 17.—Bruno Hauptmann was sentenced to death because the Lindbergh child was found dead. The fact that he had ransom money was evidently not convicting evidence because Uncle Sam is now asking for $9,000 as income tax. Is our government now sending men to death for theft and then dividing the plunder? A. W. S.

GRAND JURORS INDICT EIGHT AS HIJACKING GANG

Five Members in Custody; Hunt Three Others.

The Cook county grand jury was reported yesterday to have voted nine true bills charging robbery with a gun against eight men alleged to have obtained more than $75,000 in merchandise in the last year in the hijacking of trucks.

Five of the men are in custody of police and the arrest of the sixth man and two receivers of the stolen property is expected shortly. Those in custody are Peter Panzeca, 25 years old, 2800 Emerald avenue; his brother, Dominick, 28 years old; Rocco De Stefano, 22 years old, 4901 Federal street; Charles Corona, 30 years old, 5040 Princeton avenue, and Joseph Lascola, 30 years old, 227 West 31st street.

Other Names Withheld.

The names of the other three men named in the true bills are being suppressed until their arrest.

Assistant State's Attorney Charles S. Dougherty, who presented the evidence to the grand jury, declared that the arrests had broken up the band of hijackers who have been terrorizing truck drivers in the city and county.

The men were arrested Jan. 24 mainly through the efforts of Lieut. James Kerr, head of the cartage detail, and Policemen Harry Wright and Robert Elliott. Dominick Panzeca and Corona were seized in an automobile near the trucking terminal at 26th street and Emerald avenue, apparently "spotting" the loading of trucks. The three others were arrested later in the same vicinity.

Burglary Charges Pending.

According to police, burglary charges against the Panzeca brothers are pending in the Criminal court. It was charged that upon his release on bond in the Felony court last Dec. 20 Dominick Panzeca and the other members of the band hijacked a $9,000 load of liquor from a truck of the Available Transfer company at 22d street and Wentworth avenue on the same night.

Dominick, according to police, told the driver, "Sorry, brother, but we've got a burglary rap against us, my wife is in the hospital having a baby, and we need dough to take care of things."

Specialized in Liquor Shipments.

Police said the band specialized for the most part in liquor shipments, hijacking a truck, then driving it to a lonely spot where they looted it of its merchandise.

The grand jury is reported to have set bonds of $90,000 for each defendant.

EX-CO-ED, OUT ON PROBATION, HELD IN STORE THEFT

Miss Mildred McClanahan, 27 years old, 2605 Prairie avenue, Evanston, was arrested in a loop department store yesterday on a charge of stealing a $3.50 cigaret box. She will be arraigned today in Woman's court. Miss McClanahan told the arresting policemen, Howard Harder and John Noonan of the detective bureau that she was placed on probation for a similar charge last July. She said she attended the Pine Manor school for girls in Wellesley, Mass., in 1926-'27 and later attended Northwestern university and worked in a library at Evanston. According to Lieut. Edward Kelly, Miss McClanahan said she is writing a book on kleptomaniacs. Her father, she said, formerly was a Presbyterian minister, but now he is a merchant at Monmouth, Ill.

Warrants Issued for Arrest of 38 on Auto Tag Charges

Judge Gibson E. Gorman in Automobile License court yesterday issued warrants for the arrest of 38 motorists who failed to appear to answer charges of failure to have city vehicle tags. Sixty others were fined $1 and $1 costs on the same charge. Judge Gibson discharged 29 others when they showed they had obtained the vehicle tags before their arrest but had failed to place them on their windshields.

JUDGE RESEMBLING STONE LEADS 'POOR' IN SKETCH OF MURAL

Washington, D. C., Feb. 24.—(AP)—In a mural sketch approved today for the attorney general's office underprivileged people are pictured being led from "misery to a promised land" by a judge resembling Justice Harlan F. Stone.

It is the work of Leon Kroll, a member of the National Academy of Design, and is to be painted in a space 22 feet by 8 feet 6 inches on the wall behind the desk of Attorney General Cummings.

Edward Rowan of the fine arts division of the treasury, said he would not deny that Kroll had Justice Stone in mind when the sketch was made, but was positive the artist had not used photographs of the justice and that the justice had not posed for it.

DEATH REVEALS $20,783 DEPOSIT; NO HEIRS FOUND

George Logan, 73 years old, who died of a heart attack Sunday in the Russell hotel, 1236 Madison street, where he had lived for 38 years, left $20,783 on deposit in the Continental Illinois Bank and Trust company. This was disclosed yesterday by Jack Rubens, chief investigator for the public administrator. A bank book showing the account was found among Logan's effects.

GEORGE LOGAN.

Oscar S. Caplan, assistant to the probate judge, issued letters of administration for the estate to the public administrator. Logan was employed in the shipping department of an X-ray company until two years ago, when he retired. Rubens said he has been unable to find heirs to the estate.

HELD TO JURY IN THEFT.

Stanley Budinicki, 23 years old, 1443 West 14th street, was held to the grand jury in bonds of $2,500 when he appeared yesterday before Judge Joseph A. Graber in the automobile court on a charge of stealing an American Railway Express truck.

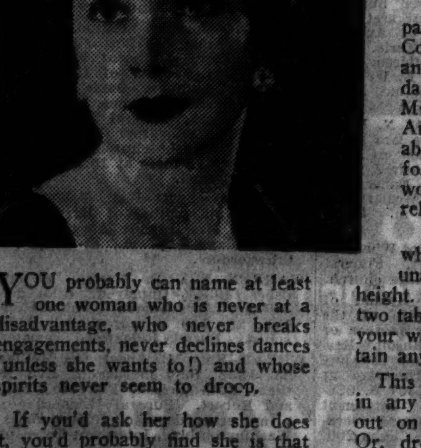
What is meant by ..."8th WOMAN"

One word explains her confidence



YOU probably can name at least one woman who is never at a disadvantage, who never breaks engagements, never declines dances (unless she wants to!) and whose spirits never seem to droop.

If you'd ask her how she does it, you'd probably find she is that eighth woman who relies on Midol. Eight million women once suffered regularly every month. Had difficult days when they must save themselves and favor themselves, or pay the penalty. But a million have accepted the relief of Midol.

Why be a regular martyr to pain month after month? Compelled to favor yourself and save yourself on certain days. Midol could change this. Might have you out dancing. And even if it didn't keep you absolutely free from all pain for the entire period, you would receive a measure of relief well worth while!

Midol is effective even when the pain has caught you unaware and has reached its height. It's effective for hours, so two tablets should see you through your worst day. They do not contain any narcotic.

This boon to women is found in any drug store—usually right out on the toilet goods counter. Or, drop a card to Midol, 170 Varick St., New York, and get a free trial box postpaid, plainly wrapped.

ALBERT RITCHIE FUNERAL TO BE HELD TOMORROW

Four Time Governor Dies of Stroke.

Baltimore, Md., Feb. 24.—[Special.]—Albert C. Ritchie, 59, four-time governor of Maryland, who died of a paralytic stroke early today will be buried Wednesday. Funeral services will be held at Christ Episcopal church.

He died alone in his apartment, while Mrs. Elizabeth W. Smith, his secretary, hurried about town trying to obtain medical aid. When doctors arrived Mr. Ritchie failed to respond to artificial respiration and eight tanks of oxygen were administered to no avail.

Foe of New Deal.

Mr. Ritchie, who had been planning a state rights drive against the Roosevelt administration, was believed in perfect health. Last night he spoke at an Epworth league meeting. His wife, the former Elizabeth Baker, divorced him in 1916.

But shortly after midnight Mr. Ritchie, his voice barely audible, phoned Mrs. Smith. She found him still clutching the telephone, semiconscious, and he never rallied.

Mr. Ritchie's father was Albert Ritchie, one of Maryland's leading lawyers, and, for the last eleven years of his life, a judge of Baltimore's Supreme court.

Born in Virginia.

Albert Cabell Ritchie was born at Richmond, Va., on Aug. 29, 1876. He attended private schools in Baltimore, was graduated from John Hopkins university in 1896, and in 1898 received his law degree at the University of Maryland.

In 1915, by a direct primary, Mr. Ritchie was elected attorney general. In 1919 he was elected governor and served four terms.

News of the Radio Stations

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

The Ziegfeld Follies of the Air turned out to be just about the most promising new network show of the winter season, even though its star, Fannie Brice, and musical director, Al Goodman, were missing from the première performance Saturday evening because of illness.

"Glorifying the American Girl" is a tough assignment for radio. Thus it would be silly to assert that the radio show has everything a Follies in the Flesh has. It hasn't. But it is a bright, sparkling, briskly paced show that captures considerable of the musical charm and comedy of the old Follies.

Minerva Pious, whom you used to hear on Fred Allen's show, did a convincing job as Miss Brice's understudy in the rôle of Snooks. Half the fun in a Brice performance is seeing her. And since radio precludes that, Miss Pious is almost as satisfactory as Fannie.

James Melton continues to improve. One of these days he will probably become the prime favorite among all radio tenors.

And Patti Chapin seems to be assured a secure niche in radio from now on. This young singer has been tried before on shows which flopped through no fault of hers. This time she is riding a winner.

Benny Krueger, the "laughing saxophonist" who used to be popular as a Chicago band leader, is staging a comeback in radio. You hear him now as a featured sax player on the Rudy Vallee program. But beginning next Monday he will become the band leader on the CBS Pipe Smoking Time program featuring the comedians Pick Malone and Pat Padgett.

Jack Daly, veteran radio actor, died suddenly Saturday evening at Michael Reese hospital after a brief attack of pleurisy. Daly was currently playing the part of Detective O'Toole in "Myrt and Marge." He had played the part of Fu Manchu when it was on W-G-N and CBS. He also played in "Jack Armstrong" and other serials. He was 69 years old.

MRS. G. W. VEST DIES; WIFE OF AIR BUREAU OFFICIAL

Mrs. Vest was born in Webster City, Ia., on Nov. 7, 1895. She married Maj. Vest there in 1926, and accompanied him to Chicago when he took charge of the department of commerce aeronautical division here in October, 1929.

A service will be held at 10 o'clock this morning under the auspices of the Eastern Star chapter of which Mrs. Vest was a member, at 1520 West 69th street. The funeral service and burial will be in Webster City Thursday afternoon. In addition to her husband and children, Mrs. Vest is survived by her mother, Mrs. O. C. WM. J. CUMMINS, VICTOR DESPITE PRISON, IS DEAD

William J. Cummins, 74 years old, Nashville, Tenn., promoter, who made a business comeback after serving three years in Sing Sing penitentiary for a New York bank fraud, died yesterday of a heart attack in the Belmont hotel, 3156 Sheridan road, where he was visiting. He was accompanied here by his daughter, wife of Dr. J. W. Watson of Suffern, N. Y.

At the time of his death Mr. Cummins was chairman of the board of the Tennessee Products corporation, the $30,000,000 merger of coal and iron interests effected in 1926 with the backing of the late William Wrigley Jr., Col. Jacob Ruppert of New York, and other financial leaders.

Cummins was sentenced in 1911 to a term of from 4 years and 8 months to 8 years in prison for the larceny of $140,000 from the Nineteenth Ward bank of New York. The collapse of the Carnegie Trust company, which Cummins also headed, precipitated his trial. After an unsuccessful appeal he entered prison in 1913 and was released in 1916.

Gov. Charles S. Whitman of New York, who as district attorney prosecuted Cummins, pardoned him with the remark that "virtually all Tennessee has asked his release."

Good Morning!

So you still won't talk, Mr. Chaplin?

No, Mr. Chaplin said, he wouldn't talk. But—ah!—he would sing . . .! And sing he does!

For the first time in history—that I know of—the Chaplin voice is heard from the screen. He renders amusingly—and with apparent relish—a merry roundelay of his own make that you take to be French but which might just as well be—and probably is— just gibberish. He dances as he sings, and, while no Fred Astaire, reveals himself as an accomplished stepper.

This sequence is new and funny. Especially comical are the steps he improvises while anxiously trying to locate his cuff, which has shot off his arm and on which were written the words of his ditty.

"Modern Times"—Charlie's first picture in five years is really great entertainment. The story is utterly fantastical and, contrary to rumors that have been rumbling round and round, preaches no sermon. It does take many merry whacks at mass production, comfortable jails, efficiency experts, etc. But the swats are all good-humored and offhand ones that engender neither brain fag nor argument.

Mr. Chaplin has been very smart in remaining the Chaplin of ye olden days. His now snowy hair was dyed for the picture and, as a result, he is changed in appearance by not one jot or tittle. Still the same pathetic little guy he always was with the familiar turned up shoes, flexible bamboo cane, baggy trousers, and dilapidated derby.

The picture also runs true to form, though it does use sound effects and springs several new gags. It shows Charlie as a worker on an assembly line in a mammoth factory where his particular operation is to tighten two nuts on interminably appearing identical gadgets. Let him so much as sneeze or look up and there!—he's gummed up the whole works! The nuts drive him nutty—and there's a hilarious sequence.

Another episode that puts the observer in stitches is the demonstration of the feeding machine—supposed to feed the workers while they labor and so do away with the lunch hour, thus saving time. This is a most remarkable and ridiculous device and events attendant upon its operation will not soon be forgotten by the observer.

Then there's some rib tickling monkey business in a department store. Here ideas were borrowed from the oldtime Chaplin release, "The Rink."

The star is aided and abetted in masterly fashion by Chester Conklin, Hank Mann and other well chosen helpers who respond nimbly to the Chaplin direction.

Paulette Goddard, who plays the woman in the luckless little feller's life is slim and pleasing in her ragged gown. She makes a buoyantly dumbdora-ic companion in misery, and there is much the same sort of hopeful hopelessness about her that is the root of the secret of Chaplin's tremendous appeal.

What most amazes you about "Modern Times," is the fact that, in this day of superfine sound films, it says everything without saying anything.

Perfect pantomime, in other words. And perfect pantomime is by way of becoming a lost art.

Front Views and Profiles

WE offer you this week the sentimental trafic officer at a northwest side street intersection who did not give a ticket to some trafic offenders because their car was a 1925 model of a make he had once owned himself. The offenders were a Mr. and Mrs. John Swanson, and their car, parked near Lawrence and Milwaukee, had been pushed out into the street, where it blocked trafic, by a motorist who got out before they did. Notified by a passerby that the officer had driven their car off to the station, they later learned that he had parked it about a block away. When they expressed their appreciation he barked gruffly:

Sentimental— Weather— Description— Harbinger.

"Don't thank me! Thank that car. I used to have that old 1925 model myself."

ALEX STEINART, the young orchestra conductor for "Porgy and Bess," overheard one young thing say to another, as they picked their way across a snowy street, "My goodness, I do hate weather." . . . And even if it is a little late for cold weather notes, you might like to know that in Winnetka the groceries sold out their supply of sunflower seeds last week. Kindly Winnetka folk bought it for the birds. . . . A pair of cardinals have been winter guests of the R. Wallace Youngs. . . . Also, a big mail order house sold out its snow shoe supply—some thousands of pairs. The telephone company bought them for its workers to enable them to keep the wires repaired.

"The fagots sing four more notes to a halt, and so the low strings next. Then all scamper with speed and noise around and down."

BY JUDITH CASS.

WHEN Rex proceeds on his triumphal march along St. Charles and Canal streets in New Orleans today a number of Chicagoans will be among the spectators who will view the procession of the carnival monarch and his riotously merry subjects from the balconies and galleries of the Boston club, the Pickwick club, the Louisiana club and other famous points of vantage.

It will be Mrs. Lee Graham's first glimpse of the elaborate spectacle with its historical floats and vividly costumed figures. She went down to the Crescent City last week as the guest of her uncle and aunt, the E. R. Browns, in time for the numerous parties that precede Mardi Gras itself. The Proteus ball last night and the Comus ball this evening always climax the carnival festivities.

Miss Virginia Frost and her niece, Miss Nancy Dangler, also will be seeing the carnival for the first time. They left yesterday just in time to reach New Orleans at the height of the carnival, and then are embarking on a cruise to Havana, Vera Cruz and Jamaica. They will be away about three weeks.

Miss Charlotte Chandler, who has been spending the winter down there with her mother, Mrs. Smith Chandler, no doubt is taking some part in the Crescent City's most picturesque festivities. She is returning to Winnetka early in March.

Charles W. Lobdells There Two Weeks.

Mrs. Charles W. Lobdell rarely misses a Mardi Gras, for as Ruth Bush she grew up in New Orleans and was one of the city's famous belles. She and Mr. Lobdell went down two weeks ago and have been drawn into the carnival whirl by all their old friends there. Mr. Lobdell returns tomorrow, but Mrs. Lobdell may remain in the south a while longer.

Miss Betty Archer has been in New Orleans since the first of the carnival parties last week and is remaining on for a month as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dabney Archer.

Out in San Francisco, where Mardi Gras always is the occasion of the most brilliant ball of the season, Mrs. John Hooker will be crowned queen of the merrymaking this evening. This is one of the greatest compliments the city can bestow on a young matron, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Dunham have gone out there to see his daughter crowned. They will remain on the west coast until March 8.

The lecture will be given at 2:30 o'clock at the Lake Shore Drive hotel with Miss Gertrude McCarthy acting as hostess. Tickets may be obtained at the door. Mrs. William J. Reveals Mae West Dispute with Lubitsch

Albuquerque, N. M., Feb. 24.—(AP)—Jim Timony, business manager of Mae West, said here tonight "Ernst Lubitsch tried to push her around. But in the end she pushed him around."

Thus he intimated victory for Miss West in her professional row with the recently ousted Paramount studios' production chief. He also intimated the buxom star is very much in the market for an attractive offer to appear in a picture outside the Paramount fold.

While Timony talked here, en route back to California after a quick turn around at Chicago, Miss West was resting in her stateroom.

He virtually admitted that producer troubles were responsible for her hasty exit and return. Paramount Sudios announced the day she left Hollywood that William Lebaron had replaced Lubitsch as chief of production.

"Sure," he said, "Miss West can make pictures outside Paramount, and will. I think it is a good idea that she should spread her pictures around a bit."

"Lubitsch thought, in his Hitler way," said Timony, "he could push Miss West around. He wouldn't even give her the cameramen she wanted. Well, in the end, she pushed him around.

"After all, she was in the show business long before he ever thought of being."

Timony would not say to what other studios she would "spread her pictures around," but it was believed he referred to Columbia, in which Emmanuel Cohen, an independent producer, now has a contract. She has a personal contract with Cohen as well as one with Paramount, understood to be on a picture-to-picture basis."

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

A new hand cream can be used for a quick, pleasant and remarkably efficient hand beauty treatment several times a day. This cream does good repair work when hands are neglected and prevents the havoc of neglect as well.

One of the hand preparations in our overflowing cabinet that enjoyed a run of popularity during the cold weather was a fairly new cream, deliciously pink and remarkable in its soothing and healing properties. We couldn't keep it in our private stock, it turned out to be such a success. It was begged and borrowed and even stolen by our office mates who were harassed by the inevitable harshness of hand skin that is one of the minor evils of cold waves.

Seeing what it did by way of softening and soothing we thought it a good cream for you to know about. It seems to us that nine women out of ten forget that hand skin can and should be as soft and youthful as the skin of the face. Just take a look at the hands around you, not excluding your own. Aren't they sights? And this, friends and fellow seekers of good looks, is because we wait for damage before we do anything about it. We don't forestall it, which is certainly the way of the wise.

This cream does wonders for the damage already done. If the hands have been permitted to become rough and red either from cold, harsh soaps, or general neglect, it does remarkable repair work. But we'd rather you thought of it as a year 'round conditioner; it's when it's used thus that it comes into its own. Every application is a quick, pleasant beauty treatment for the hands. Massage it in sparingly after each hand wash; it dries without a trace of stickiness. Use it more generously under gloves when you do your housework. Massage it in well at night.

It helps the cuticle, too, and that area on the finger tips and beneath the nails that is inclined to split when the skin is greatly undernourished. Good for the elbows, too, this is—and with all these virtues it's definitly inexpensive. ELEANOR NANGLE.

Bolero Outfits Strike a New Note in Fashion

Just the Thing to Wear Under Fur Coat.

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Maybe you think the Spanish influence went to the headlines only, those dashing brimmed hats with chin straps that are perfect creations for the windy days of March and spring. But, this wave of Spanish was too good to pass with just a season of hats, and that is why you are liking the young and new bolero dresses or costumes.

Daytime bolero outfits, using dark thin wool for the scant little jacket and a pencil slim straight skirt, and a bright printed silk for the skimpy little underblouse and the swaggering wrap around sash tied at the left side and reaching the hemline of the skirt, are the big change instead of a suit under the fur coat.

In the well known black and white collections you'll find some particularly effective black wools with stunning black and white prints used for the blouse top and sash. Navy blue goes pleasantly patriotic [not too much] with scarlet silk spattered with white designs in small prints. Also navy with kelly green and white prints, or navy with dove gray printed with deep blue or white patterns. For the beige dresses or the ginger brown outfits, the sashes are of beige and ivory patterns on dark brown silk as the background. There's no limit to the possibilities of color harmony or contrast.

Bolero jackets are either separate or cut very cleverly in one piece with the slender skirt—that is: the jacket swings loose in front just above the waistline to show the glories of the printed silk top, and then is cut, one with the back, to keep the streamline sleek and smooth.

If woolens, no matter how sheer, cause you discomfort, the bolero outfits in silk and in some new prints are the answers for such situations. If you want to look young and smart, well dressed for any daytime hour, bright and springlike even though you wear a dark winter coat, the bolero models in stunning dark and color combines are the best buys of the season.

Special Squad

By Courtney Ryley Cooper

SYNOPSIS.
Inspector Sandy Ross of the department of justice has one of his special agents trai' Sociable Joe Willis from the Twenty Carat bar in Reno.

INSTALMENT II.
G-MEN AT WORK.

Some one always was staring over this bridge rail at the swirl of the racing Truckee. Ross spoke to the man standing near him in a low voice: "Tell the rest of the squad that I've gone out with Buck Wasey. Don't know when I'll be back. Continue the usual surveillance of gambling halls and saloons. Keep some one near the phone in case we need you."

"O. K. Sandy," mumbled the lounger. Sandy Ross, apparently tired of watching the river, walked on.

He deposited his airmail package in the postoffice and returned to the street. Lighting a cigaret, he strolled along, glancing in store windows or pausing to gape for a moment into the brilliantly lighted Tango Parlors, where, strangely enough, there were neither orchestras nor dancers—merely long lines of players, gambling for dimes on a type of Keno. At last, still apparently a wanderer in search of fresh air, Ross turned down a side street, crossed the railroad, and headed toward a dark part of the Nevada metropolis where the river cuts sharply to the west. There was no evidence of hurry or excitement. Yet Sandy Ross' brain was racing and his pulse had quickened. Buck Wasey evidently had a hot tip.

Such things had been so infrequent in this long chase—the longest and hardest that the special squad of the federal bureau of investigation ever had known. No ordinary special agents were these men who formed the staf of Sandy Ross. They were the cream of cream, the pick of the department of justice from the thirty-seven field offices of the far-flung bureau of investigation. In this crew were fellows who had heard the whine of bullets in a dozen battles, men hated by the underworld, cursed by those whom they had sent to the desperate confines of Alcatraz Island. A smooth working machine of silence and secrecy, it is the special squad which moves swiftly across America at the news of a kidnaping, or swoops down in airplanes from thousands of miles away when at last a gangster hideout has been discovered.

For months, however, it had known little such excitement—only the chagrin of disappointment, slow grubbing in search of clews which were strangely missing, painstaking efforts which seemed to lead nowhere. This was a pursuit in search of men, and perhaps women, of sudden death—yet the charge, under the complexities of state and federal laws, was that of the transportation of stolen goods in excess of five thousand dollars. There was little upon which to base a hope of capture.

The street grew darker, the sound of the purling river becoming stronger. Sandy Ross began to whistle—merely the chorus of a popular tune. Evidently, however, that was sufficient. Automobile lights suddenly splashed the night as a switch was thrown, revealing a waiting machine at the end of the block. At the wheel was the roundish prospector of the Twenty Carat saloon.

Ross entered the car wordlessly; immediately the round faced man started the machine upon a circuitous course out of town. The young inspector asked:

"Where are we headed, Buck?"

"Vinton City," came the drawled reply. "The old pelican with the plus verbiage caught the bus for over there. Got the last seat, so I couldn't go along. What luck did you have?"

"Got his finger prints on a whisky glass. Sent them to Washington, air mail. I've a line on somebody who probably can tell us where he lives."

Nothing more was said until they were well out of town, and heading upward on the Geiger grade over mountains pockmarked by mine dumps and prospect holes, on the way to the old half-deserted camp of Vinton City. Buck twisted the car along the tortuous course for a time in silence. At last he ventured:

"Well, if you ask old Buck Wasey, here's hoping this Sociable Joe turns out to be the one we want. I'm getting tired of chasing 'em down to find out they're sneak thieves or purse snatchers, when we're looking for a high powered mobster."

Ross leaned back in his seat.

"Helped us?" asked Buck with a queer, rising inflection. "It's just mussed us up. Lost time for us. Here we are with a big mystery on our hands. Newspapers beginning to make dirty cracks about the F. B. I. because we can't show results. Director in Washington nearly crawling through the telephone trying to find something to work on. All we've got is the name of Sociable Joe, and we find twenty or thirty fellows named that in different parts of the country, and not one of them the fellow we want. It's getting on my nerves. I wake up in the night and think about it."

Ross nodded.

"We're up against a tough case, Buck. The newspapers aren't making things any easier for us either."

"Ain't it the truth?" Buck yelled above the noise of the motor. "Did you read that letter from Nux Vomica and Vox Populi, or whoever it was in that San Francisco paper?"

"Yes, I saw it," Ross answered glumly.

"Said we were overrated," the older man protested. "Just a bunch of office boys who'd had good luck. Ought to be burlesqued—remember that part of it?"

"I remember that, too."

The car began to gasp with the labor of heavy grade. Buck shifted gears, bellowing above the increased sound of the motor:

"First thing you know, somebody'll make an issue of it! Begin writing letters to their congressmen to cut down on appropriations."

"Let's wait for that bridge."

"Yeh, but you can't help thinking about it. Bothers a fellow—bothers him to beat hell!"

"It's bothering us all, Buck—from the director down. The trouble is, we've set too fast a pace; caught too many crooks right on the first jump. Sooner or later we had to run into something we couldn't whip, all in a minute."

The elder man grunted, then was silent for a long time as he gave his attention wholly to the road. It shot upward, twisted, writhed, swung about the brows of sparse clad hills, requiring the constant attention of the man at the wheel. At last, on a short straightaway, he announced:

"Well, maybe you younger fellows feel more patient about a thing like this than an old codger like me. You're made to order like—brought up in a new school. Taught clews and finger prints and science and all that sort of thing until it's second nature for you to be willing to wait. Me—I can't forget that I was a Texas Ranger before I threw in with the government. I've got the best of hoss's hoofs in my blood and the memories of days when crime was just crime. A man stole something and ran or shot it out with the fellows that was after him, and that was an end to it. Nowadays everything's different."

"Criminals have changed, Buck. Methods of pursuit must change with them."

"I know. I know. And I ain't objecting. Look out there—where the hell do you think you're going?" This to the automobile. "Need hosses for this mountain work," he mused, at last returning to his subject. "Now this thing we're doing now—there's an example. You and me have chased fellows named Sociable Joe all over America. We don't know why we want him. Maybe we won't learn anything when we get him." Buck snorted. "This one in particular," he went on. "An old fellow with a red nose and a flow of oratory. He certainly don't look like a person who had helped pull an armored car robbery in New Orleans——"

"And another in Philadelphia——"

Frozen Dessert Uses Delicate Flavor of Figs

"Modern Meat Lore," a 52 page meat cookery booklet, containing the most recent information on selection of meat cuts, the latest methods of cooking meat, and many interesting and practical suggestions for meat dishes, is on sale at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower, for 20 cents. By mail, 23 cents, stamps or coin. Address mail requests to Mary Meade, Chicago Tribune.

BY MARY MEADE.

Just because figs are old timers in food history, it doesn't follow that they don't take well to modern ways. And the mere fact that they're stamped with the old "good for you" label doesn't mean that they aren't a delectable delight to the palate. In fact, they offer an amazing pick-me-up for tired winter menus.

Caramel Fig Ice Cream.
[CUSTARD.]

- ¾ cup milk
- ½ cup sugar
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon granulated gelatin
- 1 tablespoon cold water
- 2 eggs

Combine the milk, sugar, and salt, and scald. Moisten the gelatin in cold water, add to the hot milk, and stir until dissolved. Pour over the slightly beaten eggs, stirring constantly.

[CARAMEL.]

- ¾ cup sugar
- ¼ cup water
- 2½ cups heavy cream
- 2 teaspoons vanilla

Combine the sugar and water and cook slowly until the sirup is golden brown. Add the cream and cook and stir until the sugar is dissolved. Add the vanilla and combine with the custard.

- 1 cup cooked dried white figs
- ¾ cup chopped walnut meats

Clip the stems from the figs and chop finely. Add the finely chopped nut meats and chopped figs to the custard-caramel mixture, and stir until well blended. Pour into refrigerator trays, place in freezing unit, and freeze rapidly. Stir two or three times during freezing.

Sounds grand, doesn't it? And just wait until you find out how delightful it really tastes!

For everyday occasions we've a nice simple fig sauce to suggest. With almost any uninspired pudding—custard, tapioca, blanc mange, bread pudding, or even with plain unfrosted cake—try this:

Fig Flatterer.
[Dessert sauce.]

- 1 cup chopped dried figs
- 1 cup water
- ⅓ cup firmly packed brown sugar
- 1 teaspoon grated orange rind

Combine the chopped, dried figs with the water, brown sugar, and orange rind. Cook together slowly until slightly thickened. Serve hot or cold with simple desserts.

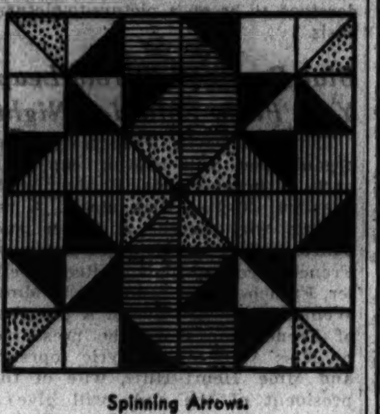
Arrow Quilt Is Ideal for Young Needleworkers



Spinning Arrows.

Patterns of this design are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices: One South Dearborn street or Tribune Tower.

BY NANCY CABOT.

"Spinning Arrows" is one of the designs destined to bring joy to the young needleworkers who are making their first quilts, because of the simplicity of the two patches used in its construction and the rapidity with which it may be pieced. Any colors may be used and printed or plain materials may be combined. The results always are charming. The completed block measures 15 inches square, and the entire coverlet measures 90x105 inches when finished.

For a limited period Nancy Cabot offers 10 quilt patterns of her own choice at a price of 10 cents for the group (12 cents by mail). Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices: One South Dearborn street, or Tribune Tower.

Casino, where the union is having its tea, are not very far apart, just a pleasant walk when the air is as springlike as it was yesterday, so it will not be difficult for any one to enjoy both affairs.

Two exhibitions, paintings by French Elie Lascaux and by Spanish Francisco Bores, will be opened at the Arts club. Neither of the artists is here, but receiving and pouring and seeing that every one has a good time will be the charming reception committee chairman, Mrs. James Ward Thorne, and Mrs. William A. Nitze, Mrs. Charles McKenna, Mrs. Edward A. Leight, Miss Anna Lynch, Mrs. Benjamin Becker, Mrs. Frank Fuller, Mrs. Edmund A. Russell and Miss Elizabeth McCormick.

Alec Miller Will Talk at English Tea.

The union is entertaining for Alec Miller of Chipping Camden in Gloucestershire, England. Mr. Miller is by profession a sculptor in both wood and stone, and by avocation he is a resident of the Cotswold hills and a lover of their long history and physical beauty. This small section lying between Burford and Cheltenham has been the home of succeeding civilizations since before the beginning of history, but its beauty is gentle and individual, so that Druid stones or young lambs become equally a part of it.

Mr. Miller will speak at 4 o'clock and show pictures to illustrate his talk.

The Jeunes of the Alliance Française will hear René Weiller, French consul general, speak on "The Brothers of Napoleon" at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon, and afterward will have a typical French "tea" of chocolate and brioches.

Miss Alice G. Howland and Miss Eleanor O. Brownell, headmistresses of the Shipley school, are entertaining alumnae of the school at tea at 4 o'clock today in the Palmer house. Among the Shipley graduates are Mrs. Keith Carpenter, Mrs. John Evans, Miss Mary Harrington, Miss Betsy Ballard, Miss Nancy Reed, Miss Mary Alice Bacon, Miss Ellen Allen, Miss Anne Bryant, and the Misses Barbara and Helen Bersbach.

W. A. C. Luncheon to Follow Lecture.

Mrs. Ira Couch, Mrs. Charles Pattison, Mrs. Henry Veeder, Mrs. Charles Ward Seabury, Mrs. Edwin Lawler, Mrs. Louis T. Jaques, and Miss Teresa Rew are among those who have made reservations for luncheon today at the Woman's Athletic club following a lecture by Clifton Utley on current affairs.

The boys at Arden Shore camp are going to have a treat this evening. At their meeting Friday members of the board decided to take them to Lake Forest to dinner and later to the motion picture, "Mutiny on the Bounty," at the Deerpath theater. Mrs. Robert S. Hotz, Mrs. Edward K. Welles, Mrs. George H. Malcolm, Mrs. Charles Garland, Mrs. James A. Cathcart, and Mrs. Randolph G. Owsley each will have half a dozen of the boys as her guests.

Lovers of the dance will go to the Goodman theater tonight to see Grace and Kurt Graff in their modern dance in a program of impressions sponsored by the Art Institute Alumni association. Grace Graff is a Chicago girl, having been Grace Cornell before her marriage two years ago.

President Conant to Speak Here.

James B. Conant, president of Harvard university, and several distinguished Harvard graduates will arrive in town Thursday to attend the Chicago Harvard club's annual dinner, and a meeting of the executive committee of the Association of Harvard clubs which is being held on the same day.

President Conant will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Barrett Wendell during the two days he is here. On Friday evening he will speak before a meeting of the Progressive Education association at the Palmer House.

A young man who has been named for his father and who, in his mother's opinion, already looks just like his father, is John Townsend Beatty Jr. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Beatty of 999 Lake Shore drive, are receiving congratulations on the birth of their first child, born last Tuesday at the Evanston hospital. His maternal grandmother, Mrs. Samuel C. Confer, came down from Minneapolis yesterday to be with her daughter. Mr. and Mrs. Ross J. Beatty of Highland Park are the infant's paternal grandparents.

According to CULBERTSON

THE EARS PLAY TRICKS.

Some of the most amusing incidents of the bridge table arise from the failure of one of the players to hear the bidding correctly. In the recent tournament held in New York by the United States Bridge association, my partner, Teddy Lightner, caused the following hilarious incident:

South	West	North	East
Pass	Pass	Pass	Double!

Lightner was East, and thought that South, instead of passing, had bid one heart. His untimely double threw us all into confusion. We were not sure what the penalty was, and called the tournament director.

In rubber bridge, such a double would bar both East and West from the bidding; since East could not bid and the others all had passed, the deal would simply be passed out. For play in a tournament, however, the law covering this point is slightly different. West [I was West] is barred, but East may bid anything he wishes. If he thinks his side can make a game, he should contract for game immediately, for his partner is unable to keep the bidding open for him and the opponents may choose to pass a part-score bid.

In this case, Lightner had a minimum hand and decided to pass. Our loss was not great, since we could have made no more than one no trump.

Overtricks.

When one considers that a national championship tournament once ended in a tie between two teams, and another was decided by the margin of 20 points, he can realize the importance of keeping on his toes during every minute of a tournament, and trying to make overtricks on every hand. This same reasoning does not hold true in rubber bridge, when the possible overtricks should be sacrificed to insure making a game.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
3 dia's [1]	Pass	3 no trump [final bid]

[1] For some time I have been working on a "two-way" three-bid which sometimes shows a strong hand and sometimes a weak hand, leaving the opponents in the dark and making them fear to enter the bidding lest they run into a strong hand and be doubled. This three-bid usually will show a solid suit, which will give partner valuable information if he should be able to play the hand at no trump.

West opened the four of hearts, which dummy's singleton queen won. South, at this point, had only one safe way to be sure of making three no trump—the lead of a small diamond from the dummy, giving up one trick. This play can be necessary only when one opponent holds all four diamonds, which is highly unlikely. If the diamonds are divided 3-1 the low diamond lead sacrifices at least one trick and probably more.

This hand was played in a tournament and not one South player led the low diamond. Each played the diamond ace from dummy and, when East revealed his void, cursed himself for not making the safe play. Their self-reproaches, however, were not deserved. They were right to play for overtricks rather than guard against the one slim chance of going down. In rubber bridge, had they not made the safety play, they would have deserved censure.

A club or spade opening would have defeated three no trump, but neither of these seemed to be as good as the heart lead to the various West players.

TODAY'S QUESTION.

Question: My right hand opponent, not vulnerable, opened the bidding with one spade. I held ♠6 ♥A 2 ♦A K Q 10 5 3 ♣K J 4 2. What should I bid?

Answer: This hand is ideally suited to a jump overcall of three diamonds, which is a strong urge for your partner to bid. It is not a good double because you have poor support in the other major suit, hearts.

Three Difficult Works Played by Boettcher

Only Confident Pianists Survive Them.

BY EDWARD BARRY.

Emily Boettcher, a young Chicago pianist and teacher, gave most of her Kimball hall recital last night to a performance of three masterworks of imposing dimensions and immense difficulty. The Bach D Major toccata, Beethoven's Opus 109 sonata, and Brahms' intricate variations on the guileless Handel theme were attacked one after another by the intrepid soloist.

Miss Boettcher has a certain fervency and conviction about her playing which permits her to play works of the size and importance of these without the sense of diffuseness and the lack of logic that mark the attempts of less confident pianists to scale such terrific peaks. There is a surge and spirit about her playing that helped her over some very dangerous places.

The Bach was marred by unnecessary tonal brittleness in a few of its more emphatic passages. The big sonata went very well, with genuine poetry in its sadly lyric themes. Miss Boettcher proved the magnitude of her technical endowment in the Brahms variations, although its quieter sequences seemed more satisfactory than its climaxes, possibly because of the tendency to tighten up [with its resultant harder tone] when some especially fearful page was in prospect.

When Trudi Schoop and her comic ballet return to the Studebaker theater next Sunday for afternoon and evening performances [the last this season] six pieces new to America will be included in both programs. "Fridolin" is scheduled for repetition.

Dollar Publicity Gets Soft Pedal in Movieland

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., Feb. 24.—[Special.]—In forthcoming movie productions you won't hear so much about individual films that cost $1,000,000; nor will you hear about actresses who wear $20,000 worth of furs in a single scene; nor of rainstorms that cost a studio $30,000 in delay and damage.

The new dictum from Will Hayes, "czar of movieland," is "no more dollar publicity." It seems the powers who control the movie industry have found reason to find new concern over the effect on the public of published details of the costliness of movie productions.

All the publicity departments have been warned not to declare or admit what salaries amount to, nor what the general expense of future films will be. The publication of income tax figures based on the returns of $250,000 a year executives and $150,000 a picture stars was the last straw, so to speak, for the persons who want to protect their six figure contracts.

If Marion Talley's first movie, "My Old Kentucky Home," goes over well she is under option to Republic Pictures for five more.

Alan Mowbray disappointed his director in "Brazen," in which he plays a multimillionaire Brazilian, by turning up with a brown mustache, when his hair is decidedly blonde. So every few days he has to dip his lip in golden dye. Mary Ellis is the star in this story.

Jack Oakie received an unusual letter of congratulation from a male fan. "Congratulations," it read. "I see you are still single and moreover you haven't bought any race horses."

Herbert Marshall has a British friend just arrived from London who has been picking up Americanisms with great success. He has a sad habit, however, of getting them twisted as happened yesterday when he was offered a drink. "No, thanks," he told his host, "I'm on the sprinkling cart."

The regular movie sound microphone so disturbed Helen Troy, radio artist making a film debut as phone operator in Claire Trevor's "Human Cargo," at Twentieth Century Fox, that her director, Allan Dwan, ordered a stationary "mike" installed at the switchboard as if it were part of the phone system, so as to catch Miss Troy's dialog.

"I'm used to a stationary microphone in radio studios," said Helen. "That movie mike out there on the end of a long fishpole hovers around like a seagull. It makes me nervous."

"Jiffy" Chic for Home Wear

WOMAN'S AND MISS' HOUSE FROCK.

Here is the latest and most charming version of that indispensable frock for every homemaker, the "jiffy" house dress. It has only one belt fastening, and opens out flat for ironing. Its simple wrap-around lines are glorified with an especially smart and beruffled collar. The frills also trim the pocket.

The original of this attractive frock, which may well exceed its primary purpose of practicality for home wear, and blossom out at picnics and on the beach, is created in printed fabric the background of which is an apricot shade, with white polka dots splashed generously over it. Any washable print would make up attractively. Choose your own pet color scheme.

Style No. 2551 is designed for sizes 14, 16, and 18 years, and 36, 38, and 40 inches bust measurement. Size 16 requires 3⅝ yards of 35 inch material, with ¼ yard of 35 inch contrasting for ruffles.

New and timely as the "first robin:" A veritable tonic for weary wardrobes, the spring and early summer edition of the Chicago Tribune Book of Clotilde Fashions. In it are presented all types of daytime clothes, "date" frocks, evening dresses, and special sections devoted to slenderizing models, house frocks, and scores of styles for juveniles. The booklet now is on sale for 15 cents, 10 cents when ordered with a pattern. Address Chicago Tribune, P. Evening Attire Demands Makeup on Exposed Arms and Back

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

For your "big occasion," which may mean a formal dinner date, or a theater and after-theater dance, there had better be no rush about the makeup items of your appearance.

You will be wearing your formal dress with the low back, the arms exposed and the front neckline as you please. But you are urged now to think of the picture you're going to make not from the success of your dress alone but including the neck, arms, back makeup along with the usual facial attention. For day wear you may get away with the face only being highlighted with the artificial aids. But for your big evening event nothing short of a big evening makeup will do.

Time and again one sees women at the opera, theater, or at night club tables whose exposed backs haven't been given a bit of makeup attention. Not that we expect you to paint on a mouth, a nose, and a pair of dramatically made up eyes back there, although that idea has occurred to me in an irresponsible moment. At least the back would be more interesting were a design of some sort presented in the low décolletage than some of the frowsy looking backs that have been seen.

No, you want all of the skin that shows to have a quality of refinement, arrived at by an all-over application of a foundation cream in liquid form and in powder shades to match your skin. Carry the foundation preparation and your powder down over your neck, the chest if it is exposed, over the shoulders, down the arms and all around the arms and down to where the low back ends [or begins, I don't know which you'd call it].

There isn't anything uglier than the prickly looking upper arm wearing a red blush which the night lights seem to highlight rather than dim. A liquid foundation, carefully applied, would take care of this. The whole round of the neck, not just the front, should be treated to an even color. It's little items like this that make one woman seem superior in grooming to the woman seated or standing next to her.

Disrespectful Conduct of Boy Often Invited

Girls Are Treated Only as They Permit.

BY DORIS BLAKE.

There are women in this world who simply invite the rotten treatment they get. We present one of the type today. Charlotte confesses to going around with a chap for three years and never getting a decent word out of him. They've gone through the formality of having an engagement announced, but from then on no mention of marriage has passed the young man's lips. Which isn't of nearly so much interest to us as the report from Charlotte that "when an argument arises the man calls her nasty names and slaps her face into the bargain!" What Charlotte can't understand is the fact that the boy comes from a nice family. It isn't any recent development in behavior, one learns from Charlotte about her sweetheart. He always has been that way.

Well, we claim that any woman who will take a second slapping has what's coming to her in contemptuous behavior. One session of nasty name calling would be about all that a woman with any degree of self-respect would take. The sheer surprise of either the verbal or the physical first slapping might justify that first submission. But never the second or the third! You are pleading for it when you stand around humbly waiting for more.

Understand, we don't approve the treatment. Neither do we approve young women making themselves easy victims. Indeed, we can't help but feel that a girl who would stick around for three years, more grateful for a slap in the face than not to be noticed, must eventually grow to like the treatment. Otherwise, why does she stand around with her face close enough to be rapped?

Don't ask us, as Charlotte has just done, to give the young man a good piece of our mind. We're not getting the slap or the dirty verbal cracks. We're not getting the nervous d.t.'s, as Charlotte confesses is her physical state at the moment.

"I always cry and when I do cry so hard I am sick and nervous for the rest of the week," she tells.

We can't substitute a backbone for that tear reservoir of yours, Charlotte! You must do something about it yourself. Not the young man. You're the one who is the "case" in this particular bit of history. It may help you to stiffen up to realize that once you've let yourself in for the kind of treatment recorded, you're due for a long series of it from the same young man. Of course, you could change your dancing partner [your suitor, that is] for one less given to physical punishment.

Outdoor Play on Winter Days Hardens Child

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

Yesterday's advice about keeping your small child off drafty floors in winter and arranging other places for him to play, was not in the least intended as "wrapping-in-cotton-wool" advice. It had nothing to do with outdoors.

Lots of fresh air in winter makes for health and hardihood. Dress the small one properly—so easy nowadays with the wonderful cozy snow suits or ski suits; choose if possible the good time of day, which is of course the sunny time; and let your child go out to play in virtually all kinds of weather. Winter rains of course are "out," and that heavy, penetrating damp is not so good. But see that he is active—standing around only chills him. It's the swift flowing blood and deep breathing that come with activity that make him glow.

But even this advice needs its warning. Bring your child in before he gets chilled. "O mommie, I'm not cold. Please let me stay out," is not necessarily your clue. Children aren't usually judges of their physical sensations. Also they can stand more of some kinds of weather than of others, so don't wait until your child is cold before you bring him indoors.

One more thing. Haven't you often noticed that if you've been out for a long walk or any active winter sport in cold weather that you frequently feel chilly, if you change at once to a usual weight house dress? I have found that it's best not to "peel" the small children right down when they come in—a light sweater left on, or some warm indoor clothing helps to equalize gradually the bodily temperature.

We have a leaflet of reading references on "Suggestions for the Physical Care of Babies and Children of All Ages." It will be sent out on receipt of a large, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Chicago Bradford Club Will Hear Principal

The Chicago Bradford club will give a tea this afternoon at the Three Arts club, 1300 North Dearborn street. Dr. Katharine M. Denworth, principal of Bradford Junior college, Bradford, Mass., and Mrs. Inez Knowlton, house mother, will speak informally.

NOBODY CAN BELIEVE THIS THE FIRST TIME

But just Try this Way of Making Ordinary Wave Last for Weeks! Saves Time, Trouble, Money

If your hair is hard to arrange, this will save time.

And if you have your hair waved it will save you money.

If your hairshafts are flat a wave will last for weeks. For many days, with hair of any type. Your hair will arrange easier, stay all day as you arranged it, and look better all the time.

Danderine positively does this — without any help from you! A few drops on your brush or comb, and it's done. Danderine's active formula does the rest.

A dash of Danderine daily will keep your hair so clean it will fairly shine. There will be no greasy accumulation on the scalp. Dandruff scale will go quickly because Danderine will dissolve it. And this stimulation has a salutary effect on dull, faded hair — gives it life and lustre.

Try a 35c bottle of Danderine; or the largest size; money back if you are not delighted.

In the name of Human Health and Happiness

SCIENCE MOVES FORWARD

WITH test tube, and beaker, and microscope, men have searched the unknown for new truths—truths that would mean the dawn of a fuller life for human beings.

In its march forward, Science has brought rich gifts to refrigeration—gifts for safeguarding the health of children, sparing the strength of women.

With the aid of modern scientific discovery, Kelvinator, pioneer in electric refrigeration, now offers a refrigerator far in advance of former standards—far more complete in its service to users—and far more economical in its cost of operation.

We feel justified in suggesting to all present users of mechanical refrigerators that they consider the greater service that modern science now makes possible in their homes.

Research and Invention have again created that situation, so typically American, that calls for replacement of something that was infinitely good with something, now, that is infinitely better.

VISIBLE COLD

Unless your refrigerator maintains a constantly low temperature, it fails in the one purpose for which you bought it. The controls of the 1936 Kelvinator are so sensitive and accurate that food compartment temperatures are ideal, regardless of how hot it is in the kitchen. And you can see what the temperature is, because the 1936 Kelvinator is equipped with a Built-In Thermometer that tells you, in unmistakable figures, that food is being kept surely, safely, dependably cold.

VISIBLE ECONOMY

When you buy a refrigerator, you have a right to ask what the operating cost will be—how much current your refrigerator will use—how great your savings will be. And so today, for the first time in the history of the industry, Kelvinator provides you with a Certificate of Low Cost of Operation. The 1936 Kelvinator uses only one-half or one-third as much current as many refrigerators which are now in use. The saving in current alone may well justify replacing your old refrigerator with the new Kelvinator.

VISIBLE PROTECTION

The time has arrived when you can demand that the manufacturer of a refrigerator provide you with written evidence of his confidence in the dependability of his product. You may know today, beyond a shadow of doubt, that the refrigerator you buy will give you long years of service, because the 1936 Kelvinator is backed by a 5-year Protection Plan, written and signed by the oldest company in the electric refrigeration industry.

N. U. DEFEATS WISCONSIN, 33 TO 28; PURDUE WINS

M'MICHAEL'S 19 POINT SPLURGE DECIDES BATTLE

Boilermakers Whip Minnesota, 34-29.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 24.—[Special.]—Northwestern won a basketball game from the slipping Badgers in the fieldhouse tonight, 33 to 28, largely because of an eagle-eyed forward by the name of Mike McMichaels.

Behind his great shooting the Wildcats zoomed into a 12-1 lead at the end of 10 minutes of play and a 16-3 advantage four minutes later.

Temporarily halted when the Badgers came from far behind to tie the score and twice grab the lead early in the second half, McMichaels came back with another flock of baskets and a free throw to stem the tide. When the final gun sounded he had accumulated 19 points. Five of his nine baskets came in the last 15 minutes. The first one tied the score at 19 all, after Rooney's two free throws had given the Badgers their first lead.

Stege, Wegner Lead Attack.

Big Ed Stege and Fritz Wegner led Wisconsin's middle-of-the-game rally and wound up with four baskets each.

The Badgers made four of their six chances at the free throw line and Northwestern got three out of eight. Only 12 personal fouls were called and they were equally divided.

PURDUE, 34; MINNESOTA, 29

Lafayette, Ind., Feb. 24.—[Special.]—Purdue went back into a tie for the Big Ten leadership here tonight. The Boilermakers scored their ninth conference victory in ten starts by beating Minnesota, 34 to 29, in a ragged game.

Once again it was Bob Kessler, left handed circus shot expert, who led Purdue in the scoring column. Kessler made four field goals and three free throws for eleven points, but was closely pressed for high point honors by Jim Seward, who turned in one of the best all-around performances of his career on defense and managed to sink five field goals.

Gophers Take Short Lead.

Leading, 9 to 2, with five minutes of the first half gone, Purdue's attempts at the basket suddenly started going wild, while Roscoe's one hand shots were going through with exasperating ease. With four minutes left to play in the half, Minnesota found itself in the lead, 12 to 9, but its joy was short lived as Kessler and Malaska combined to give Purdue a 15 to 13 lead at the intermission.

The Gophers were always a threat and never fell more than eight points in the ruck, but they made their last serious bid at the start of the second period when a brief flurry tied the count at 17 to 17.

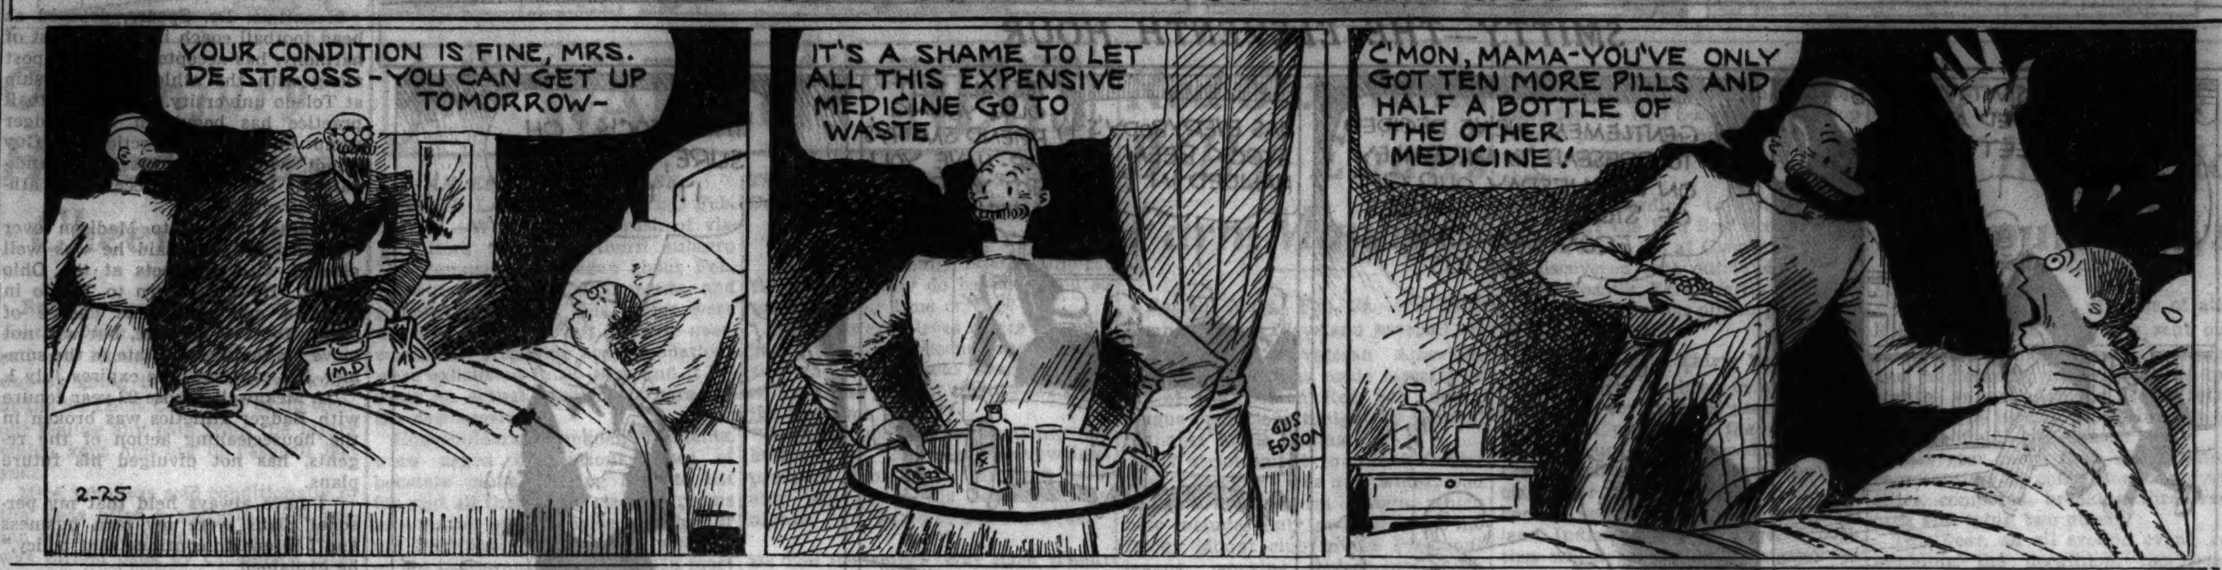
THE GUMPS—WASTE NOT—WANT NOT



SOX START DRILL; DYKES GIVES UP AFTER 8 MINUTES

Worries Over Whitehead Are Dispelled.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Pasadena, Cal., Feb. 24.—The year's first session of muscle stretching for the first squad of White Sox today was just a lot of harmless fun. The pace established by the usually tireless Jimmy Dykes, the manager, was extremely mild and the boys took their cues from the boss. He worked exactly eight minutes and then sat down for a lengthy rest, meanwhile going to extra trouble to assure wisecracking scribes that the light air is extremely tough on the breathing for the first couple of days.

The inaugural drill covered about two hours, with halts in between to meet the demands of the customary first day photographers. However, the workout, as light as it was, accomplished some good. A few of the athletes actually broke out in a sweat, helped in this particular by the unexpected return of sunshine. Even the natives were surprised and relieved about this. They hadn't seen the sun for so long that they had exhausted the supply of handy phrases used on tourists to explain unusual weather.

Whitehead in Good Shape.

While resting from his strenuous eight minute workout Dykes was able to size up the different waist lines of his charges and was so well pleased with what he saw that his breathing immediately became easier. His chief interest in this connection was the circumference of John Henderson Whitehead, last season's sensational pitching rookie. Whitehead, who arrived from Texas this morning, is more than a few pounds lighter than when he went home last fall.

Whitehead, who is not given to lengthy conversation, replied "hunting" when asked to account for the pleasing shrinkage. He didn't admit he had been careful about his diet as the result of repeated warnings from club headquarters. Anyway, Dykes was happy to learn his prize youngster was making a serious effort to lift himself from the fat men's class. This doesn't mean, however, that Whitehead isn't going to be given enough work to assure removal of about ten more pounds before the season gets under way.

Haas, Piet Pack Beef.

A few waistlines that will have to be melted down by a couple of belt notches are the property of Mule Haas, the only outfielder present, and Second Baseman Tony Piet, one of the four infielders listed with the early arrivals. Dykes will have them properly reduced in another week. The manager himself is bulging slightly, but hasn't much hope of restoring himself to the Adonis class. The extra poundage has been there too long. Ageing legs are going to be of more concern to the 38 year old manager than an extensive waistline.

The drill was enlivened by two unscheduled happenings. A wild jack rabbit and the famous Babe Herman, alumnus of various National league clubs, visited the park. The stray rabbit unintentionally gave the athletes some needed exercise. They chased it all over the premises until it found shelter under the grandstand after dodging a steady barrage of baseballs and gloves.

Herman drove over from his home in Glendale because he had nothing else to do. The Babe has refused to sign the contract tendered him by the Cincinnati club. It isn't exactly the salary that is bothering the fellow. Apparently he didn't think much of the Reds' scheme of going to Porto Rico to train. He is going to condition himself out here and sign his contract when the joining up with his mates will involve less travel.

Everybody slated for membership in the first squad has been accounted for with the exception of Italo Chelini, the only southpaw pitcher on the roster. His absence isn't going to wreck the American league.

A FIGHT FAN'S FEAST—THREE RINGS AT ONCE

Boxing fans who witnessed the opening of the Tournament of Champions at the Chicago Stadium last night didn't have to look far for action as the four lighter classes went to work on their campaign for Golden Gloves. In fact, they had a busy time keeping track of all that was going on in the three rings. The same three will be used tonight, when the four heavier divisions begin punching, and tomorrow night, when the field for the championship finals, to be held at the Stadium on March 6, will be chosen. Golden Gloves Tickets

The Golden Gloves Tournament of Champions swings into its second round tonight when welterweights, middleweights, light heavyweights and heavyweights climb into three rings at the Chicago Stadium for battles guaranteed to thrill every spectator.

You'll want tickets, of course. They will be on sale downtown all day today at the Tribune Public Service office, 1 South Dearborn street, and in the lobby of Tribune Tower.

Also, beginning at 10 o'clock this morning, they can be purchased in the box office at Gate No. 2 on the Madison street side of the Stadium.

Prices are $1.10, 66 cents, 40 cents and 25 cents. The 25 cent general admission tickets will be put on sale at 6 o'clock this evening at Gates 1, 3 and 6 at the Stadium.

The same ticket arrangements will prevail for the third round of the Tournament of Champions tomorrow night.

Mail orders are still being accepted for the finals at the Stadium March 6. Seats are 55 cents, $1.10 and $1.65. Send check or money order to the Golden Gloves Ticket Manager, Tribune Tower, Chicago, or call in person at the Public Service office, 1 South Dearborn street, or in the lobby of Tribune Tower.

Finish Novice Semi-Final Bouts Tonight

The last of the semi-final bouts in Chicago's novice Golden Gloves tournament, being held in conjunction with the Tournament of Champions at Chicago Stadium, will be fought tonight. This match will involve Bob Chan and Walter Balasa, both of the Catholic Youth organization. The winner will qualify for a title bout with Frank Eder, also of the C. Y. O. in tomorrow's championship round. Pairings for the other novice championship bouts are:

112 POUNDS—Walter Cavalerei, C. Y. O., and William Cooper, unattached.

HEAVYWEIGHT—Percy Daniels, Woodlawn A. C., and John Surina, Elmhurst Travelers.

Leo Rodak, Johnny Baltzer, Johnny Fay, and Frankie May were among professional boxers who served as seconds at the Stadium last night. All four handled winners. Rodak, 1931, 1932, and 1933 Golden Gloves champion, seconded his young brother, Steve, to a two round technical knockout triumph over Don Beddow, Terre Haute, Ind., flyweight. Steve came out of the fight with a swollen forehead. Administrations by Leo and his bicycle riding brother, Mickey, caused the swelling to go down, thus enabling Steve to continue his title battle.

Freddy Caserio, 1931 and 1933 Golden Gloves middleweight title holder, and Sammy Frager, former United States navy champion, attracted attention in the basement dressing rooms by demonstrating various punches.

Louis C. Rightmire, father of Everett Rightmire, pro featherweight contender, is here with the Sioux City, Ia., team. He has high hopes for Bob Morley, the Sioux City lightweight representative.

Verne Patterson, Savoy A. C., lightweight, left an impression with the large crowd by the manner in which he beat Art Tate of Cleveland. Patterson, 18 years old, has been de-

Robert Furey of the Owl-Indian Athletic club appears to be making a diving tackle of John Culler, competing unattached, in their 118 pound class battle in the competition for Chicago novice boxers. Furey threw enough punches, however, during the three rounds of the fight to win the decision.

BY FRENCH LANE.

The air rang with cheers at Chicago Stadium, where 9,879 persons gathered last night to see the opening of THE TRIBUNE's ninth annual Golden Gloves Tournament of Champions.

The dinner hour was hardly over when six flyweights climbed into three rings and the fight was on.

They were the first of the champions from 16 states who will march in and out of those rings in a three day amateur fistic carnival that has taken top place in world boxing affairs.

More Battles Tonight.

There will be five more hours of fighting tonight and five more hours tomorrow night. Then that original starting field of 17,000, which had been reduced to 364 before last night's battles started, will be whittled to thirty-two.

Then those mighty men who have whipped all these fellows will return to the Stadium on March 6 to clear up this year's Golden Gloves champion situation.

The battles on the three ring Stadium front last night brought into action all the light artillery corps of the Golden Gloves army. Tonight, on the same trio of battlegrounds, the big guns of amateur boxing will begin to roar, when the welterweights, middleweights, light heavies and heavies flail at one another's chins.

Decisive Bouts Tomorrow.

The big boys will engage in approximately 128 combats tonight, and the victors, as was the case with the smaller fellows last night, will move into the decisive campaign of tomorrow night, a struggle that will see fighting in three rings for the third straight night.

Cheers went up and a lot of tears were shed when Johnny Brown of Chicago and Patsy Urso of Detroit came together last night in the battle which probably settled the 118 pound championship.

Both were great favorites with the crowd. Both were members of Chicago's championship team last year. Urso was the flyweight title holder then and Brown the bantamweight standard bearer. Patsy had grown slightly during the last year so the "cut of the cards" found him squaring away against his former teammate.

Urso Puts Up a Fight.

Urso had fought Junior O'Neal of Oklahoma City in an earlier bout and had all he could do to take care of that hard punching southwesterner. In the first round it appeared as if the Oklahoman would win off by himself. Patsy put on one of his old time rallies and snatched the decision.

Brown had drawn a bye in the first round of competition. So Johnny was full of fight when he came out and Patsy had little left. Still the Detroit boy was good enough to hammer Brown all around the ring late in the second round.

For these few seconds it appeared as if Brown was doomed. But he wasn't. He came back in the third session and with a terrific right floored Urso for a count of nine. Patsy bobbed up. He was too game to stay down. Brown hit him again. Down went Patsy and that was the end of the fight, for the referee decided to intervene. Brown fought like a champion of the world and beat one of the gamest kids that ever crawled into a ring for an amateur scrap.

Scrivani Marches on.

This was the high spot of one of the most interesting sessions ever offered at a Golden Gloves tournament. Brown's teammate, Andy Scrivani from the Catholic Youth organization, kept pace with him and knocked out Carl Brade of Iowa City in the first round of their bout. Andy is now a lightweight.

Brown and Scrivani are the only champions of last year left in the wild scramble.

The thousands who thrilled to the punching on last night's program witnessed a typical Golden Gloves show. Within the confines of each of those rings there were no restrictions. Once a boy clambered through the ropes all thought of race, creed, or calling was completely forgotten. It was at this point, before the bell sounded, that those in the crowd knew the leveling influence of the world's greatest boxing tournament, one that sent each boxer into the ring with the objective of winning a Golden Glove.

It didn't matter whether one boy was a collegian from Omaha and the other a butcher boy from Cleveland, nor whether they were Jews, Catholics, or Negroes. Each stepped into his corner with a singleness of purpose that was unanimous throughout the field. He knew that he had six minutes in which to prove his right to continue the fight for a Golden Glove.

Little Fellows Can Punch.

Some of those little fellows, for all their lack of pounds, didn't need those six minutes last night. They hammered at their opponents until they hollered enough. Others didn't find it so easy. They were forced to go the full six minutes, and to put everything into every punch they threw in order to eliminate plucky, tough chinned youngsters who would not go down.

If there was no partisanship inside the three rings, there was plenty of it popping up all night in the big west side house. None of the boys lacked for support, for there were as many hometowners rooting for the boxers from other cities as there were Chicagoans cheering for the lads from our north, south and west sides.

The pluck of many of these invaders brought yells even from local fans, and frequently a Chicago delegation hollered its head off for a stockyards hustler from Sioux City or a newsboy from Dayton.

OTIS THOMAS BEATS BELANGER IN TEN ROUNDS

Otis Thomas, former Golden Glove heavyweight champion, achieved an outstanding victory last night when he beat Charley Belanger, Winnipeg veteran, in 10 rounds at the Marigold Gardens. Thomas baffled Belanger by switching frequently from a right hand to a southpaw stance. He scored the harder punches and was the aggressor throughout. It was his fifth victory in six professional fights. His other scrap was a draw with Adolph Wiater.

Adam Smith, Freeport heavyweight, also a former Golden Glove champion, beat Tom Dawson in the five round semi-windup. Other results:

Jack Moran beat Einar Hedquist [4].
Wilmer Van and Sammy Scoglio drew, [4].
Fred Wagner knocked out Roy Raymond, [2].

DARTMOUTH STAR STILL IN DANGER AFTER OPERATION

Hanover, N. H., Feb. 24.—(AP)—Latta McCray of Dayton, O., Darmouth college football star, who was seriously injured while skiing, remained in a critical condition at the college infirmary tonight.

McCray's ski snapped as he was descending a steep hill Saturday night and jammed against his side. He was operated upon yesterday by Dr. John M. Gile for a ruptured spleen and given two blood transfusions.

Dr. Gile's bulletin tonight said the condition of the 21 year old junior was "very satisfactory, although he is still on the danger list."

TERRY AND THE PIRATES—PUTTING THE PANHANDLE ON A PEACH

SMITTY—THE ELEVENTH HOUR

feated only once in his last 84 contests. He is being coached by Bob Howard. Howard trained Otis Thomas in the 1934 Golden Gloves meet. Otis went on to the heavyweight title.

The Most Rev. Bernard J. Sheil, director of the C. Y. O., and a party of four arrived in time to see Johnny Brown, C. Y. O. bantamweight score a technical knockout over Patsy Urso.

There are four married men on the Fort Wayne squad, one of whom is the heavyweight candidate, Roland Hayes. Hayes is the father of five children.

The Indianapolis Times team showed up without a flyweight. Jim Williams won the championship but he was unable to compete because of a broken hand.

Golden Gloves graduates, most of whom are now fighting professionally, are in charge of several out-of-town teams. They include George Van Der Hayden, coach of the South Bend News-Times contingent; Curtis Brown, with the squad representing the Milwaukee bureau of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE; George Meyers, with the Quincy Herald-Whig color bearers; Marshall Leach, with the Gary representatives; Adolph Wiater, with the Green Bay Press Gazette team, and Cliff [Peanuts] Schieberl, handler of the Davenport Times squad.

Last night's fights were more evenly waged than they have been in previous championship tournaments. This was made possible by officials who placed contestants in two groups—those from the large cities being placed in one and those from the small centers being placed in the other. The lads in the main group were members of teams from Cleveland, Cincinnati, Milwaukee, Louisville, Minneapolis, Nashville, Omaha, Oklahoma City, Dayton, Indianapolis, Detroit, St. Louis, Kansas City, and Chicago, including the Catholic Youth organization.

Patsy Urso, Detroit bantamweight, winner of the flyweight title at the Stadium last year, just made the required poundage. He scaled 119 pounds. Johnny Brown of the C. Y. O., defending bantamweight king, came in at 117. Ted Kara, Cleveland's featherweight champion, who whipped Troy Bellini and Pat Kelly to qualify for the Tournament of Champions, and Andy Scrivani, 1935 featherweight winner, fighting as a lightweight this year, easily made the stipulated weight. Kara, 19 years old, tipped the beam at 125 pounds and Scrivani, at 134.

The heaviest flyweights include Delmar Rawland, St. Louis; Jackie Wilson, Cleveland; Bud Vinyard, Centralia; Billy Mitchell, Sioux City; Larry Vahlkamp, Quincy; Dean Miller, Kokomo; Jimmy Hand, Oklahoma City; Gene Stadler, Dayton; Jesse Robinson, Northwest gymnasium, Chicago; Jimmy Urso, Detroit; Jim Taylor, Michigan City, and Lester Pooley, Nashville. Each weighed in at the limit of 113. The lightest was Milton Cashman, Cedar Rapids, who came in at 104. The oldest competitor in this division comes from Bloomington. He is Nick Veselak, 111 pounds, who is 24 years old.

The Milwaukee delegation appeared with two replacements due to injuries. George Kotridimos, featherweight, was substituted for Richard Gonyo of Waukesha, who suffered a broken nose in his title victory, and Harold Ullmer, last year's Milwaukee color bearer, supplanted Lou Warner, who caught a cinder in his eye.

6 New Boxers Are Signed for Stadium Show

Six new candidates will appear in the five supporting bouts to the Lorenzo Pack-Cowboy Frankie Edgren ten rounder which tops the eighth round of the heavyweight tournament at Chicago Stadium Friday. The names of these first starters were announced yesterday by Matchmaker James C. Mullen as follows:

Irwin Streibel, St. Louis, Mo., 225 pounds.
Phil Sommess, New York, N. Y., former Golden Gloves, 182 pounds.

Kimrey will oppose Streibel, Sommese is paired with Johnny Erjavec, Masters will clash with Eddie Boyls, Janek is matched to meet Max Zona, and Ketchell will fight Bob Tow. Each contest is set for six rounds. Winner of the tournament will be eligible for a scrap with Joe Louis, 1934 Chicago Golden Gloves titleholder.

Promoter Billy Mitchell has opened negotiations for an encounter between Lorenzo Pack and Adolph Wiater of Green Bay, Wis., at Milwaukee late next month. He also plans a contest involving the Billy Celebron-Chuck Woods and Frank Sagilio-Puggy Weinert winners March 11. Celebron and Woods box March 4 and Sagilio and Weinert fought last night. Pack is booked to battle Tony Galento at Detroit March 6. F. M.

WHEREABOUTS OF HANK LEIBER PROVES MYSTERY

Phoenix, Ariz., Feb. 24.—(AP)—The whereabouts of Hank Leiber, hard hitting young New York Giants' outfielder, was as big a mystery tonight as whether he will sign a contract for the 1936 season.

Leiber, who was unable to patch up his salary differences with Bill Terry, Giants' manager, was announced today by J. F. McKale, director of athletics at the University of Arizona, as the new baseball coach.

Friends of Leiber, who declined to be quoted, said they understood he countered a $10,000 offer from the Giants with a demand for $15,000, but later offered to compromise for $12,500.

Observers expressed the opinion that the best possible salary Leiber could draw from the university as baseball coach and perhaps assistant in other sports would be from $1,500 to $2,500 a year.

Others couldn't understand why the university needs a new baseball coach, as the Wildcats won 19 out of 20 games last season against some of the best teams in the west.

Madison Folk Forget Sports, Talk Weather

Madison, Wis., Feb. 24.—[Special.]—The athletic situation at the University of Wisconsin has settled itself so thoroughly for the moment that folks are talking about the weather again.

For a couple of days after the board of regents culminated more than two months of turmoil by ousting Dr. Clarence W. Spears and Dr. Walter E. Meanwell, along with Trainer Bill Fallon, there were countless rumors, but they didn't mean much because the university still is without machinery to start reconstructing the athletic department.

Spears Is All Set.

Meantime, Dr. Spears, deposed as head football coach in the interest of harmony, has accepted a similar post along with the athletic directorship at Toledo university. Spring football practice has begun in the Badger camp under the direction of Guy Sundt, who appears the No. 1 candidate for Meanwell's successor as athletic director.

Spears returned to Madison over the week-end and said he was well pleased with prospects at the Ohio school. He will return to Toledo in about a month to take charge of spring football practice, but will not move his family until late in the summer. His contract here expires July 1.

Dr. Meanwell, whose 22 year tenure with Badger athletics was broken in the housecleaning action of the regents, has not divulged his future plans.

"I have always held that my personal plans were my own business and I intend to continue that policy," he explained.

They'll Start Over Again.

Minus a head football coach, trainer, and athletic director, and five members of the faculty board, who resigned when the regents threw out their recommendation to fire Spears and retain Meanwell, the rebuilding process must start with the selection of a new faculty body. Its members will be selected by President Glenn Frank, subject to approval of the regents.

But today, so far as could be learned, no board has been chosen by Dr. Frank and no meeting of the regents has been called before the next regular session, March 10 and 11.

tled valiantly tonight to present a victory to their retiring coach, Craig Ruby, on the occasion of his last home game, but Michigan won a fast and exciting battle, 42 to 37. The Illini got away to a good start and led at half time, 23 to 22. Early in the second half the Wolverines made it a tie, 24 to 24, and then forged ahead.

Deadly accuracy at the free throw circle spelled the difference. Michigan's shooters made ten out of 14 free throws, while the Illini made only five out of 14.

Harry Combes of Illinois was high scorer with 19 points. Rudness, Michigan guard who was a big factor in the triumph of the Wolverines, led his team with ten points.

Ruby was honored between halves. In behalf of friends in the university and Champaign and Urbana, Dean M. T. McClure presented him with a chest of silver.

MAROONS AND BLACKHAWKS TO BATTLE TONIGHT

Chicago Seeks Its First Victory on Canadian Ice.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTREAL, Que., Feb. 24.—The Chicago Blackhawks, bent on scoring their first victory of the National Hockey league season on a Canadian rink, will arrive here tomorrow morning for their battle with the world champion Montreal Maroons at the Forum tomorrow night.

The Hawks have already skated onto the ice in the league's two Canadian cities six times, but have yet to register a victory. They have played three consecutive ties with the Canadiens, lost two overtime decisions to the Toronto Maple Leafs, and have been beaten once by the Maroons.

Tomorrow night's battle brings together a team which is tied for the lead in the Canadian section and a club which holds second place in the American division. The Maroons are tied with Toronto, while the Hawks, a game and a half back of Detroit, hold second place down by the same margin over the New York Rangers.

Gottselig Still Out.

Victory of the Hawks tomorrow would leave them only half a game back of Detroit, which will be idle until Thursday evening. The Chicagoans will not play that evening. Immediately after tomorrow's game, they will entrain for Toronto, to open practice for their Saturday night battle with the Leafs there. After that game, they will return to Chicago to meet the Rangers at the Stadium Sunday night.

The Hawk squad arriving here tomorrow will be intact, except for Johnny Gottselig, star left wing who was injured last week against the Canadiens. Gottselig will undergo further treatment for the torn ligaments in his right shoulder in Chicago, but will rejoin the team during the drill session at Toronto.

Hawks Show Improvement.

The Hawks played their best hocky of the year in whipping Toronto at Chicago Sunday night, winning with their largest goal total of the season, 5 to 1. Not only did their No. 1 line of Paul Thompson, Mush March, and Doc Romnes, deliver in great style, but the defense trio of Earl Seibert, Marty Burke, and Alex Levinsky played a smashing game in front of Mike Karakas. Only Buzz Boll's third period goal kept the angular Croat from scoring his eighth shutout of the season.

Official scoring records released today by the league's offices show the Romnes-Thompson-March line leading the entire league as a trio, with a total of 91 points. The figures also reveal Romnes leading the American section with 32 points, 1 more than Thompson and 3 more than March, who is tied for third place with Cecil Dillon of the Rangers, each holding 29 points. Sweeney Schreiner of the Americans heads the entire league with 37 points.

Karakas vs. Chabot.

Tomorrow night's game brings Karakas against Lorne Chabot, former Hawk who won the Vezina trophy last year for the first time, since Chicago sold Chabot to the Canadiens, who then traded him to the Maroons. In the five games Chabot has played for the Maroons since the deal, Chabot has allowed 17 goals against Karakas' 15 for the same period.

The lineup for tomorrow:

Karakas	G	Chabot
Wiebe	L. D.	Shields
Seibert	R. D.	L.Conacher
McFadyen	C	R. Smith
Ouellette	L. W.	Northcott
Larochelle	R. W.	Ward

MAROONS BEAT MINNESOTA IN GYMNASTIC MEET

University of Chicago gymnasts defeated Minnesota, 1,143.25 to 1,117.5, in a Big Ten dual meet last night at the Midway. Capt. Emory Fair of the Maroons won the horizontal bar and flying rings events, while Minnesota took the other three firsts.

Dech placed first on the side horse, Johnson nosed out Fair on the parallel bars and Matison captured the tumbling, but an edge in total point ratings of the entire team gave Chicago a victory.

OLD MAN GRIMM DRIVES OUT FIRST HOMER OF SEASON

Cubs Bear Down When Camera Men Leave.

Grimm On First

AVALON, Cal., Feb. 24.—[Special.]—For the first time since he became manager of the Cubs in August, 1932, Charley Grimm tonight gave one of his famous old time banjo recitals.

"I feel better physically and mentally than I've felt for three years," Grimm said. "Unless a relapse hits me, I am going to be the Cubs' regular first baseman in 1936. It certainly seems great to feel like I do after all the disappointments that ailing back of mine has given me. And wasn't it great to find a swell banjo like this one just at the right time?"

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Avalon, Cal., Feb. 24.—Charley Grimm's sly and cautious comeback campaign was given a blood transfusion in today's Cub practice. He busted the first homer of the year.

Of course Charley's swat was just a batting practice homer, in the very first batting practice at that. But it made the skipper happier than anything that's happened since his boys won the pennant with their 21st straight victory last September.

There is something about lumbago, the imp that rendered Grimm hors de combat last year, that doesn't allow the knocking of even practice homers. Grimm's comeback has been up to lumbago. He can't hit homers with lumbago. He can without it. Grimm hit a homer. Therefore lumbago is no longer present in the hide of Charley Grimm, Q. E. D.

Mr. Grimm Is Cautious.

Grimm says he is getting in shape so he can play first base if Phil Cavarretta gets stomach miseries like he did several days last season after eating too many raviolis. And, Charley says, maybe he can do some pinch batting.

That's all caution, if you ask us. Just an old gent of 37 who knows that old gents shouldn't get too far out on the limb before they make sure those ancient sinews are nice and rubbery.

If those sinews are as rubbery as they were when Charley socked that practice homer this morning you can put it in your loose-leaf tablet that young Philip will be chased so deep in the dugout he'll have to have a miner's lamp to find his way out.

Shoun Is Courageous.

It just happened that Grimm's inspiring homer was made off Lefty Shoun, which establishes Lefty as a really courageous fellow. As the batting practice before the first game of the world series was winding up Manager Grimm, though on the retired list at the time, invited Shoun to pitch him just one. Grimm slapped it back at Lefty a mile a minute. The net of the demonstration was a broken thumb which Shoun nursed all winter. Grimm's reaction to this misfortune was in marked contrast with his elation over the smack today.

The practice today was executed under the warmest sun the Cubs have seen this year. For a time the scene was cluttered by movie-sound gents, who have been taking nothing but horse pictures for weeks. You should see today's workout at your favorite cinema on next week's bill. Grimm accommodated the cameramen, but did not let the program slow up with any still life sittings.

Some Infield Drill.

Half of the pitchers worked out on the mound yesterday, while the other half batted, with Grimm, Hartnett, Hack, and Grimm. Herman came out with the first squad, but today was his first in uniform. After the batting practice a stiff infield drill was staged, with Grimm at first, Herman at second, Hartnett at shortstop, Hack at third, and Stephenson catching.

Aside from Trainer Andy Lotshaw's personal charley horse, there isn't an ache or pain in camp.

MORE CUBS LEAVE

The second detachment of Cubs departed for their Catalina Island training camp last night over the Los Angeles Limited of the Chicago and North Western railway. The party included Capt. Woody English, third baseman; Chuck Klein, outfielder; Phil Cavarretta, first baseman; Johnny Gill, recruit outfielder, and Danny Cahill, veteran fan, who was too ill to leave with the battery squad last week.

Second Baseman Chiozza Signs Contract with Phils

Memphis, Tenn., Feb. 24.—[Special.]—After having previously returned his first contract with the Philadelphia Phillies, Second Baseman Lou Chiozza today announced that he had signed to play and was well satisfied with the terms.

Notre Dame and Minnesota Meet This Afternoon

Minnesota is the only team in more than a decade to hold the Irish without a field goal during an entire half. On the strength of this performance, the Gophers held an 11 to 6 lead at the half in their game at Minneapolis in January. Notre Dame finally won, 29 to 27.

Tomorrow's game was shifted from evening to afternoon to avoid a conflict with the pre-lenten religious program at Notre Dame.

Old Injury Healed; Mize Cheers Cards

Bradentown, Fla., Feb. 24.—(AP)—Johnny Mize brought cheer to himself and Manager Frankie Frisch today by going through two workouts at the St. Louis Cardinals' camp without feeling any pain from the injury which kept him out of baseball last year.

Mize, who was sold conditionally to the Reds after a succesful 1934 season with Rochester, a Cardinal farm, was turned back by Cincinnati after the 1935 training season. Last winter he underwent an operation for removal of growths on his pelvic bones.

Frisch expects to have his whole squad, except the recalcitrant Dean brothers, on the field tomorrow for two workouts.

SENATORS OPEN CAMP.

Orlando, Fla., Feb. 24.—(AP)—A dozen rookies capered over Tinker field today as the Washington Senators opened their spring training camp with Buddy Lewis and Monte Weaver drawing chief attention.

Lewis is the 19 year old Chattanooga recruit whom Manager Bucky Harris has slated for third base. Weaver is the former Washington pitcher who was optioned to Albany last year. Weaver says he is in good shape and ready to regain his job with the Senators.

GIANT SQUAD COMPLETE.

Pensacola, Fla., Feb. 24.—(AP)—The arrival of Carl Hubbel, Hal Schumacher and Dick Coffman today brought the New York Giants' pitching corps to full strength for the launching of spring training. Manager Bill Terry did not ask any of the men for an extended workout. They jogged around the diamond several times and tossed the ball about for two hours and then quit.

CHICK HAFEY WANTS COAST LEAGUE JOB

Walnut Creek, Cal., Feb. 24.—[Special.]—Chick Hafey, formerly one of the outstanding hitters in the major leagues, today revealed that he is seeking to return to baseball. Hafey, batting champion in the National league five years ago, who has been living on his 26 acre farm near here, said he would like to play in the Pacific Coast league.

"The Cincinnati Reds still own my contract and Manager Charley Dressen said I wouldn't have to report to the club until next May," Hafey said.

CARROLL BEATS LAKE FOREST FIVE, 39 TO 31

Waukesha, Wis., Feb. 24.—[Special.]—Carroll college tonight defeated Lake Forest, 39 to 31. The pioneers led, 22 to 9, at the half, and never were headed. James Knoblauch continued his scoring spurt for Carroll by making six baskets and five free throws for 17 points. Emery led Lake Forest with eight points.

The Carroll frosh beat Lake Forest's yearlings in a preliminary game, 54 to 30.

Hornsby Joins Browns; It's Mickey, a Catcher

Porterville, Cal., Feb. 24.—(AP)—Kenneth [Mickey] Hornsby, 20 years old, who was a high school baseball star here before his graduation in 1933, has been offered a tryout with the St. Louis Browns and will leave soon for San Antonio to begin training as a catcher.

AN EMERGENCY CASE.

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla., Feb. 24.—When frenzied rush of visitors from northern subzero temperatures began about Feb. 1, owners of hotels, apartments, and rooming houses in this sector were not only overjoyed but likewise overwhelmed. Available accommodations were exhausted in no time and it became an actual problem to care for the newcomers.

Householders, permanent residents, were urged by various types of boosters' clubs thriving here to list for rent all their extra sleeping rooms as a matter of civic pride, whether or not they needed the money, whether or not they wanted roomers. In most instances they complied, not always with happy experiences.

Perhaps the greatest difficulty was with motorists who arrived in the evening with no time to look anywhere but wanting a bed, tired and worn by their experiences in driving over icy roads farther north. Accordingly local chambers of commerce enlisted volunteers, in addition to the regular staf, to keep their offices open to midnight to help those unfortunates with money to spend but no place to spend it.

On one such night two ladies driving a car from Michigan, arrived here at 11 o'clock. They were what is known as "all in." The C. of C. got busy, but all the places had been exhausted by earlier comers. Repeated phone calls brought no result. So they were informed, they probably could find something by driving on the 23 miles to Miami.

August Burghard, executive secretary, wrinkled his brows in this dilemma. He is a former newspaper man, therefore resourceful. He called up the local hospital.

"How many vacant beds have you in the hospital tonight?" queried Mr. B.

"Two," replied the intern, "but at this late hour we can accept only emergency cases."

"This is an emergency case," rejoined the C. of C. secretary. "We'll send two ladies right over."

"Have you notified the surgeon and what preparations shall we make?" asked the intern.

"No operation will be necessary until morning," assured the exponent of duplicity.

Next morning the hospital called the C. of C. to know the nature of the operations, to receive the reply, "The operation is when you present your bill."

The ladies, after a good sleep in hospital nighties, which they had been admonished not to object to, were satisfied with the charge and later found a small apartment for two months, thus becoming patrons of local merchants. Efficient chaps, these C. of C. secretaries.

Lawson Little and Bride Win in Mixed Foursome

Belleair, Fla., Feb. 24.—(AP)—W. Lawson Little, United States and British amateur champion, teamed with his bride today to win a one day two ball mixed foresome handicap golf tournament. They had a gross score of 85 and a net of 70. W. G. Davidson and Mrs. Helen B. Stetson, former women's national champion, were second with a gross of 87 and a net of 73.

Red Sox Name Billy Evans Farm Manager

Boston, Mass., Feb. 24.—(AP)—Billy Evans, former Cleveland baseball executive and a veteran American league umpire, was made director of all of the Boston Red Sox' minor league operations tonight by General Manager Eddie Collins.

His appointment indicated Owner Tom Yawkey plans widespread changes in his farm system, which now includes only ownership of the Rocky Mount club in the Piedmont league, working agreements with Syracuse in the International league and Little Rock and Memphis in the Southern association.

Yawkey Seeks Rookies.

Although Collins refused to disclose the club's immediate plans, reports were that Yawkey, who has spent millions purchasing tested stars for the Red Sox, would develop future players by operating a system similar to the famous St. Louis chain.

Evans, according to Collins, also will direct the Red Sox' scouting activities, as he did at Cleveland where he discovered such outstanding stars as Joe Vosmik, Earl Averill, Wes Ferrell, current Boston pitching ace, and Dick Porter.

Umpired for Thirty Years.

Evans, who has been in professional baseball for about 30 years, started out as an umpire in the old Ohio-Penn league. He advanced quickly to the American league, where he officiated for more than 20 years. He became general manager of the Cleveland Indians five years ago, a position which he recently resigned because of salary differences.

100 Colleges Are Invited to Armour Relays

John J. Schommer, director of athletics at Armour Tech, has sent out invitations to more than 100 colleges and universities to compete in the eighth annual Armour Tech relay games to be held in the University of Chicago fieldhouse March 21.

Last year more than 400 athletes, representing 36 colleges and universities, competed, breaking three records and tying two others.

This year, an all around event, resembling the decathlon, has been added. This will begin in the afternoon and continue in the evening. Each contestant will be required to compete in seven events: the 16 pound shot, pole vault, broad jump, 60 yard dash, 70 yard high hurdles, and the half-mile run.

HORSEMEN PLAN INTERNATIONAL RACE MEETINGS

Hope to Start Series in United States.

New York, Feb. 24.—[Special.]—Members of a special committee of the nation's turf authorities will meet in Louisville, Ky. during Kentucky Derby week to formulate plans for an organization to inaugurate an international race, it was announced by John F. Shevlin, secretary of the New York state racing commission today.

The first race meeting will be held in the United States, according to Shevlin with the ensuing meetings being held in various countries where racing is a recognized sport.

Plan Comprehensive Program.

According to present plans several races at various distances will be held on different days. This will enable a complete representation of both sprinters and distance horses.

At present there is recognized racing in the countries of Europe and in India, South Africa, Egypt, Japan, Australia and New Zealand as well as the countries of South America. The foremost horses of all of these nations will be sought for the international event, Shevlin stated.

Swope Heads Committee.

The committee, appointed by Walter H. Donovan, president of the National Association of State Racing commissioners, has as its chairman Herbert Bayard Swope. Others on the committee are Joseph E. Widener, vice chairman; Jervis Spencer, Edwin James Brown, John D. Hertz, Frank Ortell, Carleton F. Burke and Charles F. Adams.

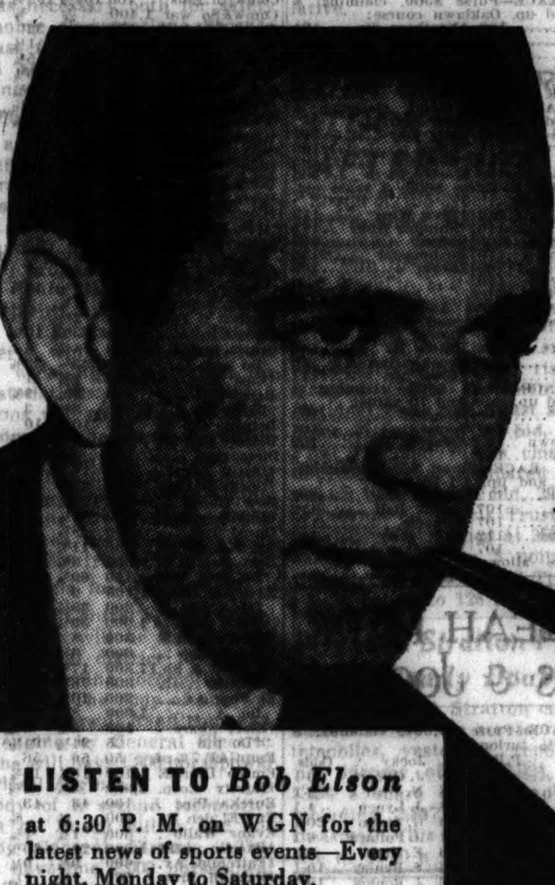
Bob Elson SPONSORS SENSATIONAL NEW PIPE TOBACCO



WE PAY TWICE THE COST IF KENTUCKY CLUB HASN'T TWICE THE TASTE OF ANY TOBACCO YOU EVER SMOKED

LISTEN TO Bob Elson at 6:30 P. M. on WGN for the latest news of sports events—Every night, Monday to Saturday.

Smoke Kentucky Club—the milder tobacco with a better aroma!

BY BOB ELSON

HELLO, EVERYBODY, this is Bob Elson broadcasting to you in print because I want not only my radio friends, but everyone else, to hear about Kentucky Club—that sensational new pipe tobacco on sale here today for the first time.

About three months ago I discovered Kentucky Club and have been importing it from the East ever since. I'm an old pipe smoker, and because this is the grandest tobacco I've ever found, I'm proud to sponsor it here.

And here's my offer—smoke half a tin . . . and if you don't say it's the best tobacco you ever smoked, you get double your money back. How's that for a fair and square offer. That's how I feel about Kentucky Club tobacco—and I'm betting twice the price of one tin that you'll feel the same way about it.

Everywhere it has been introduced, men say it's the kind of tobacco they like, the kind that brings real contentment and genuine smoking pleasure.

Get a tin today—fill up the old pipe—put your feet up on a level with your chin—lean back and enjoy the fragrant aroma of this finest of pipe tobaccos—Kentucky Club.

There is just something about the aroma of Kentucky Club that every one likes. Why, even women like Kentucky Club's pleasant, friendly aroma. Hundreds of women have written us to tell us that since their husbands have changed to Kentucky Club, they are glad to have them smoke their pipes around the house.

Smoke this mellow tobacco today. Smoke half a tin and if you don't say Kentucky Club is the best smoke you ever had—remember—just mail the tin with the remaining tobacco to the Penn Tobacco Co., Wilkes-Barre, Pa., and you will receive twice what you paid for it. For real smoking pleasure, smoke Kentucky Club. Look for the handsome blue tin with the thoroughbred horse and the red-coated rider.

FIELD TOP ROW DEFEATED WILL RACE SATURDAY

Discovery to Try Again at Santa Anita.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 24.—They'll all be there but Top Row next Saturday when the $10,000 San Juan Capistrano handicap is run over the Santa Anita track. This became known today when it was learned that Top Row, which bested all the others to win $104,600 and the Santa Anita handicap last Saturday, is still nursing a few cuts received in capturing the richest purse in racing.

Even though Top Row is missing, practically every other star of the Santa Anita handicap will be ready to go to the post in next Saturday's race. These include Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt's Discovery, last Saturday's favorite, which wound up seventh; Mrs. F. A. Carreaud's Time Supply, second to Top Row by a half length, and Rosemont, the Foxcatcher farm's entry, which ran third in the wild bumping duel during the handicap's stretch run.

The route for the San Juan Capistrano will be an eighth of a mile shorter than the handicap's mile and a quarter. This should favor such speedy entries as John Hay Whitney's Singing Wood. Others expected to start are Hal Price Headley's Whopper and Fred Alger Jr.'s Azucar, winner of the inaugural Santa Anita handicap last year, who made up considerable ground in the stretch last Saturday to finish fourth.

The San Juan Capistrano handicap originally drew 39 nominations, but of this number only about fourteen are expected to answer the call Saturday, according to Webb Everett, racing secretary at Santa Anita.

Kilian and Vopel retained their one-lap advantage throughout the afternoon's riding, which saw 49 laps stolen, boosting the race total up to that time in 225, but the team of Ignat and Diot went into the lead tonight.

U. S. TO REFUND BILLION DOLLAR LOANS MARCH 16

New Borrowing Also Planned.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 24.—Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr. announced today that a total of $1,009,000,000 in government obligations would be refunded March 16 and new borrowings of "fresh money" would occur at the same time. To what extent the New Deal would be forced to borrow to continue its spending beyond income, Morgenthau declined to say.

SEC. MORGENTHAU. [Acme Photo.]

There will be no options in the bidding, according to Morgenthau.

The fact that the treasury has decided to make its official announcements on the financing March 2 led to the belief that officials wanted to get their house in order before money is drawn from the banks for the heavy income paying in mid-March.

Refund Bills and Notes.

The government has bills amounting to $450,000,000 falling due March 15 and notes totaling $559,000,000 maturing April 15. These are the issues that will be refunded.

Morgenthau said that Wayne Chatfield-Taylor, former Chicago investment banker and newly appointed assistant secretary of the treasury, would handle foreign exchange matters in connection with gold and silver, trade policies in conjunction with the state department and the supervision of "baby bonds."

It was learned that Peter Grimm, assistant secretary in charge of housing affairs, will resign soon to return to his real estate business in New York.

Eugene R. Black Jr., vice president of the Chase National Bank of New York, slated to become the new undersecretary, has been forced to decline, it was said. The post of undersecretary was left vacant by T. Jefferson Coolidge, who resigned recently because he disapproved of New Deal spending.

Morgenthau announced the appointment of William Prentiss of California as first deputy controler of the currency to succeed F. G. Awalt, who had resigned. Prentiss will continue as supervising receiver in charge of insolvent national banks, to which position he was appointed during 1935.

Confer on Bonus Plans.

Officers of twelve federal reserve banks and twelve treasury regional disbursing offices met at the treasury today to map out plans for distributing 38 million bonds to the veterans for their bonus prepayment in June.

It was announced that the $50 bonds and checks for odd amounts would be made out in the regional disbursing offices and the federal reserve banks, then mailed out to the veterans at their most recent addresses.

Bonds will probably be cashed at postoffices although officials were attempting to work out a scheme whereby banks could cash the bonds under a voluntary arrangement.

If all the bonds are cashed the treasury will be forced to provide approximately $2,000,000,000. Morgenthau has not yet announced what financing program will be followed to defray costs of the bonus.

FIELD'S STOCK OPTION PLAN VOTE MARCH 10

Stockholders of Marshall Field & Co., at an annual meeting March 10 will be asked to approve an amendment to the company's charter which will enable it to fulfill the terms of a contract with James O. McKinsey, chairman of the board, giving him options to buy 50,000 shares at $10 a share and an additional 50,000 shares at the book value of the stock as of Dec. 31, 1937.

The charter of the company now provides that 200,000 shares of the 2,000,000 shares authorized be reserved for sale to employés, but it does not specify the price at which sales are to be made. The company has 1,384,772 shares outstanding.

U.S. Grooming Banks to Buy Its New Bonds

BY HOWARD WOOD.

Reduction of United States government deposits in commercial banks and an increase in government deposits in the federal reserve banks, according to Chicago bankers, is a move to groom the commercial banks to absorb the treasury's new offering of securities next month.

For weeks the financial community has been watching the treasury cut down its deposits in the commercial member banks and build up its deposits with the central banks. Remarks of Washington officials have indicated that this reduction of government deposits with the member banks has been part of a program of cutting down the excess reserves of these institutions.

Federal deposits in member banks in 101 leading cities are now only 524 millions, compared with 1 billion 186 millions a year ago. Federal deposits in the 12 federal reserve banks, on the other hand, are now 473 millions, compared with only 38 millions a year ago.

Perusal of the figures over the period of the last two years, however, shows that the treasury department has made a regular practice of drawing down its deposits with member banks during the period immediately preceding the offering of a large block of new government securities. Early next month the treasury will launch a big new issue to refund more than a billion dollars of obligations maturing in March and April, and to raise additional funds to cover government expenditures.

Temporarily the reduction of treasury deposits in member banks may have the effect of reducing the excess reserves of banks somewhat but the decrease is insignificant in view of the fact that such excess reserves now total more than three billions. Whatever decline may occur in excess reserves is only incidental to the treasury's main purpose, which is to smooth the way for its own borrowing operations.

Immediately after any big treasury borrowing operation government deposits in the commercial member banks are always swollen because the banks pay for the government securities they purchase by giving the government deposit credits. Thus, the treasury is merely reducing its bank deposits now so that it may increase them next month. It is a leveling out scheme. Banks, anxious to keep their quarterly statements from showing too much variation, do not like to have too great fluctuations in their deposits.

Last July government deposits in the commercial member banks dropped to 363 millions, but they went up to 730 millions at the time of the federal financing in September. They declined to 452 millions just before the federal financing in December and then immediately jumped to 705 millions.

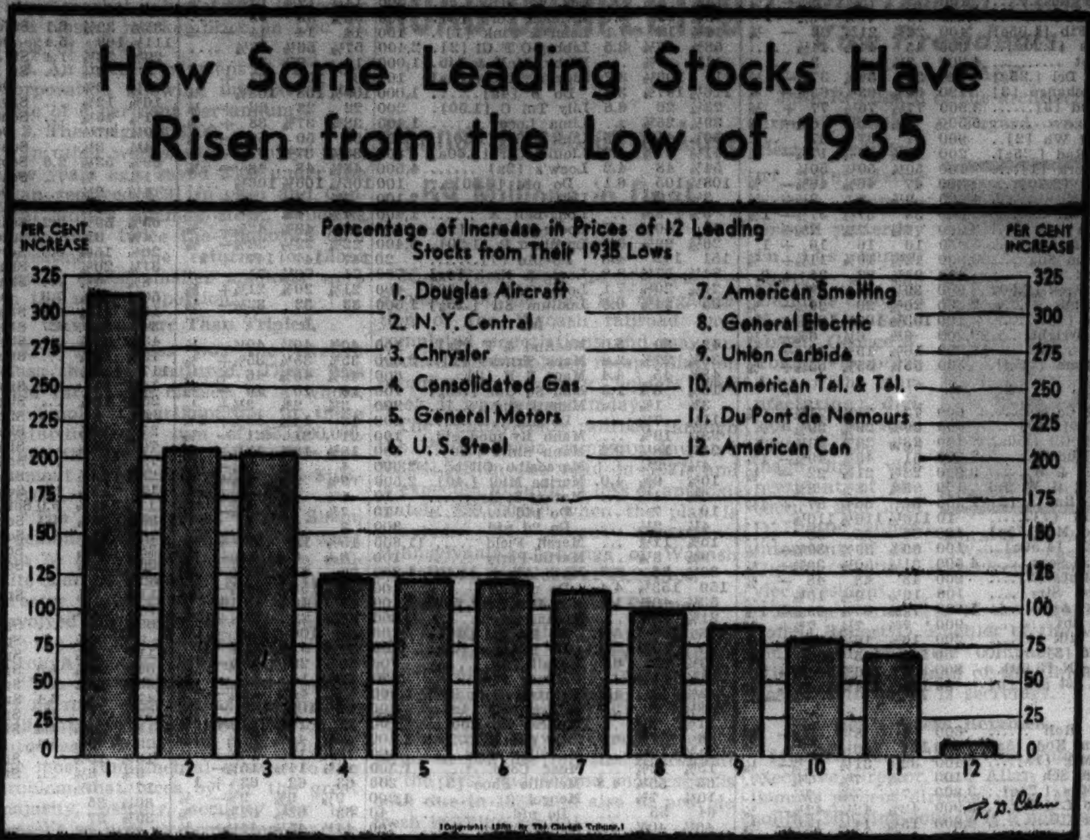
SPAIN STARTS TO LIQUIDATE FROZEN CREDITS

MADRID, Feb. 24.—(AP)—American interests seeking the release of some $30,000,000 in frozen credits were encouraged today by the announcement that the new government is taking immediate steps to relieve the exchange situation.

The exchange control board, it was understood, has been authorized to pay British interests £1,000,000 in liquidating applications up to Dec. 31, 1935, and to proceed with liquidation of the credits of other countries as rapidly as funds are available.

The Azana government, it was reported, is not averse to devaluating the peseta, or perhaps discontinuing it and pegging to the franc, should experts now studying the financial situation of Spain so recommend.

How Some Leading Stocks Have Risen from the Low of 1935



DOLLAR VALUE SAGS IN TERMS OF POUND AND GOLD CURRENCIES

The dollar lost ground yesterday against most of the leading foreign currencies, weakness being most pronounced against the pound which gained 1⅛ cents in New York to close at $4.99⅞.

French francs gained ½ point despite the selling of rentes in Paris at the lowest level in many weeks. Three per cent rentes dipped to 69.90 francs and 4½ per cent rentes sold at 76.20 francs. The close of 6.67½ cents on the franc placed the value of the dollar at 99.37 cents, compared with 99.39 cents last Friday.

Other gold bloc currencies were also higher, the Swiss franc gaining 1 point to 33.04 cents and the guilder rising 4 points to 68.66 cents. German marks rose 2 points and Scandinavian moneys 4 to 5 points. Italian lire and Spanish pesatas each lost 1 point.

The daily gold report of the federal reserve bank showed a gain in monetary gold stocks through the release from earmarking of $323,100 and the arrival at San Francisco of $67,000 gold from China. The reserve bank also announced that 2,000,000 ounces of silver were on the way here from London.

A report from Havana said that the government will issue $10,000,000 silver certificates in $1, $5, $10, $20, and $50 denominations.

NORTH WESTERN 1935 DEFICIT RUNS ABOVE 11 MILLION

The Chicago and North Western railway had a deficit of $11,070,348 from 1935 operations, compared with a loss of $8,276,193 in 1934, President Fred W. Sargent, disclosed yesterday in his preliminary report to stockholders.

Operating revenues which totaled $77,345,495 in 1935 were almost $2,000,000 over the 1934 figure, but the gain was offset by increased maintenance costs and the added pay roll brought about by restoration of wage cuts.

"Improved passenger service continued to attract additional passengers to the line, resulting, in spite of lower rates, in an increase in passenger revenue of 3 per cent over 1934," Sargent asserted.

He said complete restoration of wage rates to 1929 levels increased wage costs to the road approximately $3,530,000, or 9 per cent, as compared with 1934. Maintenance of way and structures cost amounted to $12,427,546 in 1935, compared with $10,776,858 in 1934, while maintenance of equipment was $16,803,416, against $15,528,401.

Milwaukee Ry. Improvement Plan Accepted

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

A $9,344,423 improvement budget for the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific railroad was authorized yesterday by Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson. The road is seeking to reorganize under the amended bankruptcy act.

At the same time the Illinois Central system announced it will receive delivery this week of three large Diesel electric freight locomotives which will be used in the Chicago district to transfer freight cars from one yard to another.

O. W. Dynes, attorney for the Milwaukee, in asking the improvement budget approval, told Judge Wilkerson it was necessary both for safety and economy of operations because in the last few years the road has expended as little as possible for maintenance and improvements.

Plan Track Repairs.

Of the amount authorized the road will spend $2,116,000 for rails, $602,000 for rail fastenings and $523,000 for ballast. New tracks will be installed at various places between Milwaukee and St. Paul-Minneapolis, between Chicago and Omaha, and in Iowa and South Dakota.

Improvements and repairs costing $1,507,000 will be made on 652 bridges and culverts, while $2,154,000 will be spent on widening of cuts and for signal installations. Air conditioning installations will cost about $453,000. The balance will be spent on miscellaneous improvements.

The court has not yet authorized the road's program for new equipment, including 37 streamlined passenger cars, one Hiawatha type locomotive, and 1,500 freight cars.

Use Diesels for Switching.

The Illinois Central's new Diesel electric engines will be used in the Chicago terminal district to replace the old coal-burning locomotives on the lake front. The body of one was built by the Ingersoll Rand company, and the engine by General Electric. This engine will have 1,800 horsepower in two Diesel engines.

The body of a second locomotive was built by Busch Sulzer and the engine by General Electric. This unit will have one 2,000 horsepower engine. The body of the third was built by the St. Louis Car company, and the engine by the Electro-Motive corporation, subsidiary of General Motors. This unit will have two 900 horsepower units, or 1,800 horsepower.

DUVEL URGES FIRMER CONTROL OF GRAIN MARKET MACHINERY

Washington, D. C., Feb. 24.—(AP)—More teeth for the grain futures control act were recommended to congress today in a report of hearings before a house subcommittee in charge of agriculture department appropriations.

Dr. J. W. T. Duvel, chief of the Grain Futures administration, urged "enactment of additional legislation to supplement and reënforce the present statute." "We feel that a great deal has been accomplished," he said, "but that the act is in need of much better dentition than it has now."

Duvel said the Jones bill, which has passed the house and is now pending in the senate, is designed to amend and extend the act so grain futures prices will more nearly reflect actual conditions of supply and demand. He said about 95 per cent of operations on the market are speculative.

NORTHERN TRUST STOCK RELAPSES AFTER BIG RISE

Stock of the Northern Trust company declined $45 a share in over-the-counter trading yesterday, reacting from its precipitous rise of $195 last week to a six year high of 830 bid, 860 asked. Yesterday the quotation dropped to 785 bid, 815 asked.

Other Chicago bank stocks also eased after substantial rises in the last few weeks. Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust shares sold down 11 points to 157 bid, 159 asked. First National shares closed at 288 bid, 290 asked, compared with last week's close of 287 bid, 291 asked.

The bid on Harris Trust and Savings shares remained at 355, with the asking price down 5 points to 370. City National Bank and Trust shares rose 3 points to 126 bid, 131 asked.

Briggs & Stratton Profits Nearly Double 1934

The Briggs & Stratton corporation, makers of electric accessories for automobiles, yesterday reported 1935 net income of $1,063,324, equal to $3.54 a share on the capital stock, including 2,847 shares held in the treasury. This compared with $540,498, or $1.80 a share, in 1934.

PRICES OF EGGS CRASH DUE TO MILD WEATHER

Drop 8½ Cents Here; Butter Lower.

Cash egg prices crashed 8½ cents a dozen here yesterday as warmer weather stimulated the flow of eggs from the country to market. The break was one the sharpest ever recorded in the Chicago market. Butter prices also declined, although the reaction was not as pronounced as in eggs. Cash butter quotations dropped 1 to 1¾ cents, with extras selling at 35½ cents a pound, compared with 37 cents last week.

The break in weather released a large number of shipments of eggs which have been in transit for several days, and Chicago handlers were swamped with receipts, which totaled 17,325 cases over the week-end. Buyers refused to pay scarcity prices which have prevailed for the last ten days. Spot eggs sold at 23 cents a dozen, compared with 33 cents last Thursday. The rise in temperatures is expected to increase production.

Egg Futures Decline.

Egg futures also suffered a sharp reaction, but the decline was much smaller than that in the cash market, which during the zero wave advanced much faster than futures. February contracts on the Chicago Mercantile exchange dropped 2¼ cents a dozen to 22 cents, but later rallied on short covering, closing 1½ cents a dozen lower at 23 cents.

Profit taking in March butter futures resulted in a recession of ⅛ cent a pound to 34 cents.

During the prolonged cold spell egg prices scored spectacular gains because of greatly reduced production and declining receipts. Crippled transportation facilities kept market supplies at a minimum. The market at this time of year depends almost entirely on fresh supplies. Storage stocks in February are usually small.

Few Eggs in Storage.

Sales of butter futures in Chicago yesterday totaled 89 cars. Eggs amounted to 106 cars. Range of prices follows:

In New York egg quotations declined 2 to 3½ cents a dozen, with standard and commercial standard first grade eggs dropping 3 cents to 33 cents a dozen. Yesterday's reaction marked a drop of 6 cents from the recent high point of 39 cents 10 days ago. Other cities also reported sharp declines.

Steel Output Estimate for This Week Higher

New York, Feb. 24.—[Special.]—Steel production this week was estimated today by the American Iron and Steel institute at 52.9 per cent of plant capacity, against 51.7 per cent a week ago.

Urges Judges Accused in Fee Cases Be Tried

Washington, D. C., Feb. 24.—(AP)—Condemning what he termed "abuses" in the allowance of receivership fees by federal courts, Senator McAdoo [Dem., Cal.] today uncovered a proposal to create a special court to try federal judges accused of wrongdoing.

WM. G. McADOO.

As chairman of the special committee which has been investigating administration of justice in the federal courts for nearly two years, McAdoo said he would put the special tribunal idea before the group when it meets soon to write its report on a second inquiry into the California district courts.

Says System Is Faulty.

The plan he has in mind, he said, was to authorize the chief justice of the Supreme court to set up a court of three members, composed of Circuit judges, to try accused judges.

McAdoo contended the present system of impeachment by congress was cumbersome and impracticable, and that some more efficient method must be provided. The court plan would apply only to District and Circuit judges. If charges should arise against a member of the Supreme court, he would be impeached and tried under the existing system, under which the house impeaches and the senate acts as the trial court.

McAdoo made his statement to newspaper men after he had asserted in the senate that his committee had found "serious abuses" still existed in the California courts.

Charges Enormous Fees.

Previously, Senator Ashurst [Dem., Ariz.], first chairman of the committee, had told the senate that "enormous fees" were being allowed by the courts to attorneys and trustees in bankruptcy, receivership and reorganization proceedings despite the evidence thus far turned up by the committee.

Ashurst said the committee had found fees and expenses on account of bankruptcy and receivership proceedings in three California cities amounted to $9,243,407 in two and a half years. He said the total salaries in the same period of the President, vice president, members of the cabinet, 96 senators, the nine members of the Supreme court, 37 justices of the Circuit courts, and 45 of the federal courts totaled only $7,782,500, or about 84 per cent of the fees allowed in the one state.

FIGHT ON TAXES WILL CONTINUE, SAYS SIMPSON

Dividend Is Planned for Public Service.

A promise to continue his fight against the rising tax burden and a statement that he will recommend the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois put its common stock on a $2 annual dividend basis were made yesterday by James Simpson to stockholders of Commonwealth Edison and Public Service companies at their annual meeting. He is chairman of both companies.

JAMES SIMPSON. [Blank & Stoller Photo.]

Discussing the affairs of the Commonwealth Edison company Simpson said that notwithstanding a $3,000,000 increase last year in gross earnings over 1934 net income for dividends was only about $3,000 larger than in 1934.

Explains Small Increase.

"The principal reason for this small increase centers about the important subject of taxes," he said. "In supplying the greater number of kilowatt hours sold there was a normal increase of approximately $1,180,000 in expenditures for operation. But an increase in accruals for actual and estimated taxes of almost $2,200,000 entirely absorbed the additional profit which ordinarily would be derived from the boost in revenues."

Simpson said that 1935 tax provisions were almost $12,100,000, excluding the 3 per cent state public utilities tax for the full year because it was in effect for only six months in 1935. Had this been in effect, as it will be in 1936, the company's taxes would have been $700,000 greater, he said.

Taxes Exceed Earnings.

Simpson said that 1935 tax provisions amounted to $7.53 a share, compared with earnings per share of $6.39. Between 15 and 16 cents of every dollar of gross revenues was required to pay taxes. Tax provisions

STOCK TRADING INTEREST LAGS, PRICES DECLINE

Encouraging Business News Ignored.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Feb. 24.—Traders in stocks seemed to have forgotten today what enthused them last week and as a result the main body of shares drifted to an irregularly lower closing. Losses in the general list ranged from major fractions to 2 points.

More caution was noticeable in board room circles as traders retired to the sidelines to await new developments. Much of the turnover of 2,207,660 shares was attributed to "readjustment," as some financial commentators term profit-taking, and despite the increased wariness of the speculative fraternity there was no evidence apparent of bearish sentiment.

Business News Favorable.

Earnings and dividend news continued to work on the side of the constructive element and the business situation maintained an encouraging trend. Steel shares were not helped by the estimated rise in the industry's operating rate this week from 51.7 to 52.9 per cent of capacity. United States steel found only temporary encouragement and then faded to close around its low mark of the day, a loss of more than a point. Youngstown, Bethlehem, and Republic were likewise weak.

Silver mining shares took a heavy tumble, with United Smelting weakest. This issue dropped 2¼ points and at one point during the day touched a new low price of 85. At one time in 1934 it sold as high as 141. American Smelting gave up a major fraction and Cerro de Pasco sold off a point.

Yellow Truck Advances.

One of the rare bright spots in the list was Yellow Truck, which climbed to a new high of 18⅛ and closed at a gain of more than a point. The rest of the motor division was not so cheerful, however, with Chrysler and General Motors each declining more than a point on news of a new decline in production. Packard came down a major fraction.

American Locomotive and Baldwin preferred were driven to new high prices in the rail equipment sector on expanding orders for cars, rails, and locomotives. Carrier shares, however, followed the general trend, with Great Northern and New York, Chicago and St. Louis especially weak.

Industrials and utilities also suffered in the reaction. American Can continued to disappoint its followers by plunging to a new low price of 115¾, bringing it to about 20 points below its best price last year.

FIGHT ON TAXES TO BE CONTINUED, SAYS SIMPSON

Plan Dividend Basis for Public Service.

were equivalent to more than 82 per cent of the operating pay roll and equaled total revenues from the sale of electricity for 56 days.

"As we have stated many times," he continued, "the company believes in paying promptly all tax levies which are fairly assessed, but in our determination to protect stockholders as far as possible from unfair tax burdens we will continue to fight taxes believed to be excessive or unjust. What the outcome of pending litigation will be we cannot foretell. We have followed a conservative practice and set aside sums for such taxes in the amounts that we were assessed."

Fight Personalty Levies.

Simpson said the company's biggest controversy has been in connection with local personal property taxes. It objected to substantial portions of the assessments for 1931 and subsequent years which were believed to be excessive and unjust and litigation in connection with this is still pending in the courts.

Simpson also asserted that future financing of the company to provide for expansion will have to be through the sale of common stock because of the large proportion of bonds forming the company's present capital structure.

He reported gains for all divisions of the Commonwealth Edison's sales last year except to electrical railroads. The average bill of domestic customers was less than $3 a month.

Hopeful Over Future.

"While we do not anticipate any rapid gains during the year," Simpson told both groups of stockholders, "we feel that our business is moving forward slowly but steadily. Despite present complexities the companies face the future with hope and confidence."

The breaking up of interlocking directorates of the three big Chicago utilities, forecast when Simpson resigned as chairman of Peoples Gas Light and Coke company, to be succeeded by George A. Ranney, who resigned as vice president of Edison and Public Service, was completed yesterday.

Ranney retired from the boards of Edison and Public Service. In addition, Solomon A. Smith, retired as a director of Public Service. He is a director of Edison. Albert B. Dick Jr. and John Wentworth were elected to fill the vacancies left by Ranney and Smith on the Public Service directorate.

Three new members were elected to the Edison board, A. Watson Armour, Stanley Field, and Charles A. McCulloch, replacing Ranney, Sewell L. Avery, and Joseph M. Cudahy. Avery and Ranney are Peoples Gas directors.

Gross Earnings Rise.

Simpson pointed out that gross earnings of Public Service rose $1,350,000 from 1934 to 1935, that a saving of $558,000 in interest was realized, but the net income did not increase in proportion because of larger taxes, greater appropriation for depreciation, and increased gas purchases.

"Total provisions for all taxes amounted to $4.83 per share of common stock outstanding, or 29.5 per cent more than the earnings per share," Simpson said in discussing Public Service earnings. Tax provisions totaled $3,023,227, compared with $2,209,619 in 1934. Had the 3 per cent state utility tax been in effect for the full year, he added, taxes would have been $325,000 more.

"We must also bear in mind that the initial tax under the federal social security act became effective Jan. 1, 1936, and will add to our tax burden in this and subsequent years."

The stock will be put on a $2 annual basis with an initial quarterly payment of 50 cents a share payable May 1 to stockholders of record April 15, according to Simpson's recommendation.

WHEAT ADVANCES AS MILLERS BUY LARGE QUANTITIES

Profit Taking Cuts Part of Improvement.

Continued buying of May wheat by millers and other commercial interests, strength in Liverpool, and increasing reports of dry weather accompanied by dust storms in the southwest lifted wheat prices a cent a bushel yesterday. Profit taking erased part of the upturn, but closing quotations were fractionally higher, with May showing the greatest strength.

Millers have been buying May wheat steadily in Chicago for a number of days, presumably removing hedges against flour sales. Because of limited receipts from the country, mills are drawing rather heavily on the visible supply. It is estimated hedges have been removed on 1,000,000 bushels of wheat in the last two business days, equal to more than 200,000 barrels of flour.

Visible Supply Declines.

A decrease of 2,437,000 bushels in the visible supply of cash wheat last week brought the total to 57 million bushels. This compares with 61,000,000 bushels last year, 103 million in 1934, 147 million in 1933, and 202 million bushels in 1932.

Buying of Winnipeg wheat futures against sales at Minneapolis resulted in an easy undertone in the latter market. The Canadian market gained ¾ cents, compared with Friday. Liverpool rose nearly 2 cents, with a better demand reported for Canadian cash wheat. This was reflected in export sales of 1,000,000 bushels yesterday, against 500,000 bushels Saturday.

Comparative Prices.

	Yesterday.	Friday.	Wk. ago.
Wheat	$0.99⅝	$0.98⅞	$0.97⅞
Corn	.60¼	.60⅞	.61⅛
Oats	.28⅝	.29⅛	.29
Rye	.56⅛	.57¼	.57⅝

Corn and other grains lost fractionally as the result of milder weather which resulted in a sharp increase in receipts of corn and oats at leading markets. Country offerings of cash corn for deferred shipment were not large and local brokers bought only 44,000 bushels. Field work has been resumed in the southwest, it was reported.

A decrease of 759,000 bushels in the visible supply of corn last week brought the total down to 4,232,000 bushels, the smallest at this period since 1881. A year ago leading terminal markets had a stock of 27,679,000 bushels.

SUGAR

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—(AP)—SUGAR—Raw was firm today with a continued good inquiry at the last paid price of 3.40c per lb for spots, which was established late Friday. Forward shipment duty frees were unchanged. Sales reported included 67,500 bags of Philippines afloat late Friday at 3.40c and today 95,000 bags of Cubas and 20,000 bags of Porto Ricos for March shipment at 3.40c.

New high levels for the season were established on most positions in futures as a result of further hedge lifting against sales of actuals and a little outside demand. At best prices showed gains of 3 to 4 points but realizing and selling by producing interests checked the upturn and there were partial setbacks with the close 2 to 3 points net higher. Sales were 18,850 tons.

Employes of General Motors Get 11 Million in Thrift Plan

New York, Feb. 24.—[Special.]—More than $11,000,000 in cash and General Motors common stock has been distributed to about 25,000 General Motors' employés throughout the United States and Canada in the annual disbursement under the corporation's employés savings and investment plan, Alfred P. Sloan, president, announced today.

ALFRED P. SLOAN.

Of the total, $4,800,000 represented savings paid in by employés during 1930 and $6,200,000 represented interest and General Motors common stock resulting from the corporation's contribution under the plan.

The distribution was the second largest in eleven years. The average amount received by each employé participating was $438. Those employés who participated to the full extent permitted under the plan received $691 in cash and securities.

What Employés Receive.

Each employé who, in 1930, saved $25 per month, amounting to $300 for the year—the maximum allowed—received in the present settlement:

1. As a result of the corporation's contribution to the fund, 4.9 shares of General Motors common stock having a market value of $279 [based on the closing market price on Dec. 31, 1935, of $56⅞].

2. An interest payment of $112 [the corporation allowing interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum].

3. The original $300.

In other words, each employé who, five years ago, saved $300 under the plan received $691 in cash and General Motors common stock, which is more than twice the employé's own investment. The returns to those having saved smaller amounts were in the same proportion.

Savings More Than Tripled.

The 1930 class was the twelfth class that has matured. There was paid into these classes, as a whole, by employés participating in these maturities, the sum of $33,500,000, while the amount distributed in settlement thereof was more than $108,400,000.

"The figures given," said Sloan, "demonstrate in a practical way what can be accomplished through a definite plan of organized saving. Of far greater importance than the money involved has been the development of the spirit and habit of thrift through the aid of the plan.

"The word 'thrift' is used not in its narrow sense but as meaning intelligent saving and providing for future needs. It is this thrift that is the most fundamental answer to the problem that faces by far the great majority, namely, security for the present as well as protection for the future."

REORGANIZATION PLAN FOR WABASH ROAD COMPLETED

Pennsy Expected to Lose 59 Millions in Deal.

New York, Feb. 24.—[Special.]—Sponsors of the plan for reorganization of the Wabash railroad have completed negotiations and may announce the completed recapitalization program to security holders this week, it was learned today.

The Pennsylvania railroad through the Pennsylvania company, invested $63,041,548 in the road in 1927, and is expected to suffer a loss of approximately $59,000,000 when the plan is adopted. At present quotations, Pennsylvania's holdings of Wabash securities are valued at $4,264,100.

Lower Interest Bonds Planned.

It is said the plan may provide for the creation of a new first mortgage issue bearing a lower coupon than the present 5 per cent bonds due in 1939.

The new issues would be sufficiently large to provide for the retirement of the first and second mortgage 5s both due in 1939 and also to provide fresh working capital.

There are $33,891,000 first 5s and $13,933,000 second 5s outstanding. It is believed that the Wabash could sell a new first 4 per cent issue without any difficulty.

Divisional Sales Undisturbed.

Holders of the $60,867,000 refunding 4½s, 5s and 5½s would receive income bonds for their present securities. The division issues on which interest has been paid throughout the receivership would remain undisturbed.

Preferred holders would receive new common and the junior stockholders would receive a proportion of new common.

Reorganization of the Wabash will be one of the first in the railway field and will also be one of the few which will not come under section 77. When the road went into receivership the national bankruptcy act had not been enacted and the carrier never since sought protection of the new provisions.

COTTON UNDERTONE EASY; LOSSES OF 4 TO 13 POINTS

Cotton markets showed an easy undertone yesterday in sympathy with Liverpool and on scattered liquidation by holders of March contracts. While trade was somewhat larger, it was at the expense of values, and the new crop deliveries in Chicago sold close to the lowest levels of the season.

At the last Chicago showed net losses of 4 to 10 points and other markets were off 6 to 13 points. [A point is equal to 1-100 cent.]

The Indian cotton crop this season is estimated at 4,752,000 bales of 478 pounds, or 21 per cent in excess of last year.

Spot cotton closed 5 to 15 points lower with New Orleans at 11.25 cents, Houston 11.15 cents, Galveston 11.10 cents, and New York 11.30 cents per pound. Prices in cents per pound:

HOGS RECOVER; SUPPLY IS LESS THAN EXPECTED

Prices of Meats Weaker, However; Cattle Lower.

Hog receipts showed an increase yesterday, but the run was not up to expectations and prices rallied from the week-end slump.

Selected 190 to 230 new crop hogs topped at $10.40, or 5 cents above the Saturday top and 10 cents under last Friday, while the average for the session at $10.15 compared with $10.25 last Friday and with $10.10 on Saturday. Most of the better grades of 200 to 250 pound butchers brought $10.15 to $10.35, with 275 to 300 pound averages largely at $9.80 to $9.95.

Heavier stock that has been under pressure for several days sold slowly again yesterday, some stock over 300 pounds selling very little over the extreme low spot at the close of the week.

Wholesale Meats Lower.

Reports from the wholesale meat trade were mostly on the bearish side. Fresh pork in Chicago declined 50 cents to $1.50 to the lowest level since Feb. 4. Top loins at $19.50 showed $3 loss in a week's time. Beef sold at the recent declines, while veal was steady to $1 lower at the close of last week and as much as $2 under a week ago at some places. Lamb meat sold steady to $1 higher than at the close of the week, with uneveness at the various points ranging from 50 cents lower to $1 higher compared with early last week.

Lambs fell to the lowest levels since Nov. 8. Top grades of fed western stock to city butchers sold at $10.10, 15 cents under last week's final top and 90 cents lower than two weeks ago, while packers bought the bulk at $9.65 to $9.85, giving up to $10 for only occasional lots.

Cattle Market Breaks.

With wholesale beef markets sluggish at the lowest price levels in more than a year, yesterday's run of 16,000 cattle, the biggest day's offerings since Jan. 6, left the live costs of steers open for a slash. Buyers cut prices of most steers and yearlings 25 to 50 cents during the first half of the session.

Several thousand cattle were carried over on 50 cents lower bids with 7,000 additional cattle reported en route for today's trade.

New York, Feb. 24.—Conservative investors continued to pick up small lots of high grade corporate bonds today, even though it was necessary in most cases to pay higher prices. In general, however, prices backed and filled indefinitly in a session that was marked by relative dullness.

Traders and investors apparently took some notice of the declining tendencies prevailing in stocks and the buying urge was lacking in most categories. Transfers totaled $12,680,000, par value, against $17,853,000 last Friday.

Price Movement Is Narrow.

There were scattered firm spots in evidence due to special situations and, at the same time, few issues exhibited pronounced weakness.

The utilities were not particularly disturbed as the result of Saturday's federal court decisions at Charlotte, N. C. The claims of victory by both the power interests and the government were somewhat confusing to the followers of this group.

United States government securities were quiet and a trifle lower. Foreign obligations were mixed.

Corporation Issues Irregular.

Corporate gainers of small amounts to around a point included Nickel Plate 5½s, Southern Railway consolidated 5s, Santa Fe 4s, Liggett & Myers 5s, Peoples Gas 5s, Container corporation 6s, North American Edison 5½s, and Western Union 4½s.

Among losers of as much were Penn-Dixie Cement 6s, Columbia Gas 5s, Tennessee Electric Power 6s, Delaware and Hudson 4s, Great Northern 4½s, and Illinois Central refunding 4s.

COTTONSEED OIL.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—(AP)—COTTONSEED OIL—Bleachable followed the trend of lard today, and after early steadiness on a little covering reacted under renewed commission house selling. There was a partial recovery from the lowest, with the market closing 6 to 9 points net lower. Sales were 131 contracts. Bleachable spot, nominal; March closed 9.41c per lb; May, 9.52c July, 9.55c; September, 9.45c.

Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass.

Investors' Guide: Please give me information on Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass, traded on the New York Stock exchange.—A. J.

Answer: Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass company is one of the most important manufacturers of flat glass. The automobile industry represents its chief source of sales, although during periods of normal construction plate glass for windows contributes a substantial proportion of total sales.

The growing popularity of "safety" glass in automobiles has been a boon to the company. Safety glass is now standard equipment on practically all makes of automobiles. Many states have passed laws requiring safety glass in all cars purchased within their borders. Libbey-Owens-Ford makes practically all the glass used in General Motors cars, and receives substantial orders from other automobile manufacturers.

The revised Canadian-United States treaty in 1935, reducing the Canadian glass import tax, should prove beneficial.

The sharp increase in automobile production during 1935 boosted net income to $8,167,000, or $3.26 a share, from the $3,162,000, or $1.25 a share, reported for 1934. This was despite a $650,000 increase in contingency reserve and depreciation. Volume of sales in 1934 was greater than in 1933, but higher costs and lower selling prices depressed 1934 earnings. Net income in 1933 was $4,201,000, or $1.65 a share, against loss of $295,000 for 1932.

On Dec. 31, 1935, current assets totaled $20,687,000 and current liabilities were $3,552,000. Capitalization consists of 2,504,253 shares of no par capital stock. Effective March 16 the stock will be on a 50 cent quarterly dividend basis, against a previous 30 cent basis.

Indiana Electric Corp.

Investors' Guide: Please inform me as to the soundness of Indiana Electric corporation bonds. I thank you. —C. E. F.

Answer: Indiana Electric corporation first mortgage bonds are secured by a first mortgage on all fixed assets formerly held by that corporation. They are now the assumed obligations of Public Service Company of Indiana, which acquired all of Indiana Electric corporation's assets in 1932. The bonds, further, are guaranteed as to principal by Central Indiana Power company. All issues are speculative.

OFFER 15 MILLION DEBENTURE ISSUE OF LOEW'S TODAY

Report Union Station to Refund 5% Bonds.

Public offering of $15,000,000 Loew's Inc., 3¾ per cent sinking fund debentures, due Feb. 15, 1946, will be made today through an underwriting group headed by Dillon, Read & Co. The debentures are priced at 99 and accrued interest.

Proceeds from the sale will be used to redeem on April 1 $7,972,500 of the company's 15 year 6 per cent debentures, to reimburse the treasury for advances made to subsidiaries for the retirement of debt and preferred stock, and for additions to working capital.

Negotiations were reported to be under way yesterday for the refunding of $20,000,000 Chicago Union Station 5 per cent bonds. Of that total $13,000,000 are callable at 105 July 1 on 90 days' notice, and $7,000,000 are callable at the same price on June 1 on 90 days' notice.

Norway Plans Refunding.

The kingdom of Norway filed a registration statement with the Securities and Exchange commission for the issuance of $17,000,000 of 22 year 4½ per cent sinking fund external loan coupon bonds maturing March 1, 1956. Proceeds are to be used for the refunding of $16,445,000 of thirty-year 6 per cent sinking fund external loan gold bonds dated Oct. 16, 1922, due Oct. 15, 1952, to be recalled for redemption on April 15.

American General corporation of Jersey City also filed a registration statement covering $22,000,000 of 20 year 4 per cent debentures due April 1, 1956, with ten year purchase warants for common stock attached and 440,000 shares of ten per cent par value common stock.

Replaces Present Issue.

The statement said that the debentures are to be offered in exchange for outstanding debentures for predecessor corporations assumed by the issue, on a par for par basis but with a cash bonus of $20 for each $1,000 principal amount of such debentures tendered in exchange.

A banking group headed by Edward B. Smith & Co., received the award yesterday of $8,393,000 of school bonds of Los Angeles county, Cal. The bonds will be reoffered today at prices to yield from 0.50 to 3.25 per cent, according to maturity.

Boston, Mass., awarded an issue of $2,425,000 of general bonds to a banking syndicate headed by Lehman Brothers at a price of 100.001 for $675,000 departmental equipment bonds, due 1937 to 1941, as 2¾s, and $1,750,000 of various bonds, due 1937 to 1956, as 2½s.

NEW YORK BANKS SHOW GAINS IN LOANS, DEPOSITS

Increased loans, investments, and deposits in the week ended Feb. 19, reported yesterday by reporting member banks of the federal reserve system in 101 leading cities resulted entirely from gains by New York commercial banks.

Total deposits were up 67 millions and demand deposits rose 51 millions. The New York member banks' deposits rose 88 millions, including a 71 million increase in demand deposits, while decreases occurred in member banks in Chicago and the other 99 cities.

Loans and investments increased 18 millions because of additional purchases of 9 millions of government bonds and 13 millions of other securities.

SHORT COVERING IN LARD RECOVERS EARLY LOSSES

Scattered liquidation developed in lard futures early yesterday, but trade was much smaller than on Friday and short covering brought about a good rally with the close 5 cents higher to 2½ cents lower. A belief that there will be a heavier run of hogs and increased hedging pressure on lard had some effect on sentiment. Clear bellies [salt pork] closed nominally 5 cents lower.

Cash lard quoted at $10.62; loose, $10.15; leaf, $10.12, and clear bellies, $14.45 per 100 pounds. Prices in dollars per 100 pounds:
